

Check Up on Your Happiness

YOU ARE SEEKING happiness . . . and here it is . . . What is the thing that drives you on . . . and on . . . and on? Isn't it the impelling desire to provide for yourself and your loved ones a place to call home? A dream-place where every endearing human thought may find its expression . . . a home . . . a place to live . . .

Within the confines of this Birmingham-Bloomfield Hills area is the "end of the home-rainbow" for you—for here, within this beautiful area of lovely rolling land, covered with every lovely arrangement of shrub, tree and flower, caressed every twilight by a sunset that caused Eddie Guest to wax poetic, . . . here you may find that quiet spot that the tired, over-worked city landscape never can hold within its grimy folds.

Read the story of this wonderful area . . . read it in these pages of The Birmingham Eccentric . . . realize that now, with the establishment of Commuter Service over the Grand Trunk Line, you may continue earning your livelihood in toiling Detroit, yet you may obtain for your family those cheerful environments and blessings that are found only in the suburbs.

You and your family are seeking happiness . . . here it is . . . take it to your bosom . . . resolve to obtain for your soul some of the food that abounds hereabouts . . . bring to your children the heritage of lovely childhood that is rightfully theirs . . . learn to regenerate your spirit in the daily friendly call of "Hello, there—neighbor!"
