Village Mart Group Announces Contest

A poster contest to promote interest in the Village Mart, a community bazaar sponsored by the Community House and to be held there Dec. 4 and 5, was one of the plans adopted by the committee in charge, which met Monday afternoon.

The contest will be open to art students and prizes will be awarded to those whose posters have the greatest popular appeal. Other plans outlined by the committee included a dinner and dance as additional entertainment features.

The aim of the Village Mart as expressed by Mrs. Verne Skillman, general chairman, is to promote community spirit among Birmingham churches and organizations and to encourage the use of the Community House by all groups entitled to the privilege.

Those who have pledged their support to the Mart so far include St. James Episcopal Church, Holy Name Chapel, First Methodist Episcopal Church, Redeemer Lutheran Church, Embury Methodist Episcopal Church, the High School Washington group, Girl Reserves, Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts and the Bloomfield Alumnae Club of the Pi Beta Phi.

Proceeds of the Mart will be divided among the organizations co-operating.

Mrs. F. S. Ross of Willits street had as her guests three of the delegates to the Michigan Baptist convention. They are: Mrs. Nettie Doherty of Detroit, state treasurer of the state organization, and Mrs. L. Weaver and Mrs. N. Goodwin, both of Detroit.

Book Sale Popular, A. A. U. W. Group Reports

The fourth annual book sale sponsored by the Birmingham Branch of the American Association of University Women opened Monday in the Hanna building, with the record sale of 1,278 books the first day.

In the first two days the Association disposed of approximately 1,500 books which netted in the neighborhood of $250 to be added to the contribution for the Million Dollar Scholarship Fund maintained by the National Association.

The total amount made the first year of the sale was approximately $200; the second year, $300; and the third year, $500, all in round figures.

The reason for the increase, members say, was that a year ago, the Birmingham Branch was given 1,000 volumes for its sale. "We could sell another 1,000 volumes this year," Mrs. H. H. Wellman, a member of the committee, declared, "as we can sell any number of books we may receive. They are coming in each day, but slowly, and we dispose of them rapidly."

The sale will continue through Saturday.

The officers of the Philemon Club are grateful and wish to thank the public for their generous support of the benefit bridge which was given at the Community House last Thursday for Welfare work carried on by the club. The next meeting of the organization will be held in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Charles Hallock of Ann street.

The program arranged by Dr. York through the co-operation of the affiliated organizations, opens with a concert given by The Little Symphony, Friday evening, Nov. 6, in the auditorium of the Detroit Institute of Arts. There all concerts in the series will take place.

Included in the personnel of the committee are Georges Miquelle, president of the Ensemians; Mrs. Marshall Pease, president of the Tuesday Musicale; Charles Pike, president of the Fine Arts Society; Charles Frederick Morse, president of Pro Musica; Jason Moore, president of the Musicians' League; Ernest Ibbetson, Dean of the American Guild of Organists; Miss Clara Dyar, president of the Chamber Music Society; Thaddeus Wronski, president of the Civic Opera Society; Arthur H. J. Searles, director of the All-City Orchestra; Fowler Smith, representing public school music; Mrs. H. H. Sanger of the Adult Education group; and Volburt Coffey of the Little Symphony.

The series includes 25 concerts, a comic opera, a program by the Players and a lecture on the organ. The birthday of Abraham Lincoln has been selected by the Players as the date for their program, which will be a short dramatization of Lincoln portrayed by Sam Slade, supported by a cast of Players.

The opera, which is tentatively announced as Gilbert and Sullivan's "Pinafore," will be given in March. Dr. York will repeat his lecture on the "History and Structure of the Organ," given last year, in which he will be assisted by Miss Mildred Green of Birmingham, on the evening of Nov. 13.

All concerts will be open to the public, as the object of the committee is to make music available to the public notwithstanding the financial depression.
