To Cheer You A Bit

If you feel a bit gloomy, for any of a dozen reasons, take a fresh hitch on your heartstring; and arrange yourself into at-least a fragment of harmony. For life is never what it seems to be—unless you are very, very, cheerful and happy. So just learn they four lines, Good Reader, and let them sit a stride your consciousness when things look a bit foggy:

"Hrom that creepting things in the dust. To this shining bliss in the blue!

God give me courage to trust.

It can break my chrysalis too!"

Speeding Ambulances

Village Commissioner Lawrence Hulbert's recent vigorous complaint against ambulance drivers speeding through the village with little concern for pedestrians, is not a new complaint. It is as old a smbulances and special privileges.

What is particularly lignificant about the complaint is that it was made by Commissioner Hulbert. In the first place, Commissioner Hulbert never complains unless vigoroguly. In the second place, he usually sees to it that there's something done. His distancement that $1 per cent of the calls responded to by ambulance drivers require no such proserver. Party Regularity

Activities of long-time members of the Demo-ciatic party during the recent Michigan primary campagin emphasise the necessity of Republicans, showing to their own barricades. While we do not object to a Democrat becoming a Republican, we do hold that the change from one party to another ought to be made under the direct or another ought to be made under the direct primary system we, is Republican, under the direct primary system we, is Republican, and the state of the con-much embarrasument at the hands of our Demo-cratic proselytes. If a Democrat-seeks to become a Republican, or vice versa, he of the ought to be made to so register an intention, say at least two years prior to the election he or she will vote in for the change of party candidate. We suggest that the, next state legislature consider this problem in party regularity.

John Barleycorn, Citizen of U.S.

Prohibition is rapidly losing ground in to country, if one may judge from the number of wet, on the skull with a freight-far candidates who have defeated dry ones during the door and the skull with a freight-far candidates who have defeated dry ones during the door has was carried around past few weeks. Prohibition candidates are defeated past few weeks. Prohibition candidates are defeated for such emergencies, just because there seems to be a growing conviction among the people that the preservation of our wheat and as I voiced my ap-Constitution is a greater need than keeping people sober—for it only takes one eye to ascertain that, under the present manner of lax law enforcement, prohibition is bringing our Constitution and disrepute.

under the present manus of constitution into the prohibition is bringing out Constitution into the disrepute.

The best way to keep prohibition upon the books is to enforce it, and thus obtain respect for it. Actually, because of police laxivity, prohibition has become synonymous, in part, with drunkenness and official corruption, instead of decent sobriety and a character-building aid.

The time is ripe for a rejuvenation of local and state movements for the publishing of the good his tidings of sobriety—or desert profing well witness they repeal of the Volucad Act; The American people do respect their country and its laws—but, as with all things, education must be resorted to if you all the prophes thoughts above influence of potential harm, such as the immoderate consumption of strong drink. Unless, an organized movement is entered upon to restore the same manner of temperance redout that preceded the Prohibition Law; unless the citizens look to the personal qualifications and inclinations of their local law enforcing officers, and cease expecting a mythical support from the federal government, you may rest assured that John Barleycorn will be made a legal citizen of these United States again, "At present he is, quite true, an outlaw—but don't At present he is, quite true, an outlaw—but do forget that he is a TOLERATED one, and therefin fairly good standing.

What Of Our Children?

"One of the reasons we send our children to college is because when they come our of high school we do not know what to do with then!. They are too young to get married, too lays to work, and too domb to invest their time in chracter building." That's what, Gentle Reader, Rev. J. Harrson Thompson, Baptist preacher of Detroit, told members of the Birmingham Lions club last week. The preacher chap was telling his 'audience that the modern American home has suffered mortally and spiritually as badly as it might suffer physically had a cyclone struck it.

We wonder if he had the fine work of the local Y. M. C. A. in mind when he added, "We must give time to our homes. Study them. Support chem. Support local organizations that have for their purpose the building of character in the youthof your community."

ROBERT QUILLEN, nationally known newspaper columnist, never uccepts an invitation to make a speech, "for the simple and sole reason that I can't make speeches—for the same reason that a car doesn't lay eggs," he says. We'll, let the quills stick to their writin', then.
