Baldwin Librarian Addresses Lions Club At Noon Meeting

Both adults and children in Birmingham read far more books than residents in most other communities, Mrs. Nancy B. Thomas, librarian of Baldwin Public Library, told members of the Birmingham Lions Club at their meeting in the Community House yester-

Mearly 50 percent of the adults in Birmingham make use of the library, Mrs. Thomas said, pointing out that the low percentage of illiteracy here proves Birmingham distinctly "a reading communication of the said of the said

She quoted figures to show that about 94,000 books were circulated from the library last year, and estimated that the figure would exceed the 100,000 mark ha

Approximately 30 percent of the library users prefer non-fiction books, she said, claiming this figure is 5 percent above the average in other libraries. In the fiction field, men show a preference, for detective and mystery tales, while love stories are in most constant, demand by the women, she

Mrs. Thomas also gave a brie history of the Baldwin Library which, she said, is now in a position to handle three times as much business as it normally does.

Shops & Stores

a timely message to this newspaper's readers

Buy in Birmingham"—how often you have heard the phrase.

How often, too, you have journeyed elsewhere . . . perchance justified in so doing. But are you justified today?

For today Birmingham presents ideal shopping facilities in every line of merchandise to every kind of buyer. Greater stores—greater stocks carefully selected—far above the average. A colorful story of untiring efforts to give YOU what you want has been unfolded during the past few years in each local business enterprise. We urge you to co-operate in this merchandising effort.

Your village . . . home . . . schools, churches, library, playgrounds—are all helped greatly by local business.

Your merchants, striving to please, are deserving of your patronage.

Are you justified in journeying elsewhere?
