Missionary Guild Holds Christmas Tea And Musicals

The voices of 24 children joined in the singing of carols at a Christmas tea given by the Women's Missionary Guild of the Presbyterian Church at the home of Mrs. Guy E. Farker of Kennewash drive Wednesday afternoon.

The carolers, who were the small daughters of members, were presented by Mrs. Earl G. Potter, chairman of music for the afternoon.

Another feature of the tea was the collection of gifts under supervision of the sewing committee of which Mrs. Jack Burns is chairman, to be sent to the Canadian Mission in Northern Michigan. A collection of clothing for the same mission was also conducted by Mrs. Leonard Brown.

Southfield Gleaners Hold Annual Bazaar

The annual bazaar of the Gleaners Society of the Southfield M. E. Church will be held in the community room of the Berg School, Ten Mile and Berg roads, Friday evening. Supper will be served at 6 P. M.

Quits, aprons and novelties will be sold at the bazaar, and a feature for the children will also be a feature.

The regular meeting of the Gleaners of the Southfield M. E. Church will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Churches, Nine Mile and Telegraph roads, Wednesday. Following luncheon, officers will be elected for the coming year.

Miss Frances Regina Beit gave the first of a series of practice recitals for her piano students at her studio on North Woodward avenue, Sunday.

Children At Pierce School To Have Crackers With Milk As Morning Ration

Santa Claus in the person of the milkman paid a visit to the children of the Pierce School and made a promise to Mrs. J. L. Thornberry, president of the Parent-Teacher Association of the Pierce School, and as a result a pleasant surprise is in store for the children who attend that school.

On Monday the Pierce School P. T. A. will begin its annual milk campaign, with the serving of half-pint bottles of milk to each child at the morning recess period. In a recent account of this plan to nourish school children as adopted by the Pierce P. T. A., and published in The Eccentric, Mrs. Thornberry expressed the regret of her organization at not being financially able to furnish graham crackers with the milk.

The milkman on the Pierce School route read the story, and then went to see Mrs. Thornberry. "Thanks to him," Mrs. Thornberry said, "the children will find with their milk the graham crackers for three days of the week beginning Monday. He is making it a personal gift to the school children because he told me he had two of his own, and as a father wants to do something for his children. He also told me he felt so grateful for his work that he wished to help others."

The milk which is purchased by the P. T. A. will be sold to the school children at the rate of 10 cents for 20 cents, or furnished free to those unable to buy tickets. The milk is served to the children by motherly volunteers going to the school for this purpose. The sale of milk will continue until the spring vacation.

"From all indications, we will be called upon to furnish a much larger supply of free milk this year than we did a year ago," Mrs. Thornberry said. "I am almost afraid the demand will be greater than we can supply unless we can raise money in some way which hardly seems possible at this time."

"After Christmas we will give our annual milk benefit, which will probably be a bridge but for the present we can only hope for the co-operation of parents in giving

VILLAGERS and the VILLAGE

By THE WANDERER

The finance and advisory committee of the Birmingham Unemployment Relief Committee, headed by George B. Boutwell, has had several opportunities to help needy local families this far, The Wanderer learns. In one instance section proceedings were prevented, and arrangements made to allow a family to remain in its present residence until able to get financial aid. Persons who have borrowed money against personal belongings, and are threatened with severe penalties, have been given legal advice covering their rights. Mr. Boutwell is connected with the First National Bank here.

The seal of a group of Baldwin High School students in rallying to the support of their football team for a victory over Royal Oak last week is believed to have been responsible for the loss of about $10 worth of tree-trimming equipment from the Robinson Brothers' Nursery on Woodward avenue. The equipment was thrown out in a fire at a pep meeting on the Hill School ground, according to police.

Carl A. Strand, of Adams avenue, Birmingham, is one of the outstanding authorities on the lumber and building business in section of the country. He is busy these days marketing a patented steel frame for building construction purposes. It is known as Strain Steel, and built fair to out-rival wood as a building material. Recently Mr. Strand was summoned to Washington to participate in one of President Hoover's committees to aid in relieving unemployment through an impetus to home construction.

Another villager who was also invited to attend the president's conference is C. DeForest Platt, 327 Southfield road, a landscape architect who has been in the line of changing Birmingham to a city of the future.

Edward L. Bryant, local attorney-citizen who lives on Aspen road, would like to see the merits of changing Birmingham to a city of the future. He believes that if the chance can be made without effecting the finances of Birmingham that it should be done. But he suggests that efforts in his direction be made cautiously, so that no remorse or regrets need be felt.

Howard S. Tenney, assistant scoutmaster of Troop 3, is assisting Mr. Wetzel in the organization of Troop 5. Thomas Martin, also an assistant scoutmaster of Troop 3, is assisting Mr. Wetzel in the organization of Troop 2. Jules Wenzel, scribe of Troop 2, is helping the scribe of Troop 2 in his duties.

Troop 1 has recently inaugurated a new system of meetings. All first class scouts are made members of the Bat Patrol which has a separate room in the building on Tuesday night, while the remainder of the troop meets on Tuesday night as usual. According to Assistant Scoutmaster Gerald W. Unger, this plan was started because of the difficulty of arranging a program that would interest both the older and younger scouts at the same time.

Scoutmaster Schalm of Troop 1 on Indian lore at their regular meeting Tuesday. The newly organized drum and bugle corps, under Dave Burgess, is conducting regular practice sessions in preparation for an early appearance.

The members of Troop 4 held an overnight hike at Camp George last Saturday and Sunday. An attendance of 24 made the hike a success.

KEMP WARNS OF SCARLET FEVER

Parents Should Watch Children For Symptoms, Health Officers Say

A warning to parents to watch their children for symptoms of scarlet fever was sounded yesterday by Dr. William Lloyd Kemp, village health officer. The first case of the disease of the fall season in Birmingham was diagnosed last week, and Dr. Kemp's warning was issued to prevent its spread.

"There are two seasons of the year when scarlet fever becomes prevalent—the fall and spring," Dr. Kemp said, "and we are now approaching the first of those dangerous periods."

Sore throat accompanied by fever is generally the first symptom of the disease, and in children it is also accompanied by headache and vomiting, although all of these symptoms need not be present in any one case.

The scarlet fever rash may be very faint and transient in mild cases but that is no reason for the parents to be overlooked," said Dr. Kemp.

The single case of scarlet fever found last week was the first instance of a contagious disease being reported to the village health department since early in August when the last of the summer whooping cough disappeared, Dr. Kemp said.
