Friends Pay Tribute Birmingham Girl Scouts Enjoy Summer Pleasures At The Davis Lake Camp

A birthday cake bearing 84 candles was lighted in observance of the birthday anniversary of Mrs. William M. Stewart of South Woodward avenue, when 29 friends gathered here with a party at the First Presbyterian Church last Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Stewart, whose memory is usually seen despite her years, entertained her guests by relating anecdotes and reciting verses of which she is particularly fond. Among the many gifts presented was a copy of Joyce Kilmer's "Trees," which was autographed by each of the guests. The afternoon concluded with a prayer of "appreciation" offered by Mrs. Caroline Untergraff at the request of Mrs. Stewart.

The party was arranged by members of Department A of the Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church, Mrs. S. D. Dabert, S. Morris was chairman of the committee in charge.

Mrs. Stewart, who makes her home with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Ryan of South Woodward avenue, has been the mother of eight children, six of whom are living. She has been in Cantonburg, Pa., during the summer months, where she resided for many years. For the past 17 years, she has made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Ryan.

Non-skid chains for automobiles were invented by Charles Algon Parsons, English inventor and shipbuilder.

As one end of it is already terrace Evelyn and Grace sat on the grass on bits of crisp paper.

"But, my dear, you never could tell her that!" Evelyn exclaimed.

"I know," Grace replied, "but she is just kidding herself."
