

ROTARY CLUB ELECTS BOARD OF DIRECTORS Dan Schwartz, local Rotarian, spoke on the subject of life insurance, the classification he represents in Rotary at Monday's meeting of the local club in the Community House. He stressed the value of life investment insurance in these times, and pointed out substantiality in a world that is subject to economic upheaves.

Annual election of the club's directors was also held Monday, resulting in the election of the following: officers from their own group July 1: Harry A. Bissett, F. Morse Cooke, Charles James, John Maynard, Chad Ritchie and Joseph E. Stroup.

STATE AGES UNDER FIRE

Legislature Would Force Reduction Of High Departmental Salaries LANSING, April 7.—Declaring that Governor Brucker's economy program is but scratching the surface, members of the Legislature are preparing for an assault upon the state payroll that may return salaries of state officials and higher-ups to the same place they were 10 or 12 years ago. Department heads who are now drawing $6,000, $7,000, $8,000 and even higher amounts are in danger of having these sums cut almost in half.

Not only has Representative Brown been active in making a worthwhile saving in state payrolls, but Senator Chester Howell, of Saginaw, has already started a movement to fix a maximum salary of $5,000 per year for all state officials. Hundreds of thousands of dollars, it is pointed out, would be saved by the adoption of Senator Howell's suggestion.

Next in importance to the proposal of the Legislature to reduce pay beyond the recommendations of the Governor for salary reductions, comes the diversion of highway funds. Already the administration bill introduced into the Legislature apportioning the weight tax monies among the counties, cities and villages, has been recalled. It was discovered that it provided for little of the relief that rural sections and cities had anticipated, and that over $100,000 was retained in the measure for new highway construction each year, an amount sufficient to build 400 miles of new roads.

Recognizing the demands of present conditions, the Oakland Hills Country Club has adopted a new policy of operation for the coming season.

OAKLAND HILLS CUTS DUES, FEES

Recognizing the demands of present conditions, the Oakland Hills Country Club has adopted a new policy of operation for the coming season. The purpose of our new plan," said Mr. DeVisser, "is to make golf at Oakland Hills as inexpensive as possible to our members. We feel that now more than ever our members should avail themselves of the relaxation golf affords to both mind and body, and our new plan will enable players to continue the game at a cost proportionate with existing conditions at no sacrifice in the management and financial situation created for the club."
