Archery Rivals Golf, Business Women Told

A novel program was given by Howard D. Crull, principal of the Bartram Intermediate School, before members of the Birmingham Business Women's Club at the Bowdoin Dining Room, Wednesday noon. Mr. Crull discussed in an informal manner, the principles of archery, and the methods used in making various types of bows and arrows.

"As an entertaining outdoor sport for spectators and contestants alike, archery rivals golf and tennis," Mr. Crull declared.

"A Day At School" was the amusing idea carried out at the club's regular monthly social evening held at the Community House Tuesday. Members came dressed in the garb of school children and spent the evening playing children's games. Refreshments also were "in character," and took the form of dairy lunch boxes.

Mrs. Helen Mosher was in charge of entertainment and Miss Becky Perkins was chairman of the committee on refreshments.

Men's Club Honors Ladies At Annual Banquet

An address on "The New Education," by Dr. Katherine Rogers Adams, principal of Kingwood School, and a varied musical program were features of the entertainment that followed the annual banquet given in honor of the ladies by the Men's Club of the First Presbyterian Church at the church Thursday evening.

Taking part in the musical program were Miss Helen Atkins of the faculty of the Detroit Institute of Music Art, who played a group of violin solos, and Ronald Mc-Masters, who sang a tenor solo, "Come to the Fair," by Martin.

The numbers selected by Miss Atkins were "Romance," by Wieniawski and "Gypsy Serenade," by Valdez. The concluding number of the program, "Thank God for a Garden," by Del Regos, was presented by a quartet consisting of Mrs. Manley Tyson, soprano; Mrs. Imogene Davis, contralto; Mr. Mc-Masters, tenor and Robert Braman, bass.

Miss Mildred Green, prominent Birmingham organist, who is the director of the accompaniment of the quartet, also accompanied Miss Atkins and Mr. Mc-Masters.

W. E. Moody, retiring president, acted as toastmaster and Charles S. Knisson introduced Dr. Adams. Otto Beier was chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements. Thomas, Ker-shaw, Leonard Brown, Emerson Erasmus, Lytle Young, Ralph L. Cor-yell, Edgar Bailey, David Ladd and John Bright.

Bar To Membership Lifted By Baptists

Members of the First Baptist Church at a recent meeting voted to amend the constitution of the church to admit members to unite with it by letter from churches other than Baptist without the necessity of immersion.

Already some 300 Baptist Churches in the United States have similar provisions in their constitutions, according to Rev. David Leon Woodward, pastor.

"It is to my mind not in keeping with the spirit and teaching of Jesus to allow a form, or a mere matter of ritual, however beautiful and impressive, upon which good Christian men and women differ, to be a bar to fellowship among those who are otherwise at one on the great fundamentals of Christianity," said Mr. Woodward in expressive approval of the amendment. A unity based on doctrine is impracticable.

LIBRARY RECEIVES 17 NEW DONATIONS

More Books Needed To Offset Budget Reduction, Mrs. Thomas Says.

Seventeen books were given to Baldwin Public Library March 19 in response to the library's plea for donations to offset the effect of the reduced appropriations for new books in the 1932 budget, according to the monthly report of Mrs. Nancy B. Thomas, librarian.

The donors, Mrs. Thomas said, included Mrs. E. Bowden, Miss Elizabeth Walker, Mrs. George Van Buren, Mrs. F. H. Harvey and Russell Goetz.

"We are highly pleased with the number of donations and the quality of the books already given," Mrs. Thomas said, "but our shelves are still lacking in scores of volumes for which there is a constant demand, especially in the field of new books."

"For instance, although we have three copies of the novel 'The Good Earth,' they are all in constant use, with 38 names on the waiting list. Even though each person returns the book promptly, the last of the 38 will not have access to it for three months."

Besides the volumes donated to the library during the month, 38 other books were added through purchase. Mrs. Thomas' report showed. The circulation for the month was 10,837 books, of which 1,970 were issued through the schools. The total circulated for March, 1931, was 9,284.

New registrations for the month totalled 86, making the present registration 5,087.
