Mr. and Mrs. George T. Hendrie opened their Willets street home Monday afternoon for an organization meeting of those opposed to capital punishment. The Foster bill which proposes capital punishment in Michigan, will be submitted to a vote of the people April 6.

Rev. Warner Forsyth, Mrs. Wallace J. Frost and Mr. George R. Averill, were appointed to a committee to get speakers to attract crowds to hear facts regarding the bill, and to organize publicity in general through schools and churches. Speakers are available from the Detroit bureau for all meetings in the county.

Next Monday another meeting will be held at the Hendrie home for all those interested in combating the capital punishment bill. Many who believe in capital punishment will be invited to attend the meeting when they read that Mr. Hendrie said yesterday, "It is mandatory. Facts prove us trying wholeheartedly to meet this."

"We are not feeling sorry for the criminals at all. That is not the point in opposing the bill," said Mr. Hendrie. "Facts prove us trying wholeheartedly to meet this."

"No public hearings were permitted Monday and Tuesday, Hendrie, and it was not until the opponents of the bill threatened an illegal presentation, that framers made the working plan without reading the exact provisions of this particular Foster bill."
