BOYS! A Free Glider! Villagers and the Village

Every year the Episcopal Church of the United States invites 15 of its clergymen to attend a College of the Clergy for a week in the National Cathedral, Washington, D. C. It is the intention of the church to participate in the program, designed to bring to the church the most up-to-date and practical of a preacher's modern tasks.

Fred W. Johnson, Carl A. Strand, Harry S. Starr, Norman Lyle, George White, Averil Birmingham, together with Floyd J. Miller of Royal Oak, drive up to Highland Lake, near Alpena, last Friday, bent on removing as many trout as possible from the lake.

Boys, would you like to receive one of these Victor gliders? Made of balsa wood, ready to be put together after a little whittling with a jack-knife, you may get one of these dandy gliders free with every Classified Ad that your mother or dad places in The Eccentric.

These gliders sell regularly for 15 cents each, but The Eccentric bought many hundreds of them—and is giving them away FREE with each Classified Ad.

Here are the rules: with every 25 cents spent on a Classified Ad (and you may use a Classified Ad for as little as 25 cents) you will receive a glider free; if the Ad costs 50 cents, you will receive two gliders; for each additional 25 cent unit you will receive an extra glider.
