School Year-Book Makes Appearance At Baldwin

More than 435 Baldwin High School students received their 1931 edition of the Baldwinian, school year-book, Tuesday afternoon. The book was bound in a blue cover and contained 108 pages.

The first thing to strike the eye while glancing through the annual is an aerial map of Birmingham, which depicts all the principal business and residential structures of the village. The map was drawn by John Lucien Shepherd, a sophomore.

Aviation is the theme of the book, borne out in the designs that decorate each of the sectional pages. Snapshots and photos of the athletic teams and the various organizations occupy their usual prominent place in the annual.

The book is dedicated to George F. Johnson, former director of athletics at Baldwin High School.

Mrs. Aris Horwath, Miss Ethel Hughes, and Mrs. Helen Kidder were the advisers of the Baldwinian staff. Esther Rainey was editor and Erlin Andrews the business manager. Other students who were on the staff and were instrumental in obtaining material for the annual are as follows:

Julia Kane and Helen Starr, literary editors; Genevieve Upper, art editor; Roxane Lambie, girls' sports editor; Gahm Kinnison, boys' sport editor; Billy Hutchinson, junior high editor; Marjorie Canever, typist; Marian Masters and Morris Winborn, sales; Bob Hilty, Alice Flower, Betty Neal, Ruth Pratt and Harry Wheaton, advertising; Hugh Johnston and Robert L. Clarke, photographs.

The book was published by The Eccentric.

SENIORS BOW TO JUNIORS

Third-Year Team Takes 13 to 10 Win In Lone Soft-ball League Tilt

In the only game played Monday evening in the Baldwin High School soft-ball league, the juniors administered a sound and thorough walloping to the slipping seniors, 13 to 10. The league-leading sophs and the frosh did not play because of wet grounds.

The juniors jumped on the offerings of Shave, upper-classman pitcher, in the early rounds and led at the end of the third frame, 13 to 2. They scored four runs in the first inning and six in the second, ending their scoring for the day in the third.

The seniors could not hit the offerings of Drum, clever junior hurler, with any degree of consistency in the early innings, but a five-run rally in the final inning, the seventh, nearly drove the junior hurler from the firing line. In this frame the seniors batted around and with a few junior misplays and a rousing triple by Bill Mertz, senior short-stop, they gained five counters.

Harris, regular senior pitcher and first baseman, assumed the mound duties in the fourth frame and from that time on the blodgeons of the juniors were like so many straws.

Annette, third baseman for the juniors, twice saved some runs when he caught line drives, once to double a runner off third.

The standings in the league to date are as follows:

	W	L	Pct.
Sophs	3	0	1.000
Juniors	2	2	.500
Frosh	1	2	.333
Seniors	1	3	.250

BALDWIN BRIEFS

Mae E. Brumsted, director of music at Baldwin High School, has returned to her post after a five-weeks absence due to illness.

A group of Baldwin students in charge of Evangeline Pursell, history instructor, visited Henry Fords' Greenfield Village, at Dearborn, last Friday afternoon.

According to club officials the Hi-Y group bake sale held last Saturday morning was a complete success. Plans are being made to hold another in the near future.

Nice Of Her

Two women were talking over the back fence about one of their neighbors.

"Who was she before she was married?" asked one.

"I don't know," said the other, "but here comes her little boy; maybe he can tell us. 'Oh, Willie,' she called to the child, "who was your mother before she was married?"

"Aw, go sell your peanuts," said Willie. "She wasn't my mother before she was married."—Montreal Star.

CRANBROOK NINE TOPS WALLED LAKE

Opponents' Errors Give Locals 7 to 2 Win; LeFebvre Pans Seven

Weak fielding on the part of the opposition gave Cranbrook High School's baseball team a 7 to 2 victory over Walled Lake in a game played on the Cranbrook diamond Tuesday afternoon.

Cranbrook sewed up the game with four runs in the second inning and two more in the fourth, scoring frequently on Walled Lake miscues. The losers used three pitchers. Harris, the last of the trio, took the mound in the third inning and held Cranbrook to two hits during the remainder of the seven inning encounter.

LeFebvre and Werneken appeared as the Cranbrook battery for the first time this year. LeFebvre held Walled Lake to two safties and struck out seven batters.

The lineup follows:

Cranbrook	Walled Lake
Rauch, rf	Russell, rf
Little, lf	R. Pennell, lf

ADAMS' LOOP LEAD FADES

Barnum, With 2 Wins in Week, Climbs Near Top in Junior League

Suffering two defeats in as many games last week, Adams Junior High School now has only a one-game lead over the second-place Barnum nine in the Birmingham Junior High School baseball league. Last week Barnum triumphed in both its starts to climb into second place. The schedule ends this week.

To tie the league-leading Adams team, Barnum must win both its games this week while the Adams nine is splitting even in its contests. If Adams should lose both its games, Barnum has a chance of winning. In case of a tie for either first or second place, a representative team from each of the affected schools will be selected and a play-off game held.

The standings as compiled by E. T. Engel, director of junior high school activities, are as follows:

	W	L	Pct.
Adams	4	2	.667
Barnum	3	3	.500
Baldwin	2	4	.333

In the girls' division the teams from both schools represented split all games played and there remains a three-way deadlock for first place, each school being credited with three wins and as many losses.

In tennis the Baldwin girls took the lead by winning from Adams last week on the Barnum courts. Barnum gets into action tonight when the girls team meets Adams on the home court.

The annual 2inter-junior high school model boat regatta will be held Wednesday, June 3. The archery contest for junior high school students will be held at Pierce field Wednesday, May 27. An inter-school track and field meet for both girls and boys at Pierce field Friday June 5, will conclude the junior high school sports program for 1931.

HAILS BOOKS OF TOWNSHIP

Bloomfield Township was in better shape financially than any of the 18 Oakland and Macomb County townships whose books his company audits.

Mr. Rosenberg referred to the simplification which he has made of the numerous books formerly kept by James V. Bayley, township clerk, stating that they are now in more simple form than ever before. He said that Mr. Bayley's system was accurate, although somewhat unwieldly to others.

That Birmingham citizens are paying bountifully for the privilege of remaining a village, instead of becoming a city, was emphasized by Mr. Rosenberg. "There are many times when I do not advise a village to become a city," stated Mr. Rosenberg, "but in the case of Birmingham, with its own peculiar problems, I know that its people could save thousands of dollars by being separated from the township government."

Mr. Rosenberg said that his men have set up separate accounts for the gravel pit and the park projects, which will show at all times their financial conditions. He also declared that the township should abide by the new ruling which prevents them from turning over any extra monies to any fund, as has been done in the past in the school and highway improvement funds, because of delinquent taxes.

Every township fund has been balanced, stated Mr. Rosenberg, except the delinquent taxes, which are the fault of the county officials, he claims. These funds will be corrected as soon as it is possible to reconcile them, he concluded.

Bohemian Family Will Demonstrate Glass-Blowing Art

The ancient and unique art of glass-blowing will be revealed to students of Baldwin High School and anyone else who wishes to attend on Thursday morning, May 21, in the high school auditorium when the Howell family of Bohemian glass blowers will demonstrate and lecture on their art.

Glass-making is one of the oldest arts practiced by civilized people. It was a product of the civilization of ancient Egypt and was passed on to the Romans and then to the Bohemians who have become adept in this industry. The Howell family specializes in the art of blowing fancy glass objects such as animal, bird and flower ornaments.

There will be a slight charge for admittance to the performance.
