Household Hints

MENU HINT
Deviled Egg Plate Salad
This is a Sunday evening supper menu which calls for little work.
The amounts will serve four.

Today's Recipes
Deviled Eggs.—Six hard cooked eggs, three tablespoon cream cheese, one-half teaspoon dry mustard, one and one-half teaspoons vinegar or more, mayonnaise to make a paste, salt to taste, three tablespoons finely chopped celery. Cut eggs in half. Remove and mash yolks. Mix in order given. Fill halves of whites with mixture and garnish with parsley. Arrange lettuce leaves on individual plates. Place three halves of eggs, star fashion, in center of plate. Surround with a ring of cucumbers (sliced and tomatoes sliced). Put extra mayonnaise in lettuce cups on each plate.

Suggestions
Make Tea Towels
Your worn out linen dresses will make good tea towels. They last a long time and hold the moisture well.

Open Fresh Peach Pies
Bake tart shells or a large shell from a rich pastry. Fill with freshly sliced peaches well mixed with sugar. Top with sweetened whipped cream. Or prepare alternate layers of fresh slices of peaches and sugar. Let stand for an hour, then simmer over a low flame until the peaches turn a golden color. Cool before putting into the baked shells.

To Join Carpet Rugs
Overlap the ends of the two to be joined about three-fourths of an inch. Cut a short lengthwise slit through both rugs. Next, take the free end of the rug that is on top and slip it up through the slit. Draw the knot tight and the rugs are neatly and firmly joined.

Important Tribes
One ingenious housewife used her folding ironing table for a bed table when the wife was sickened in her home. It was very convenient, she states, as it could be pushed across the bed directly in front of the patient.

To clean coiled bedspreads, make a solution of soapsuds and add one-half cup kerosene to the gallon of water. Use dish soap to clean with this solution, as the springs can be easily reached with it.

An improved solvent has been developed for removing chewing gum from under theater seats and elsewhere.

Waistlines Rise Above Normal

above normal is shown in a model achieved by deep flounces of pleated petals placed low. The dress is of supple satin with rows of shirring raising the waistline and giving fullness of the skirt, just as they used to do it before the World War. The bodice is slightly bouffant, and crystal bead embroidery trims the shoulder straps, edges the decollete at back, and trims the hemline of the skirt. Bead embroidery, by the way, has again come quite in the limelight of fashion again. With this frock are worn matching satin shoes embroidered with the beads.

Another version of the slightly lifted waistline, though not as much lifted as the Molyneux model, is shown at the right. This is a Maggy Rouff model, fashioned in green chiffon. It features the square decollete, so favored at present, with shoulder bows, knots of self fabric, and narrow belt of the same. Skirt fullness is achieved by deep flounces of pleated petals placed low. The dress is of supple satin with rows of shirring raising the waistline and giving fullness of the skirt, just as they used to do it before the World War.

New Autumn Coats Are Rich in Color

THEY SHOULD MATCH FROCKS IN BOTH FABRIC AND TONE. SAYS HARRIET—WINE REDS AND GREEN ARE MOST POPULAR IN NEW STYLES

BY HARRIET
IN the autumn a woman's mind naturally turns to coats, or, as may be the case this season, to coat dresses.

Never were both the coats and the dresses lovelier than now, what with their soft fabrics and rich colors.

The fitted line for coats, with a suggestion of the body's curves and enough flare to give walking ease and some ornamentation in collar and cuffs, is the accepted line.

The revival of woolen frocks for autumn is a happy style note. There is nothing more adaptable to many uses than a smart coat dress.

An excellent idea this year is to get your coats to top your dresses in fabrics of the same family, in colors of the same tone and in lines that bear relation to one another.

For instance, a woman who has a sumptuous Paris coat left over from two seasons ago, in wine velvet, with fox collar, this season has herself made a matching colored frock, wool of a sheen-like velvet, made with a top and sleeves of matching silk. She is complimented everywhere on her very luxurious new ensemble.

Having chosen a silvery color for the autumn and winter wardrobe foundation, stick to it. Browns are a good choice and navy blue has some advocates. But wine reds and greens are excellent. The black-white scheme is the eternal feminine choice for it is subtle and charming when done in good taste.

ONE of the newest coats to command this winter is a light-colored one of fur, is made of dark red-brown Adeera wool velvet. It uses broadtail as it would fabric for the yoke, collar and the top of its sleeves. Its lines are fitted with a rather conservative flare at the bottom. Worn with a little velvet hat of the same tone of brown, with a cascade of gay little feathers, it is very chic and smart.

For the woman who likes graceful clothes for all occasions, there is a little Lucile Paray model of wool crepe Cyclonia in a rich green tone. It has soft fullness in its skirt, and a belt, placed at high waistline for the young figure, and the circular flounces on the sleeves,

A smart coat for winter wear is one made of dark red-brown Adeera wool velvet, left. Its lines are fitted with a rather conservative flare at the bottom. The Lucile Paray model, right, is of wool crepe Cyclonia in a rich green tone. Both models are from Haas Brothers, New York.

It can also be used to fashion a bandana in the hat, if one wishes. Either of these new models is worth considering for the winter mode. They depict the richness of new materials, the loveliness of new colors and the enchanting way new decorative touches revive the autumn fashions.
