From A WOMAN'S ANGLE

By MARJORIE ELAINE PORTER

Do you pin your hat to your own hair? Inquired an advertisement in The Birmingham Eccentric of 25 years ago.

The village belle in those days had to be a girl with enough hair to stick a hat pin all the way through without reaching her scalp! If she didn't have the hair she bought it.

Rats! And puffs! and a quarter of a yard of false curls to pin on somewhere, anywhere just to get them on as fashion decreed. And after she had completed the upholstery work, all she had to do before leaping gaily into the boy friend's buggy, was to select a long and dangerous spike with which she nailed her hat to her overstuffed coiffure.

Times may be hard, but they're not as bad as that!

She was born in Kalamazoo? Did you know that Edna Ferber is a native of Michigan? Although she began her career as a reporter on a Wisconsin newspaper and (Chicago and New York) and the whole world claim her now.

Still, she was born in Kalamazoo. Edna Ferber and Colonel Lindbergh!

And think of all the children who are growing up in Birmingham, too!

A Texas Lochivar in the plumbing business comes out of the west to inform us he is the world's most divorced husband. Of the 11 women he married and some of whom he remarried, all have divorced him.

The present score is a tie, 14 marriages—14 divorces.

He isn't worrying though. He can't help it he says. Wives are just his weakness.

What this boy needs apparently, is a strong-minded weakness.

We always resent exceptions to the ideals we prize most highly! We may not be as sentimental

ART and MUSIC

Friday night will be "symphony night" at Belle Isle when the Beethoven First Symphony will be played in its entirety by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. For Saturday, July 4, a very popular program has been arranged, including numbers by Sousa, Kolar, Kreisler, Grainger, Herbert, Hoener, Delibes and Romberg. Sunday evening, July 5, the concert will open with Kolar's latest march, "Fair Land of Mine" and will include two Herbert selections from "Eileen" and "Pay Americans" and will also include the famous old waltz, "The Beautiful Blue Danube," by Strauss.

The free open-air production of Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream" given annually by the Civic Theater in conjunction with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra will open the evening of Tuesday, July 7, at the shell on Belle Isle. It will continue for six nights, Sunday witnessing the last performance.

Summer classes in drawing, design and pottery will continue at the school of the Crafts Guild, 111 East Kirby avenue, during July and August, on Tuesday and Thursday mornings. Phyllis C.

ART and MUSIC

Harris will conduct the classes.

Barbara Schlottpack, young soprano of Detroit, made her professional debut in Kimball hall, Chicago, recently, gaining high praise for her artistry and interpretative ability.

The Saugatuck Art Association has announced the formal opening of its new public art gallery in the village hall of Saugatuck, Mich., through the courtesy of the chamber of commerce of that place. The opening exhibit will show the works of Saugatuck resident artists, a colony of earnest workers which is growing very rapidly. There will be a change of exhibitions every two weeks throughout the season. Aside from the professional artists of Saugatuck there are two summer art schools located there and one privately owned art gallery.

Edgar Jones, Highland Park, paid fines and costs amounting to $105 when arraigned before Justice of the Peace Floyd S. Burk Monday on a drunk driving charge. His companion, Virgil Levallan, also of Highland Park, was fined $25 for being drunk.

No credit? or no brains?

A brilliant man... yet a failure! As he gloomily stared into space, the words of his father returned to his mind...

"Guard your credit as a sacred trust. Buy only what you can pay for and pay your bills when due. Lack of credit causes more failure than lack of brains!"

Many so-called "brilliant" men live in poverty, haunted by the success they could have had if and if and if... Yet the plodding man, careful of his credit standing, becomes the successful man.

You know yourself that nothing gives you quite so much confidence and self-respect as the prompt payment of your bills. And in time of need you do not have to beg for credit... it is always given to you promptly and generously!

After all, it's only a question of fair play. You promise to pay within a certain time. It's up to you to keep that promise or lose the help and confidence of your creditor.

A new helpful booklet relieves fretting about bills and adds to the pleasure of using credit. Send for it... How to Use Credit to Your Best Advantage.
