Local W.-C. T. U. Presents Gift To Library

"Ascertain before you vote what candidates are dry, and give them your support," was the advice the Rev. David Leon Wood, ward, of the First Baptist Church, gave to members of the Birmingham unit of the Women's Christian Temperance Union at a meeting held Wednesday of last week at the Baldwin Public Library. Mr. Woodward's subject was "What Can We Do To Get Votes for Prohibition?"

The Birmingham Unit recently presented to the Baldwin Public Library three volumes by Irving Fisher, professor of economics at Yale University. Two of the three are copies of "Prohibition At Its Worst," and the other is "The Noble Experiment."

Miss Katherine Purcell of Zanesville, Wisconsin, and Miss Nell Wayman of Hubbard Woods, Illinois, who have been the guests this summer of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wayman of Yorkshire road, returned to their homes Friday, Mr. and Mrs. Wayman drove their guests to Chicago, returning Tuesday.

While in Birmingham Miss Purcell and Miss Wayman were the honor guests at many pleasant affairs. The most recent party given in their honor was a luncheon Thursday at which Miss Mary Torrence of Detroit was hostess. Miss Torrence's guests from Birmingham included Miss Purcell, Miss Wayman, Mrs. Wayman and Mrs. Norman Lytle.

From A WOMAN'S ANGLE

By MARJORIE ELAINE PORTER

Marjorie E. Porter

"Ladies," announced Mrs. Hattie Hanks through the columns of The Eccentric 30 years ago, "I am prepared to do first class dress-making in the latest styles, and at low prices, even lower than the lowest. Please call and see me. I am prepared to make wrappers at 40 cents each."

My word, Hattie! How did you ever sell wrappers for 40 cents and make a profit? Of course in this degenerate era, 40 cents would be a pretty good price for a "wrapper."

Oh, it might sell better to a collector of antiques.

But the wrapper of the eighties was a blot on the Victorian escutcheon.

Those were the days when wraps and advisory committees were nothing frilly or silly about the good old flannel, high-necked, selected wrappers, in which grandma garbed herself while she laboriously "put up" her hair on curlers.

How wrappers must have looked on those in their manly forties who had become pleasingly-plump!

Yes, on second thought, 40 cents would have been too much even then.

a wire to Mrs. Meigs. She knows.

We are also informed by the telegraph company that Mrs. Meigs is prepared for any emergency even to that of "providing Dingbat."

And a "Dingbat," explains the company informant is a "chap-erone."

Keep this model telegram, and in the next emergency, send a copy to Mrs. Meigs:

"Please send collect stop Dingbat for small party stop too old stop not young stop broad-minded but artistic stop blonde returned collect upon receipt stop lovingly Mary."
