

The Advent of a New Day For the Birmingham Area

Keep Faith!

Keep faith with this fine village. Become interested in her schools, her government, her many fine neighbors, her churches, and her fine stores.

As you grow more dependent upon these things you will strengthen them each in turn. In that way, and only that way, can they grow and reflect YOU, and the enviable character as a resident which you represent.

AS THE SUN creeps up over the distant hills on the morning of Saturday, August 1st, Birmingham will be blessed with the dawn of a new era in its life. On that day will come Commuter Service between Detroit and Birmingham.

Because we see not with the divine clarity of the heavens, we tend to keep our feet heavily planted in the clay of unimaginative routine. A few vision the opportunities which will come with this new era. But most of us are not greatly stirred by the as yet undeveloped significance of this new factor in our community.

But the event of this new day can mean much to all of us. Those who rouse themselves from slumbering routine and stir the fires of imagination will see, from that fire, many sparks arise, each spark a vision of opportunity. And acting upon such visions, a number will gain rich rewards.

The Birmingham of Tomorrow will be a finer Birmingham. Knowing this, each of us may share in her glory by constant alertness to the high character with which she is blessed and which we all must protect.

As the sun sinks in the west over the distant hills, Saturday evening, August 1st, be resolved to share in the opportunities which the day has disclosed. Make Birmingham more than "just a dormitory." Make it reflect YOU, for as it does, so will its character be strengthened and moulded.
