MRS. WM. J. CHEWING, JR., HAS PRIZE-WINNING HORSE AT FAIR

One of the most enthusiastic riders at the Michigan State fair-horse show this week is Mrs. William Jeffrey Chewung, Jr., of Washington, the daughter of Senator and Mrs. James Couzens. Mrs. Chewung is showing "Notaz," her best younger district horse, Miss Betty Couzens in the ladies' hunt, the model hunters' the great hunters, the handy hunters, and the hunter classes, and in the $3000 hunter stake. Mrs. Couzens will ride him in the children's class.

"Mrs. Chewung, who is described in the Richmond Times-Dispatch as one of the best-known exhibitors in America," already holds 21 blue ribbons, for her horses, a reserve champion-ship, won by "Dixie's Child" at the State Fair last fall, 20 red ribbons, and a large number of white or yellow ribbons for other places as well. "But I won't even count those," she said, "because I'm not all proud of them."

An excellent stable of horses, including three prize winners, is being shown by Mrs. Chewung in Washington. "Dixie's Child" which was second only to Mrs. A. E. Rueben's "Darrington," in the hunter events last year at the Fair, is temporarily retired from the show ring.

A two-year-old filly, "Mermaid," is a great favorite with its owners. "Mermaid" is by "Sandbar," who is a "Kozane" out of "Seagrass," by "Sea King." She has won prizes in events for two-year-olds at Deep Run and at Fairfax, Va., and has never been defeated. She will be shown at the 1931 State Fair, Mrs. Chewung says.

"Golden Girl," referred to in the same article in the Richmond Times-Dispatch, as "One of the best performers in the country," is entered in the three-year-old stakes, to be run on Sept. 26 and 27, in the following events: In and Out Triple Bar, Ladies' Hunters, Hunter over the Hand Jump, Open Hunters, Corinthian, and Hunter Hacks. Mrs. Chewung, who always rides side saddle, will also show "Mermaid," for the prize offered for the best woman rider, showing her horse at walk, trot, and canter. "Mermaid" is also entered in this show.

Only the pressure of too many "dates" prevented "Golden Girl" and "Mermaid" from being entered in the Michigan fair this year. Mrs. Chewung said. The two champions are entered in a show at Warrenton, Va., early next week, and freight accommodations are too poor to assure their being there in time if brought here this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Chewung are here for only a short time, expecting to return early next week. This week they are spending all of their days and evenings at the fair, and they perhaps do not have time to see as many of their friends as the world wish. A number of dinner parties, however, are being given for them.

Mr. and Mrs. William Blake will entertain Saturday evening at the dinner at the Bloomfield Hills Country club honoring Mr. and Mrs. Chewung. Guests honored at the dinner are Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Harrigan, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Couzens, Mr. and Mrs. William Yaw, Mr. and Mrs. Clune Walsh, Miss Virginia Braun, and Mrs. Robert Leland. Following the dinner, the party will attend the horse show at the Fair.

Other dinners for the visitors have been given by Senator and Mrs. James Couzens, Saturday evening, at the Bloomfield Hills country club and Mr. and Mrs. William R. Yaw at their home in the Hills last evening.

MR. Harry S. Stark, of Vinewood avenue, and their three children, Harry, Jr., Neil, and George, returned Sunday from a summer of vacationing at White Lake.

Mrs. J. H. White, of Vinewood avenue was hostess to Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Arnold, of Indianapolis, Ind., for two weeks. The Arnolds left last Saturday for the Upper Peninsula of Michigan.

Charles Reynolds, of Harmon avenue, will attend the University of Michigan this next year.

Miss Emma Akreley, of Tompkinsville, Conn., is visiting her mother and father Mr. and Mrs. Frank Akreley, of Villa road, two weeks. Miss Akreley is leaving for Connecticut Saturday.

What to Read in Books

Blowing Clear. By Joseph C. Lincoln. Though the salt breezes of Cape Cod blow through its pages, this is not merely a sea story. It is the story of a great-hearted man and a son whose birth was shrouded in mystery. $2.50.

Wild Wind. By Templeton Bailey. A delightful story for those whose reading desires tend toward novels with a noticeable absence of complicated sex. $2.

French Leaves. By Jeanette Phillips Gibbs. A deftly-handled story of the unconventional life of two Americans in Bohemian Paris. Their loves, their quarrels, Darning, with an unusual modern treatment. $2.50.

Seed. By Charles G. Norris. A daring, frank, brilliant presentation of the most delicate and personal of human relationships. An epic of the decline of the American family. A novel with a moral and a definite purpose. $2.

The Complete Sherlock Holmes. In two volumes. Over two thousand pages. $3.75.

If you haven't read, you will want to read the story of San Michele by Axel Munthe. Dr. Serechold

SERVICE MARKED GOLD BUT NOT BY THE NEW RULE

Perhaps the conception we have of our profession is idealistic.

Appropriate service when it is needed most; the best of everything offered in a spirit of sympathy and understanding; these things constitute the conception we have of our work. Idealistic, they may be—but satisfying.
