Candidates Enjoy Party Awaiting Ballot Returns

A congenial good time was enjoyed by almost 150 candidates and friends at Bloomfield Park Monday night, while returns were awaited from the primary election balloting. The last of the celebrators left the Park about 3 a. m.

Dancing to the strains of music by the Jolly Colonials, five Pontiac musicians who gave their services gratis to the Bloomfield Park management, candidates and their friends managed to keep their anxiety regarding election returns from running rampant, and enjoyed the diversion. Others played cards, and a program of music furnished by soloists filled in the halls. William Spence and "Moon" McMullen played their banjos and sang. Charles Plumstead and Harold Tyson ably entertained with solos. Frank Higbie served as accompanist. Doris Thompson gave a group of piano numbers. Election returns were relayed to the celebrants at frequent intervals dur-

GIRL-SCOUT ACTIVITIES

Escorted by the color guard, to music by the Girl Scout orchestra playing "Hail to the Colors" the members of Excalibur, including Scott Hervey and Mary Lambie of Troop 1, marched in to the Court of Awards last Thursday night to receive their Golden Eagle Badges. Peggy Mills bagged assembly. Mrs. Fowler pinned the badge on her daughter, Jane, and Dr. and Mrs. John S. Lambie simultaneously pinned badges on Mrs. Lee White addressed the assembly on Girl Scouting in general, and Miss Geneva Paris, local Girl Scout director, from Royal Oak and director of the Jackson County camp, gave a talk on the responsibility of Girl Scouts to the community.

Elizabeth White was presented with a First-Class silver badge for swimmer, observer, home-nurse, and citizen.

Barbara Tillotson, Helen Ash, Luther Jones and Virginia Moss were presented with Second-Class Badges.

Merit Badges were presented to Donna Russell and Betty Sears for character, to Phyllis Porter for citizenship and observer, to Betty Colvin for cook and home-maker, to Virginia LaMont for rank holder, and to Jean Baird for child nurse-home-service and observer.

Girl Scouts occasionally outgrow their uniforms, while they are yet in "almost-new" condition. Mrs. John Lambie has a 12-year-old size uniform and has been outgrown by one of the girls in Troop 5. Anyone interested may phone her.

Nancy Murray, an instructor, has been transferred from Troop 2 to Troop 5.

Monday the general meeting of Girl Scout councils was held in the Community House, to discuss general plans for Birmingham area. The director of Mrs. Richard Fowler, commissioner, and to honor Mrs. Lee White who has just returned from a four-month travel in Europe. Miss Mary Cowper will make Mrs. White's place in directing the activities of Troop 1, during her absence.

Outdoor meetings were started yesterday by Troop 2, under the leadership of Mrs. J. D. Cole. Dinner was cooked outside, following demonstration of various Girl Scout tests. Springdale Park was the scene of the first outdoor meeting of the season.

Granting museum was visited Monday by two of the patrols of Troop 2 of the Girl Scouts. Stuffed birds, nest and eggs, Indian relics, and live snakes, especially interested the girls. The museum director explained exhibits carefully and a very entertaining and instructive tour was enjoyed. Girls of the other two patrols of Troop 2 will be taken by Mrs. C. D. Cole to see the museum exhibits a week from next Monday, March 16.

Wendorphs Given Farewell Party

Gold pieces, $5 for each, were presented to Mrs. and Mrs. J. A. Wendorph as tokens of farewell by Knights of Pythias and Pythian Sisters Saturday night in their joint party of farewell.
