MEET the PRESIDENTS

C. C. Ryan Begins Second Year As Head Of Village Players, When Ninth Season Opens Friday

Both actors and playwrights appreciate the value of suspense and surprise in holding the interest of an audience. Likewise does the Village Players.

At the beginning of the year, all one is permitted to know is that eight programs will be presented, with one each month, and that of these will be three-act plays, the remainder, one-act.

Open Season Tomorrow Tomorrow evening the members will gather to begin the ninth season of the group as an organization, and to open the Playhouse for the fifth season. The program will include three one-act plays, "The Widow's Veil," "The Short-Cut" and "Society Notes" with "nifties" by W. A. P. John.

The Village Players began their career as a small group interested in the drama and theater movement. The organization grew. Original plays were written and produced. Then the Players erected their own theater, and today they stand, 230 members and with a membership limit of 250.

C. C. Ryan of Brookside drive, who served as president last year, is again elected to the post and will continue to preside for another season. Mr. Ryan has been actively associated with the players for several years in an advertising manner by profession.

Harvard Graduate He graduated from Harvard in 1920, and with Mrs. Ryan came to Birmingham to reside six years ago. They have three children, Douglas, who is seven years old, Richard, six years old, and Susan.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice W. Cochran of Bloomfield Downs entertained a group of friends Wednesday evening at Andre's Supper Club in Detroit. Their guests included Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Richards, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. P. John, Capt. and Mrs. H. G. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. J. Robert F. Swanson, Mr. and Mrs. G. Essen Olsen, Mr. and Mrs. James Blackwood, Mr. and Mrs. Royce A. Jackson of Rochester, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Garber, Mr. and Mrs. F. Farrington Holt, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Little, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Pew, Miss Elizabeth Brooks and Mr. F. H. Grant.

Members of the Men's Club of the Methodist Episcopal Church will give a Halloween party at Bloomfield Township Park Friday evening. Dinner at 6:30. Mr. W. will be followed by stunts with Melvin C. Hart as master of ceremonies. Tickets may be obtained from the president, George Steelman or from any member of the club.

The Misses Thomas will join their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Thomas of Berwyn road, in a party attending the football game at Ann Arbor Saturday. Included in the party will be Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Edm. of Pleasant Ridge. Following the game Mr. and Mrs. Thomas will be hosts to an informal family dinner at their home. Their daughters will spend the week-end with them in Birmingham.

A farewell dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Tyson of Westwood drive, who are leaving Birmingham to take up their new residence in Chicago, was given Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Holland Cowen of Royal Oak.

Mr. and Mrs. Tyson will leave for Chicago Monday to complete arrangements for moving. They expect to return later in the week.

Mrs. W. S. Gilbreath, Jr., of Puritan road will be hostess to members of the Libri Club Monday afternoon, when Charles J. Shain will address the club. Assisting the hostess will be Mrs. Sam M. Garber, Mrs. Clarence G. Heimmiller and Mrs. Milton F. Coulson.

Mrs. C. C. Salsbury of Lakeview drive returned Friday from Petoskey, Mich., where she spent the summer months.

Clothes And Shoes For Church Sale Asked By Group

Mrs. Harold H. Corson of Chesterfield road is general chairman of a rummage sale to be sponsored by the choir of the Holy Name Chapel, Tuesday and Wednesday at 512 South Woodward avenue.

The committee asks all those who have clothing to contribute to this sale to do so as requests for wearing apparel which can be purchased at nominal prices, are particularly numerous at this time.

"Families with several children to clothe are forced to make their purchases as economically as possible," Mrs. Corson said. "For this reason the committee is anxious to secure all articles of clothing and shoes that can be spared to offer at our sale."

The Echo of Children's Feet is the subject of an address to be given by Mrs. Roy Ewing Vale of the North Woodward Avenue Presbyterian Church of Detroit, at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday evening, under auspices of the Presbyterian Women's Union of Birmingham.

Mrs. Ziegler, who was formerly of Oak Park, Ill., will have her talk on results of research conducted through welfare work among children.

This will be the third in a series of events sponsored by the church.

It has not as yet been decided whether the Players will follow their custom of other years and give a series of dances or whether they will give only one dance this season. In any case, however, Mrs. Joseph Little is chairman of the dance committee.

At the meeting of Troop 2, Quarters School, Tuesday, patrol leaders were elected. They are: Elizabeth Richey, Mary M. Kinney and Mary Drury. The reporter for this troop is Virginia Hart.

Troop 1 met Tuesday evening at the home of their captain, Mrs. Lee A. White. As the troop is working for the International Knowledge badge, the girls enjoyed seeing the movies made by Mr. and Mrs. White on their recent tour through Europe.

Patrol leaders of Troop 7 are: Joan Baird, Florence Scott, Virginia Thornton and Betty Bell. The reporter is Viola Uppers.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Dick of Arzlyle have returned from New York where they spent the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Wurster of Lima, O., who formerly resided in Waukegan, Ill., are receiving guests over the week-end of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Rose of Kenosha drive.

Miss Ethel Hubert of Waukegan road spent last week-end at a house party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Tibbels of Cass Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wright of 13100 Maiden avenue, Detroit, who formerly lived on Townsend street in Birmingham, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Patricia Mary, Oct. 11.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Sevin of 684 Madison avenue, announce the birth of a son, Whitney Low, Oct. 9.

Dr. and Mrs. O. O. Beck (206 Roberts) of Berwyn road, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Nancy Jane, Oct. 11.

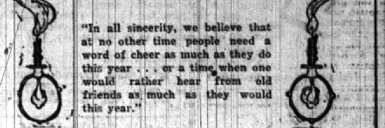

Mr. and Mrs. John Russell Altstrom, 851 Humphrey street, announce the birth of a daughter, Evelyn, on Oct. 5.
