

Winter Sports Center May As Grid Season Ends

B. H. S. IN CAGE OPENER TODAY

Maples, With Veterans Line-Up, To Meet Dearborn Here

Baldwin High School will open its 1932-33 basketball season tonight when Coach Franklin Whitney's quintet will face Dearborn on the Baldwin floor. The second team game, which is to precede the main contest, will begin at 7 P. M.

Due to the fact that nearly all of the Maroon players were members of the football team and could not practice until the grid season was completed, Coach Whitney has had only three days in which to recruit his players for the opening contest. Regular workouts began Monday with a short scrimmage the first afternoon.

The team which will oppose Dearborn will probably be composed entirely of freshmen. The coach gives the following players as members of the tentative line-up: Schwane and McBride; Forester, Boynton or Forester, center; Hunt and either Bunyan or Carver, guards.

The squad which reported for practice Monday was composed of 31 members, about the same number as last year. There is no "roster" material to be alarmed at, so Coach Whitney's own whimsical comment on the prospect.

The list of returning veterans includes Hunt, Carver, Bunyan, Schwane, McBride and Forester. McKee, one of the regulars last year, is not expected to compete this season.

Twenty-three major awards were made in football, and 16 in soccer. Fifteen of the 23 grid awards were awarded to seniors. Soccer was not so hard hit at the end of its first season, as half of the lettermen will return next year.

Letters for football were awarded to: Carl Lewing, Willy Grosse Lie; Robert (Giray), Joseph Hnshaw, Bruce Kappel, Gordon LeFebvre, Jack Legett, Ben Osborn, George Oje, and Tom Wilson of Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills; Kirk Alexander of Detroit; Carl Dennis, David Gillis, and James Potter of Detroit; Tom Bryant and Albert Teetzel of Grosse Pointe; Keith and Victor Pattengill of Lansing; Gustaf Peterson of Mount Clemens; Bruce W. G. Stinson of Pontiac; and Louis Blunt and Richard Ardree of Port Huron.

Dancing will continue until 12:45 A. M.

W. O. Stevens and Mrs. H. H. Yale will act as hostesses.

Sam missed his train and an order

Sam Wetherbee, in his habitual way, gulped a last swallow of hot coffee, snatched a fleeting kiss from Mrs. Sam and dashed out to the garage with seven minutes to reach the depot. He jammed his foot on the starter. Nothing happened. Nothing could happen, for the poor, worn out, two-year-old, decrepit battery had passed out. And so Sam missed the train, was an hour late and as a result lost an order in Detroit.

There are many Sam's and Jack's and Bill's in Birmingham taking chances every cold morning with anemic batteries. Miracles eventually run out—one day they'll get caught. Why take a chance? The best batteries can last only so long. Time flies. Batteries work hard. Perhaps yours needs replacement right now. Come in for a test -- it is positive -- and it's free!
