R. J. CORYELL HONORED AT PARTY

A farewell dinner was given by Bloomfield township officials and employees Tuesday evening in honor of Mr. R. J. Coryell, retiring supervisor. The dinner which was held at the clubhouse at Bloomfield Park, was attended by 14 guests, including Mr. Clarence Vliet, superintendent of schools and Mrs. Vliet; Mr. James W. Parry, village manager, and Mrs. Parry; Robert Y. Moore, former supervisor, and Mrs. Moore.

Mr. Coryell was presented with a fountain pen set for his desk as a token of appreciation by the township officials and staff.

Mr. Moore was chef as well as guest, and supervised the cooking of an old-fashioned chicken dinner.

Mrs. H. E. Moore Not W. C. T. U. Member

By error the photograph of Mrs. Herbert E. Moore, 383 Harmon avenue, was published in The Eccentric last week, for that of Mrs. Herbert J. Moore, 439 Oaklawn avenue. Mrs. Herbert E. Moore is not a member of the W. C. T. U., but Mrs. Herbert J. Moore presided at the meeting of the W. C. T. U. at the Baldwin Public Library a week ago.

Men To Hear Nature Talk

A stage dinner will be given Friday evening for members of the Form Men's Club, a newly organized social group of the Methodist Episcopal Church, at 6:30 p. m.

Following the dinner, Edward Schwimmer will speak on "Wild Life and Tropical Fishing," which will be illustrated with a motion picture on the subject.

George Stelman is president of the group.

Four Social Events On O. E. S. Calendar

Four interesting social events will be given by the Eastern Star in Birmingham this month.

The first of these will take place this evening, and will be a card party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Vaughan.

The second event will be a card party at the home of Mrs. Roy Brown, 17 Greenwood avenue, Friday, Apr. 17 at 2 p. m. Members will be interested in a rummage sale to be held in Pontiac, Apr. 18. Books, curtains, dishes, pictures and clothing will be acceptable.

A pot luck supper which will precede the annual meeting will be held Apr. 22. This supper will be held at 6:30 p. m.

Public installation of officers will be held May 15.

Aids In Plans For Spring Dance

Long ago the young girl had ample opportunity to learn useful crafts in her home. In pioneer days that is now gone, Miss E. S. Osborne, who has been in the manufacturing community was accomplished in the home. The girl learned to cook, spin and weave at an early age, as families were large and girls were trained to aid their mothers as soon as they outgrew the cradle.

But, today unfortunately for the girl, everything is done for her. The modern home is no longer a work shop. What she learns at all, she must learn elsewhere. The Girl Scout organization has come to the rescue. By organizing classes to train leaders in various indoor and outdoor crafts, a large number of girls can be reached and educated to use their heads and hands.

Birmingham Girl Scouts are having this opportunity. Beginning Monday of this week classes to train Scout leaders are in session every day in the Scout room of the Community House.

These classes are conducted by Miss Meldon Everett, a director of the national camp staff. Miss Everett is conducting classes this week in the afternoon at 2:30 p. m., and in the evening at 7 p. m. The afternoon meetings are for council members, and the evening meetings are open to all interested.

Miss Everett was the guest of honor at two interesting affairs last Monday. Mrs. Richard C. Fowler entertained Miss Everett and officers of the Girl Scout organization at luncheon at her home, 787 Harmon avenue, and Mrs. Fred W. Johnson of Adams road, was hostess at a dinner for 40 guests including council members, troop leaders, and committee members.

Among the speakers to address the classes was W. Bryant Tyrrell, of Cranbrook School, who discussed the subject of nature study.

Miss Everett was also guest of honor at a dinner given Tuesday evening by Mrs. Stow D. Baldwin.

Members of the Girl Scout Council to address local clubs on Scout work this week, were Mrs. Baldwin who spoke at the Exchange Club luncheon Tuesday, Mrs. John Lambie, who spoke at the luncheon of the Women's Literary Society, and Mrs. Clinton Sears, who addressed the Rotary Club.

Scout Director Holds Classes In Leadership

Members of the Birmingham Tennis Club will hold their first banquet of the season at the Community House at 6:30 p. m. tonight and Carl Green, president of the Detroit Tennis Club will be the principal speaker. Plans for the coming season will be discussed.

Family Leaves For Coast

Mrs. Jennie Adams with her son, Carleton, and daughter, Estelita, and her nephew, Dale Adams, of 108 S. Monroe street, Alhambra, will leave the last of the week to join Mrs. Adams' mother, Mrs. I. B. Benjamin, in California. Mrs. Adams and her family will motor to California where they expect to make their home.

Easter Service At Chapel

An interesting service was held at the Holy Name Chapel Easter Sunday. The Hymn Mass by George W. Roberts, was sung by the Holy Name Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Fred B. Roberts. Soloists were George J. Nelson, Hiram Alchambean, J. F. Wenzel, and Mrs. J. F. Wenzel.

Fr. James W. Coker, pastor, was assisted in celebrating the mass by Fr. P. J. Moore of Manassas.

Class Studies Furniture

The rebuilding of furniture was the subject of discussion at a meeting of the Home Furnishing Group of the Poppleton School, Big Beaver and Crooks roads, held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Ford Hutchinson, 14 Lincoln avenue, Birmingham. Mrs. Charles Sprague is the leader of the group, and led the discussion on the various processes for making old furniture look new.

Newcomers To Birmingham

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Howe, recently of Cleveland, Ohio, have taken up residence in Birmingham, at 1215 Dorchester road. They have two small children. Mr. Howe represents the Warren Paper Co. of Westbrook, Me., in this area.

EXCHANGE CLUB

R. E. Paris, Detroit, head of an insurance company and an expert in compensation insurance problems, spoke to Birmingham Exchange Club Tuesday noon at the Community House. He traced the history and benefits of compensation insurance coverage, and answered several important questions at the conclusion of his talk. He was the guest of Ralph Fulton.

Ms. Herbert H. Mills of West Long Lake road, accompanied by Mrs. Herbert H. Mills, returned last week from a month's stay at St. Petersburg, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Klinger returned last week to their home in the Hills after wintering at Main Beach.

New Members Join Church

More than six-hundred-and-thirty people assembled at the First Presbyterian Church last Sunday morning for the Easter service. Two infants and young children were received into the membership of the church. Of these 23, including 17 young people, were received on profession of faith. The remaining 35 formerly were members of other churches prior to their coming to Birmingham.

Others unable to be present at this service will be received at the next Communion service, Apr. 12, at the evening service, the service being held at 7:30 p. m.

Presbyterian Choir, under the direction of William Lee, sang "The Goodest Love."

OPERA OFFICE HERE

J. B. Dill, formerly connected with the Judson Broadway Company, announces the opening of a Birmingham office in the Wabek Building. Mr. Dill also has offices in Detroit and Pleasant Ridge, and specializes in Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills properties.

Mrs. Harold L. Wallace, who left in February to attend the Both-Vogel nuptials in Copenhagen early last month, returned last week to her home in the Hills.

At your next party—the guests will enjoy playing with the new and "doggie"
