American Legion Sponsors 'Army Day' Celebration

"Monday will be observed as Army Day in Birmingham, as elsewhere over the country, to memorialize the services rendered by the armies of the United States during the 155 years of our national independence, since 1776," according to the general announcement yesterday from Lloyd Stanley, of the Charles Edwards Post of the American Legion. Tomorrow evening a meeting of the American Legion will be held to complete arrangements for observance of the day.

Brief appropriate programs will be held in the schools. Display of the American flag on standards in the village will be made and store windows of merchants will be decorated in appropriate patriotic colors. Clubs and fraternal organizations have mentioned the observance at meetings during the past week, and other announcements will be made at meetings before Monday's general celebration.

J. T. Shearer, general chairman of the Michigan Committee for Army Day, is also national chairman of the League of Young Americans and chairman of the Committee on Patriotic Activities of the Council of National Defense at Detroit. In private life he is assistant to the president of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. Apr. 6 marks the thirtieth anniversary of the entrance of the United States into the World War, and Governor William G. Oliver has authorized the state-wide

Lloyd Stanley, Legion Commander celebration of the event with a proclamation. It is possible that the general proclamation will be read at a meeting which may be called by James W. Parry, village manager, at the Municipal Building, at noon on Monday. In his proclamation the Governor urges that "our interest in and appreciation of the loyal service of the Army of the United States be demonstrated by a display of the National Colors, and that appropriate exercises be held at which discussion and appreciation may be had of the need of our country for an Army capable of meeting its grave responsibilities in the event of war and adequate to the important use it serves in time of peace." The proclamation was issued Saturday.

RESUME GOLF ACTIVITIES LOCALLY

With the informal opening of the Birmingham Golf Club yesterday, the general open season for golf was again heralded for the Birmingham and Hills district. Full schedules probably will be resumed about the first of May.

While the Bloomfield Hills Country Club has been open all during the fall, winter and early spring, regular play is not expected until the latter part of April. Managers of the various country clubs in the district, including Forest Lake, Lockhaven, Pine Lake, Frank, Lick and Orchard Lake in addition to the other clubs mentioned above, are busy making preparations for the resumption of regular schedules of men's and women's golf events and general social activities.

Women Organize For Drive To Promote Symphony Week

With the opening of Symphony Week Apr. 6, women in Detroit and neighboring suburban communities are rallying to the cause. The drive was inaugurated as an annual event sponsored by the Women's Association of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. Its object is to sell subscription tickets for the Thursday evening and Friday afternoon concerts of the following season.

Organization plans were completed at a luncheon held yesterday at the Detroit Federation of Women's Clubs Building, attended by chairmen, captains and workers.

Symphony Week this year will be marked by two unusual features. The symphony study contests, one of which will be conducted in the schools, and the other in the homes, will run throughout the city; and the meeting of the "All-Weather Regulars."

The latter is the courageous group who defied the cold weather to attend all the concerts held in the Forest Lake, Lockhaven, Pine Lake, Frank, Lick and Orchard Lake in addition to the other clubs mentioned above, are busy making preparations for the resumption of regular schedules of men's and women's golf events and general social activities.

Problems of Police Subject of Talk

"The Policeman's Problem" is the subject of an address to be given by Prof. John D. Waite of the department of law and sociology of the University of Michigan, under auspices of the Michigan League at Baldwin Hall, Monday evening, Apr. 5.

Prof. Waite completed a study of criminology through the Detroit Police Department in which he gained an intimate knowledge of the methods of detecting crime in operation by the police. The study was completed in the aid of crime punishment as it is administered in the Detroit courts.

INDIA'S PROGRESS REPORTED BY MRS. STOKES

Changes during the 15 years she lived in India were expensively pictured by Mrs. George Stokes in her talk before the St. James League of Women yesterday afternoon.

"Women's rights have gradually come to be acknowledged rather completely during the past few years," said Mrs. Stokes. "Most of the trouble in India comes from the Mohammedan rather than from the Hindu," she said. "Modern sanitation in India was introduced by the British, and it is now being built into every bedroom, with a cement floor and a bath-water outlet. Instead of using the unsanitary 'American tubs,' Mrs. Stokes said, they now use water over themselves, thinking this a far more modern method and distinctly superior to the American tubbation."

Now Have Electricity
Instead of being lit from kerosene, they use banana leaves in India, Mrs. Stokes said. During the past 15 years electric lights and electric street cars have been adopted in India as matters of modern convenience.

Many meetings of the National Association of Indian Women were attended by Mrs. Stokes, who reports that all the women come beautifully dressed in embroidered clothing. She looks forward to the day of culture and intellectual refinement.

This Association of Women, she stated, backs all the worthwhile movements of a political and social nature in India, such as fire work, playgrounds, and social service movements of all descriptions.

ESSAY CONTEST TO CLOSE FRIDAY

The contest for school children conducted by the Birmingham Community House, in connection with the writing of essays in the school room under the supervision of teachers.

The subject of the essay, "Our Community House," was selected to arouse interest among children and their parents in the unique function of the Community House in Birmingham as a center of group life and interest for all ages and classes.

The children have been asked to discuss the contest at home with their parents before the actual writing of essays. Children eligible to enter the contest were divided into three groups including the fifth and sixth grades for the first group, the junior high, or the seventh, eighth and ninth grades, in the second group, and the third group consisting of the tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades in the senior high school.

Three prizes will be awarded to each group, the first receiving $10; the second $5; and the third $3. In addition to these prizes, ten prizes of $1 each will be given to writers of 10 best incidents showing the human interest side of contacts made in the community house.

In this way children in the first through the fourth grades, who are not eligible for the contest, will have an opportunity to contribute their bits, toward promoting the unique community house. Adults also may enter this part of the contest by sending in brief stories of human interest in relation to the work of the community house.

In addition to the children in Birmingham schools, the contest is also open to children in three other schools in the city, the Troy School Number 8, in Troy Township, the Bloomfield Village School and the Woodland District School Number 11.

The Troy Township school has an enrollment of 1100 children, ranging from the first to the eighth grades. The people of Troy Township have many contacts with the Birmingham Community House, Mrs. Myrtle S. Gault, principal, said. "So that the contest has aroused considerable interest among the children and their parents."

Judges of the contest are Mrs. Clarence Vliet, Mrs. Edward L. Bryant and George R. Smith. Announcements of the awards will be made Apr. 10.
