

HOSTESSES TO DIRECT CROWD

100 Women Will Give Aid At Celebration Here Aug. 1

Between 75 and 100 women, each wearing conspicuous badges marked "Hostess," will mingle with the crowd to answer questions, direct the way to restroom facilities and give other aid as needed on the afternoon of the Grand Trunk celebration here Aug. 1. The women will be in charge of a committee from the Women's Literary Club, of which Mrs. C. A. Bowlin is chairman. They will do the work in relays of 25 each, remaining for periods of an hour at a time. Restrooms in six different public buildings will be open at all times in charge of separate committees of hostesses. Mrs. Otto Beyer is chairman of the committee which will have charge at the Presbyterian Church, while Mrs. Earl Cunningham will supervise at the Baptist Church. Mrs. Fred Ross will be in charge at the Community House, Mrs. V. J. Snyder at the Baldwin Public Library, and Mrs. James W. Parry at the Municipal

ADMIT CHARGES OF DISORDERLY CONDUCT

Arrested on the information of two men who had previously been held for being drunk, Mike and Sofia Kodich, 1707 Webster street, paid fines of $50 each on charges of disorderly conduct Thursday morning, and were told by Judge Floyd S. Buck to leave the village within 48 hours. The men said they bought liquor at the Kodich home. The pair first denied the charge but later pleaded guilty after spending several hours in the lock-up waiting for an examination.

Building. All three of these buildings will also be open for inspection to interested visitors, as will Barnum School where members of the Barnum Parent-Teacher Association will act as guides. Special service to celebrationists will be available at the Presbyterian and Baptist churches, where mothers will be allowed to "park" their babies for the afternoon in home-like nurseries with responsible hostesses in charge.

Restrooms at Adams and Baldwin Schools will also be open for the day, although there will be no guides for inspection tours. Mrs. Arthur C. Peck and Mrs. John Harvey Roscoe will have charge of the hostesses at Barnum School, while Mrs. Jack Black is directly responsible for arranging for the street hostesses.

Special service to celebrationists will be discussed by the hostesses at a meeting of the entire group to be held at 2:30 P. M. Friday at the library.

WHERE 'PEN' GATES CLANG ON FALL

These great gates clang behind Albert Bacon Fall, as the aged former secretary of the interior in the cabinet of the late Warren G. Harding, enters Santa Fe state prison, in New Mexico, to serve a federal sentence of a year and a day, for receiving a bribe in connection with the transfer of public oil lands.

YOUTHS PAY FINES FOR MILK THEFT

Plead Guilty to Disorderly Charges When Officers Witness Act

Five youths charged by police with stealing five quarts of milk from a dairy truck parked on Woodland street at 2:30 A. M. Saturday were fined $15 each when arraigned before Justice Floyd S. Buck. They pleaded guilty to charges of disorderly conduct. They were Jack Leonard, 17214 Brush street, Detroit, 19 years old; Paul Fitzgerald, 18, of 40 Cottage Grove, Highland Park; Clinton Martin, 18, of 40 Tyler street, Highland Park; Joe Taler, 21, of 12 Ferris street, Highland Park; and W. W. Martin, 17, of 40 Tyler street, Highland Park. Officers reported they saw Leonard and Fitzgerald take the milk while the other three were in a local restaurant waiting to see that the driver of the truck did not appear before the theft was committed. The youths, who claimed they were starting on a fishing trip, carried a basket of lunch and a quart bottle of wine, police reported.

MAN, GIRL FINED ON DISORDERLY CHARGES

John Guterman, 13388 Northlawn avenue, Detroit, and his companion, Florence Fange, 1155 Kirby West, Detroit, paid fines of $25 each to Justice Floyd S. Buck Monday following their arrest early Sunday morning by Bloomfield Hills police who said they were under the influence of liquor and charged them with disorderly conduct. The pair spent Sunday in Oakland County jail waiting their arraignment.

Expected. Just any day now the departing man at the filling station may begin opening your mouth to see if you need any fillings.—San Francisco Chronicle.

OAKLAND COUNTY NEWS

One of the liveliest characters in Rochester today is a man no less than 89 years old, that is, he will celebrate his 89th birthday on September of this year. Still pretty active physically, his mind has the fire of a young man. Those who have lived in Rochester for more than a few months will have an inkling that he is Clinton G. Griffey, newspaper man for half a century and for two terms representative and senator from Michigan. Eminently successful in a great number of newspaper enterprises and intimately connected with the political and community life of Michigan, his experience and opinion may be taken in this 88th year of his long life as law.

The oil rig being assembled in preparation for drilling a well on the Broughton farm east of Milford is rapidly nearing completion. The drilling operations will prove of interest to local people most of whom have never seen an outfit at work.

Gov. Wilbur M. Brucker will be the speaker at the mid-summer church night event of the Federated Church of Salem, to be held on the night of July 28. The governor's visit to Salem on that date is due to the lasting friendship that sprang up between the pastor of the church and the governor while they were in the service overseas. Rev. Halliday was chaplain of the regiment in which Governor Brucker was an officer.

The 92nd birthday of William G. Miller, of Rose Township, was fittingly observed at his home in Rose Center on Sunday, July 12. Mr. Miller, long one of the most prominent residents of the township, was born at Sashabaw Plains, Independence Township, July 14, 1839, a son of Philip Miller, who came to Michigan from New Jersey in 1836. He claims the distinction of being the oldest man in Oakland County who was born here.

Hearing on a writ of mandamus restraining Clerk Richard O. Wolter from calling an election in Oakland County was held on the recall of these Fern-

New Legion District To Hold 1st Meeting

The first meeting of all American Legion posts which are to comprise the new 12th district, in which the Birmingham post is included, will be held in Rochester next Wednesday night, it has been announced here by Lloyd L. Stanley of Birmingham, assistant district commander.

The order of business at the meeting, which has been called by the state department, will include the appointment of committees and a discussion of by-laws for the new district organization. Officers will be elected at the following meeting, to be announced later.

The resurfacing of Rochester streets began officially recently when work was begun on Parkdale road and Walnut street.

Twenty-eight voters represented the active interest of the residents of Rural Agricultural School District No. 4 at the annual meeting of the district in Milford. The reports of the secretary and treasurer were read and accepted. These showed that the school had been operated during the past year at about $2,000 less cost than during the preceding year.

At the conclusion of the district meeting, the board of education organized by the re-election of B. A. Holden as president, C. I. Gittins secretary and L. L. Forshee treasurer.

Coming to Detroit recently as the guest of Ray A. Graham, His Lordship Gene Tunney drove with his host to the Meadowsbrook Farm (Dodge Farm) near Rochester to spend the day at the Wilson home.

Four generations were represented by the guests at the Holly some Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Lockwood Sunday, July 12, it being the 81st birthday anniversary of Mr. Lockwood.

Charles Lockwood is the dean of business men in Holly, having started in business 38 years ago last April, and except for vacation trips has never missed a day from his place of business in all these years. He boasts that he has never been sick in bed a day in his 81 years. He has lived 11 years in the present home on North Saginaw street which he purchased in April 1890, of Major D. Lockwood.

Commissioner W. Irwin is the father of an ordinance introduced before the Ferndale City Commission to cover transient merchants. It is the intention of the ordinance to protect the regular merchant who rents a vacant store building for a small amount and remains in business for only a short time. The ordinance is on

More Than One Just one advantage, be it ever so obvious, is not enough to set off one funeral directing firm as more desirable than another. Several factors must be considered.
