Metamora To Open Season With Annual Show Aug. 15

For those of the Hills who ride to the hounds, there is a red letter day on the social calendar next week. Two events of importance to devotees of the equestrian world are scheduled for Saturday, Aug. 15, when the annual hunter-breeder's show of the Bloomfield Open Hunt Club and the opening of the hunting season at the Metamora branch of the club will be combined.

The annual show never fails to arouse interest among those whose stables provide entries each year, and the opening of the hunting season marks the return of a sport, increasingly popular among Hills folk.

Those whose entries have attracted attention at the show each year, and who plan to exhibit this season, include E. E. Hopper, William R. Clark, Mrs. Sherman L. Dewey, Mrs. Dee Pury Mott, Mrs. Carlton Higley, Ralph Stoepel, C. H. O'Shea, Edward P.

Birmingham Group Motor To Mackinac

Mr. and Mrs. J. Farrington Holt of Linden road and Mr. and Mrs. J. Moylan Hayes of Hunt Evergreen roads will leave Friday for a motor trip to Mackinac Island, accompanying them will be Mrs. Hayes' sister, Miss Mary J. Harris of New York City.

She Opens Home On Mackinac Straits

Hammond, Dr. Fred T. Murphy, E. S. Nichols and Carleton Higley.

Beginning at 10 A. M. the show includes in its schedule 39 events, among which will be the open jump to be shown over eight fences 4 feet high, pairs of jumpers and teams of three jumpers. Mr. Hopper is chairman of the horse show committee, and Willie Wilson of Toronto, Ont., will be the judge.

Mrs. G. Scott Hughes as chairman of the house committee will be in charge of the buffet luncheon to be served at 1 o'clock.

With the advent of year-around hunting at Metamora, which proved a successful experiment last year, interest in the hunt has been considerably stimulated.

The first hunt of the season, with E. S. Nichols as master of the hounds, will precede the hunter-breeder's show on Aug. 15.

MISS FAULDS, MR. WINGERDEN WED HERE

A quiet wedding ceremony was held in the First Baptist Church Sunday afternoon when Miss Veta Faulds of Pontiac and Arthur W. Wingerden of Birmingham were united in marriage at 5 o'clock. The marriage service was read by the Rev. David C. Gault in the presence of the immediate family.

Miss Edna Wingerden, sister of the groom, was the bride's only attendant, and Elvin Faulds, brother of the bride, attended the groom as best man.

The bride was attired in a modish ensemble of blue georgette crepe and carried a bouquet of gardenias. The maid of honor was gowned in grey, and carried a bouquet of variegated sweet peas.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner for members of the family was given by the bride's aunt, after which the couple left for Grand Traverse Bay where they will spend a fortnight. Mr. and Mrs. Wingerden will be at home in Detroit after Sept. 1, at 1216 Villa road.

Mrs. Wingerden, who is well known in Pontiac, is the superintendent of nurses at the Pontiac Hospital. Mr. Wingerden came to Birmingham from Muskegon five years ago.

NUPTIALS READ AT PRETTY CEREMONY

Palms and gladioli in pink and white formed the improvised altar before which the marriage ceremony was performed, uniting Miss Violet E. Reb of Mr. Clarence and Mr. Lloyd M. McQuiter of Birmingham.

The wedding took place Saturday afternoon in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Bob, 515 Mc Clellens. The Rev. Jacob Wulfman read the marriage service in the presence of members of the family and a small group of friends.

Miss Reb was charmingly gowned in white satin, with overtones of white georgette. The bridal bouquet was of white roses. Mrs. Olive Maas, sister of the bride, who attended her as matron of honor, wore a gown of white tulle, veiled in green georgette. Her bouquet was of pink roses.

Vernon Griffith of Birmingham attended Mr. McQuiter.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. McQuiter left for a wedding trip in Canada, after which they will reside in Birmingham.

Among the Birmingham guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. E. C. McQuiter, Jr. and Mrs. S. Weir Barkman, Mrs. Nancy Hayes, and Mrs. Vernon Griffith. Mr. and Mrs. Norman McQuiter of Royal Oak, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McKinney, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Kolthman, and the Misses Leonard, Herz, Josephine Smith and Marian McNeil, all of Detroit, were among the out-of-town guests.

Mr. McQuiter is a member of the Birmingham fire department, and Miss Reb is known in Birmingham as a former teacher at Baldwin High School.

Mrs. Wilson

Mrs. C. R. Wilson of Willetts street, left Thursday to open her summer home, "Minnavarna Lodge," on the Straits of Mackinac.

Play-Class Takes Place Of Summer Trips For Tots

In the pleasant bustle of getting Big Brother ready for camp, Little Brother has no place. He is left to entertain himself with his blocks and his sand pile—all alone. And when Big Brother finally goes away to the heaven-sent "camp," Little Brother wanders around the yard—all alone.

There are so many little brothers and small sisters too, who spend lonely days because they are not old enough for the summer away from home camp. Perhaps the average parent thinks that the toys suffice to make the day full and happy for the smallest members of the family.

What parents do not realize is the fact that even the most life-like dolls, and the most complete electrical trains, and the swings and piles and the other games they provide, lose zest when there are no companions to share their joys.

Years For Playmates

Even the youngest children yearn for companions. Among the first of Birmingham mothers to sympathize with the little ones going to leave home in the summer is Mrs. Harry L. Winston of the Aspen road.

The idea occurred to her that a group of smaller children might find pleasure and enjoyment in the long summer days, if they could play together.

Mrs. Winston suggested her plan to Mrs. Omar S. Helfferich of Adams road, well known in Birmingham as a substitute teacher in the schools, and as a tutor. Together, Mrs. Winston and Mrs. Helfferich evolved a plan which would not only entertain the younger children, but would be helpful in preparing them for school.

Meet Every Day

As an experiment a group between the ages of five and eight years was invited to spend the morning in Mrs. Winston's garden with Mrs. Helfferich, each day, except Sunday, of course, from 9 to 11:30 throughout the summer.

"We arranged an informal schedule for the play class," Mrs. Helfferich explained, beginning the morning with a period of free play. That is, the children are allowed to do what they please. They may play with toys brought from home, or work on the doll house the class is constructing, or play in the swings.

"This period is followed by a half-hour of co-operative play, by which we mean games, first we have an active game, like the one in which the wind has to guess the name of the flower and then pursue it—which is usually followed by a quiet game,

Refreshments Served

"At 10:30 we have a rest period when the children are served with Graham wafers and orange juice. Then comes a period of conversation and story telling, in which the children are allowed to dramatize the parts.

"Then we have another play period before the children go home at about 11:30. On rainy days when the children are served with the average gym, I bring the class to my home for play work, which is the very old familiar musical games like "Farmer In The Dell."

In addition to the "class" work, there are delightful swimming excursions to the Albert Kahn estate on Walnut Lake, with an occasional picnic close to the one held last Friday, Mrs. Helfferich explained.

Hot Swimming Party

Wednesday, the children were the guests of Mrs. Robert Grindley, at Orchard Lake Country Club for a swimming party. Among the children who attended the play class this summer are James Van Dusen, Jean Grindley, Lilly Garfield, Richard Lewis, Sally Winston, Caroline and Winifred White, Dorothy Esery and James Bash, who left when his father was sent to Toronto.

"The experiment proved successful," Mrs. Helfferich said, "and although the class will close Aug. 15, several of the mothers have suggested that it be an annual thing. One of the most helpful things about the class, mothers say, is the period of co-operative play."
