Special Ice Cream Desserts for Thanksgiving at SHAIN'S

FROM A WOMAN'S ANGLE

By MARJORIE ELAINE PORTER

And now we are to have homes on the "mass production basis" President Hoover's committee on large scale operations has come to the conclusion that "new homes meeting an acceptable standard of living are too expensive for two-thirds of the population of the United States."

It consists, we are told, of a group of nationally known architects, builders and realtors under the chairmanship of Alfred K. Stern, director of the Julius Rosenwald Fund.

Now, women are always appreciative of the protective masculine attitude. But to expect them to stand by and fold their hands and wait, while a high-sounding committee plans homes on a production basis like so many trim and standardized chicken coops, seems too much to ask.

Generally speaking, woman is more the individualist than man. She must be. Competition with her in every field depends on her individuality in dress, appearance and ability.

It is her individuality that is reflected in her home. You'll notice this by going into a home planned

Bryn Mawr College Alumnae Elect Officers

Mrs. Charles B. Marks was elected chairman of the Bryn Mawr College Alumnae at the annual meeting of the group held last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Edwin M. Mulock on Cranbrook road. Mrs. Marks succeeded Mrs. Perry C. Hill, secretary, succeeding Miss Edith Wright. Mrs. Louis E. Hyde was re-appointed Bryn Mawr representative on the Detroit Committee of Industrial Workers. Mrs. C. Kenneth Bell was given charge of publicity for the association.

Why not ask for suggestions in economical home planning from housewives all over the country? Let them at least submit their ideas on what should be eliminated and what preserved in the home from both exterior and interior points of view.

Call it a survey, questionnaire, or what the committee chooses, but in fairness, shouldn't women get in a word some way or other in this wholesale home-planning campaign?

Can you imagine houses planned by men? The kitchen sink closet space for clothes, linens and kitchen supplies, no electric light socket for the ironing board, etc., and you couldn't move to remedy such errors in a standardized city of houses erected on the mass production basis—all alike!

Mrs. John A. Wendorph of Flint arrived Monday to spend this week as the guest of her children in Birmingham. She was a guest Tuesday evening at a farewell dinner in honor of Mrs. John Falvon of Santa Monica, Cal., who will leave next week.

Mrs. and Mrs. Daniel Swartz of Purdy street spent last week-end as the guests of Mrs. Swartz's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Staebler of Saginaw.

Mrs. Claude A. Bowls, Mrs. John Black, Mrs. Caroline Upton and Mrs. W. S. Toothacker as delegates from the Women's Literary Club attended the annual meeting of the Oakland County Council of Women Tuesday morning at the Royal Oak Women's club house.

Mrs. Emil Olin of Southfield avenue spent last Wednesday in Detroit as the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wendorph.

P. T. A. Plans Novel Party For Tonight

Members of the Parent-Teacher Association of the Barnum Intermediate School will give a "poor man's party" and chop suey supper at the school, this evening. Prizes will be awarded for the most appropriate costume and fines will be levied upon those showing signs of prosperity. The supper will be at 6:30 P. M., followed by a Grand March.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Honore of Bloomfield Hills entertained at the Seabrook Club Friday evening following a lecture by Dr. Benjamin March. Dr. Francis L. York, who had been lecturing the same evening at the Institute of Arts, joined the studio group with his own party, consisting of Louis Ferdinand, Prince of Prussia; Miss Dorothea York, and Rene Miller. Other guests included Benjamin March, Hamlin Garland, Charles Barker, Fred Black and his daughter, Joyce, of Dearborn, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cline of Huntington Woods, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pachmann.

Miss Mildred Green of Frank Street will play three organ numbers in the special concert of the Tuesday Musical being held next Tuesday evening in the large auditorium of the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Paul Honore and Paul York Honore attended a dinner Sunday evening given in Dearborn by Fred Black in honor of Hamlin Garland.

The piano students of Mrs. Howard Tugger appeared in a recital Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. C. Johnson, 1012 Clifford road. The pupils who took part were Betty, Lois and
