(Editor's Note: This article is the first of a series introducing new presidents of women's organizations in Birmingham, with their program plans for the year.) As summer wanes its way, interest revives in village organizations. On the return journey, the trip was taken through the States by way of Iowa and Illinois. "It was a long jaunt but we made it in a little less than a month, covering the ground pretty thoroughly," Mr. Huston said, "some days we averaged 500 miles.
