Marriage In New York Of Mrs. Halgren To Cyril B. Lewis Surprises Friends

SOC IS ITAL—Marriage in N Y
 Coming as a distinct surprise to their many friends in Birmingham was the announcement of the marriage in New York City Saturday of Mrs. Hope P. Halgren, executive secretary of the Community House and former village commissioner, to Cyril B. Lewis, 739 Lakeview drive.
 Mrs. Halgren, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. G. R. Ferguson, and by Mrs. P. F. McKinney, 587 Greenwood avenue, left for New York about two weeks ago to spend her vacation with her sister, Mrs. Homer Johnson, at Pelham Manor. Only Mrs. Halgren and Mr. Lewis' most intimate friends were aware of their plans to meet in New York. The ceremony was performed in Hudson Square Church. Following the ceremony, Mrs. Lewis took a short motor trip through New England, returning to Birmingham on Sunday. Mr. Lewis' home is at 739 Lakeview drive. Mrs. Halgren was married Tuesday at the home of her mother in New York with Mrs. Johnson.

Prize Winners Named In Eccentric Diary Contest

Combining the names of 36 nationally advertised products, together with their slogans, in an engagingly interesting and gloriously worded diary of a day's activities, Maurice R. Kimmins, local eccentric, won first prize of $100 in a contest sponsored by the Eccentric. It was announced by the judges today.
 Jack W. Taylor, contractor, of 663 Harman avenue, won the second prize, while $1 prizes were awarded to Arthur Peters, 815 Southfield road, and Mrs. William Melroy, 168 East Brown street.
 The first and second prize winning diaries follow:

 The alarm rang—I jumped from bed to look at a small package on my dressing table. I was awake and expected the seven "wallpapers" I gave him, and was excited and pleased when he opened the package containing an Ingersoll Yankee (the watch that made the dollar famous).
 After a shower with Ivory (it floats) I found my hair stubborn, but a little Vasoline (it makes you wake up that lacy scalp) fixed that. I donned B. V. D.'s (next to myself I like B. V. D.'s best) and slipped on an Arrow shirt (I just wanted to fit you perfectly or your money back). As I adjusted the buttons, the aroma of Chase and Sanborn's coffee (look for the Star on the tin) was wafted on me. So I quickly finished dressing, and as I laced the Florshams (for the man who cares) the G. E. radio (deliciously and wonderfully "Margie") then a Lucky (it's toasted) before my Fleischman's (cut three cakes a day) was taken from the G. E. refrigerator (four year service plan).
 "B" and Don were waiting as I sat down to my Shredded Wheat (100% whole wheat) and as I "Sweetened my tea" I entered Don attacked his Post's Bran (now you'll like Bran). Breakfast over, glanced at my Ethyl (over 83,000/100) and found I had time to Simolize (makes the finish last longer) another fender on the Chevrolet (two cylinders—no more—no less), that done, I found the Mobiloil (make the chart your car's best friend) and the Firestones (the tire that race drivers demand) seemed properly inflated. Ethyl checks them when he fills "her" with Ethyl (the pennies you spend for Ethyl come back to you).
 A quick wash with "B's" Canay soap (the soap of the beautiful woman) and I bid "B" and Don "Bye" and moved away. I noticed the car seemed sluggish—I'd have Roy replace the Champion plug (enables you to make new performance heights) with new A. C.'s (standard equipment on 62% of all cars).
 A misty morning, then lunch with Charlie, then shopped. We

 Up bedtimes—with a collection of Mr. Papp's—and to the bathroom for my ablutions, my trouph "with the medicine" (the cat, would soon to drag in. Why do people always insist on being generous with their cheap pig). What would the race do without Listerine. Even my best friend is a member of the Trophy and Awards Committee.
 Back to the stuff (the stuff) I bought. Then called it a day, set some and went to bed. Don't be back to round out the day.

 Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Delphine Vhay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Vhay, of 515 East Long Lake road, to Luddy Bell of Portland, Me., son of Dr. and Mrs. Conrad Bell of Waltham, Mass. Miss Vhay, who attended Sacred Heart Convent in Grosse Pointe and Ostrum in Montreal, made her debut four years ago at the Fox and Hounds Inn. She is a member of Sigma Gamma and the Junior League. Mr. Bell is a Harvard graduate. The date for the wedding has not been set.

Mrs. Bailey

Mrs. Gordon L. Bailey, 964 East Maple avenue, recently received the unanimous endorsement of the sixth district American Legion Auxiliary for the office of treasurer of the department of Michigan to be elected at the annual state convention of the Legion and Auxiliary to be held in Kalamazoo, Aug. 21-23.
 Mrs. Bailey's endorsement was given at a meeting of the district held in Northville, when she was nominated in a speech by Mrs. Perry A. Vaughan, president of the Birmingham unit.
 When the American Legion Auxiliary was organized here in February, 1922, Mrs. Bailey was one of the charter members, and she has held every office in the unit since that time, including three years as secretary and two years as president.
