China To Be Subject Of Address

"Our Neighbor, China," will be the subject of an address by Mrs. Harold S. Gray at a meeting of the Missionary Guild of the Presbyterian Church at the church Wednesday.

Mrs. Gray's address will follow a luncheon and musical program as part of an all-day meeting, beginning at 10 A. M. with a sewing session. A business meeting also will be held in the afternoon.

Mrs. P. A. Franklin is chairman of the luncheon, which will take place at 12:30 P. M. Assistant hostesses include Mrs. Manly L. Bailey, Mrs. Rowe Cole, Mrs. H. N. Paige, Mrs. Karl E. Herrick, Mrs. Oscar Miller, Mrs. C. H. Perkins, Mrs. Clinton E. Seigs and Mrs. C. P. Taylor.

Miss Margaret Sabom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Sabom of Puritan road, arrived from New York recently to spend the holidays with her parents.

Cadet William R. Reese, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Reese, of Larches drive, student at Maritime Military Academy, is spending the holidays with his parents.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Olson of Hawthorne road, entertained a group of friends at luncheon Tuesday, including the Misses Jean Joy and Margaret Hegeman of Detroit, Jane Louvie of Grosse Pointe, Eleanor Henschel of Windsor, Mary Louise Hills, Doris Hosman, Janet Bragaw, and Ruth Pittsair.

Mrs. G. M. James of Shaker Heights, Cleveland, is the holiday guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. David James of Forest avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton H. Paterson of Goodhue road will have as their house guests over the New Year's holiday, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Duffield, Dr. and Mrs. M. A. Cudlip of Detroit, and Steven Webster of St. James, Md.

Cadet Melvin F. Doty, Jr., student at the Carson Long Military Institute in Pennsylvania, will return Sunday after his holiday sojourn with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin F. Doty of Avon Lane.

From A WOMAN'S ANGLE

By MARJORIE ELAINE PORTER

Marjorie E. Porter

Now that Christmas is over, there's nothing to do but go to Florida for the rest of the winter. And speaking of winter resorts, this looks like a busy time for the beach center.

Have you heard about the new bathing suits? Some are two-piece suits. One piece is a brassiere and the other is a pair of trunks. The idea being to tan as large an area as possible.

Why waste the glorious southern sunshine on an expanse of Jersey bathing suit? Reason the designers of beach costumes.

A cool model is the bracelet-neck bathing suit, with the shoulder strap twining coquettishly around the neck, and the back cut low. Or there is the harness back style, patterned after overalls—that is, patterned after the straps of overalls.

If you must go Continental, you'll wear "slacks." And you will explain to the uninitiated that when you visited the charming little village of St. Tropez on the Mediterranean, the fishermen wore full trousers, made of bright colored sail cloth, and they were so picturesque that they soon became a vogue.

Of course from the consideration of luggage and packing, you'd probably have to take an extra brief-case along to carry the St. Tropez slacks, but if you decide upon the bracelet-neck model bathing suit, just tuck it in a corner of your trunk.

Modern Mary, quite contrary, how do your tresses grow? "Some are short and some are long, but none of 'em straight in a row!"

Do you remember, a few years back, when woman's crowning glory became her crowning worry?

First we wondered whether we should keep hair long, then having decided in the negative, (most of us), we soon began to worry as to whether we should keep it short.

Some of us let hair use its own judgement with sad results.

You know the stage when you're letting your hair grow—well that's the long and short of it.

But now we seem to be less hair-conscious.

A scalp specialist recently announced that in the next generation many women will be bald.

Baldness is not particularly conducive to beauty, so one ought to preserve her present hair crop and study how to show it off to the best advantage.

"The American Mingle," the "Marie Antoinette" and the "1932 Bob" are some of the newest coiffures which proved popular at a recent exhibit of the Coiffure Guild in New York.

All three appear to be long hair artistically dressed, but the concealed ends nestle gracefully at the nape of the neck.

Start 1932 with the hair problem solved, and then, come what may!

While one-half of New York City is absorbed in the Culbertson bridge game, the other half is engaged in a novel pastime called nose-dialing, which means just that.

Blaze New Yorkers, in search of exciting novelties, are now using head spins and nose dials to call up their friends, operating the dial telephone with their noses.

There's an idea. Why not make nose-dialing the penalty for the woman whose favorite indoor sport is telephoning, and who calls you in the middle of a busy day to ask similesly, "What are you doing?"

Church To Welcome New Year With Feast Of Candles

"The Feast of the Candles," an adaptation of an old Moravian custom, will be observed at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday evening.

More than 150 candles have been prepared for the unique service by members of the Eldwin, Barnum and Adams Christian Endeavor groups. A program of appropriate selections will be sung by the Presbyterian Quartet, and Rev. W. Clarence Wright, pastor of the church, will preach a brief sermon.

Social Briefs

Included in a subscription dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton H. Paterson of Goodhue road this evening will be Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. H. Gray Muzzy, Mr. and Mrs. Lee E. Jody, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rose, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon V. Kellett, Mr. and Mrs. Harlow L. Wallace, Mrs. Helen Collins and Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Noble.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin F. Doty of Avon Lane will be hosts at a New Year's Eve dance and supper party in honor of their son, Melvin F. Jr., for 20 young people at their home this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Grindley of Puritan road have as their guest for the holidays, Mrs. Grindley's father, Thomas H. Bushnell, of Cleveland.

GIRL-SCOUT ACTIVITIES

The regular monthly meeting of the Girl Scout Council will be held Monday at 1:30 P. M. in the Girl Scout headquarters in the Community House.

The next Court of Awards will be held the latter part of February. To prepare for this, Girl Scouts are given the privilege of attending advancement classes which will be held Friday, Jan. 18 and Friday, Jan. 29, in the Girl Scout room at the Community House at 4 P. M.

The next meeting of the training class for Scout leaders will be held Jan. 7 at 7:30 P. M.
