Women's Garden Group Holds Annual Flower Show Monday

Color harmony and composition in flower arrangement were outstanding features of the flower show staged Monday at the Community House, as an annual event by the Birmingham Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association.

In marked contrast with the exhibits of a year ago, when the larger blooms such as iris and peonies predominated in great masses of color, were the exhibits of this year, which, though less striking, presented greater artistic flower arrangement. In contrast with the color of the flowers, the exhibits were suggestive of a floral painting or design.

The 57 entries occupied both the auditorium and the Ruth Nichols room, with the latter devoted to the class for "complete artistic table setting," where breakfast luncheon or dinner tables were laid to appeal to the artistic and fastidious eye.

Water Carnival To Be Event Of July 30 At Pine Lake

The annual water carnival at Pine Lake Country Club will be held this year on Pine Lake Day, July 30, according to an announcement made by Mrs. D. D. Grandy, swimming and diving instructor at the club for the past several years, who has returned to resume his old duties.

The event will be a Red Letter Day when swimmers will participate in the annual cross-lake swim for the McCobb trophy. There will be a number of other swimming exhibitions by prominent Michigan amateurs. The event will be under supervision of the Michigan Amateur Athletic Union, of which Pine Lake Club is a member.

Previous to Pine Lake Day, swimming and diving exhibitions will be given at the club every Sunday afternoon. Grandy also announces cross-lake swims for children to be conducted each Sunday from 10 A. M. and noon. Gold emblems will be awarded to those who complete a given number of cross-lake swims.

If you were to ask former Representative John B. Sosnowski of Detroit, who, in the ancient Greek manner, is a man of many talents, you would be surprised to find that he is a woman of many talents.

Excuse me, Mr. Sosnowski? interrupted Mrs. Yaura F. Osborn, a member of the audience. "But did you send out those cards to women voters declaring yourself in favor of Prohibition?"

"Yes, those are my cards," he told Mrs. Osborn, as he handed the pastebord strip she handed him.

"And then, Mr. Sosnowski," continued Mrs. Osborn, raising her voice and turning a little to the women assembled, "did you not also send out those cards to men voters declaring yourself in favor of beer and light wine?" she asked, holding him another card.

"The best dressed man in Washington," according to his Congressional report, started weeping over the red and began stamping.

"Did you or did you not?" persisted Mrs. Osborn.

Mr. Sosnowski was confuted.

"Why, yes, that's my card too," he finally admitted and rushed from the room, muttering his perspiring brow.

"Cries of 'Go get him,' 'Bring him back!' from the women followed his hasty exit.

"The 'hostesses' of the day, too, after him to 'extend further hospitality.' The meeting was in a Detroit hotel, and the participants sought him in vain in corridors and lobby.

But he was gone. Apparently the entertainment was not to his liking.

Now he's openly waving the flag for repeal, that is, if some woman doesn't suddenly appear, like the Goddess of Retribution, to seize the flag!

Popular Teacher Is Bride At Home Ceremony

An event of interest to many in Birmingham was the wedding Saturday evening of Miss Jessie Holmgren, a teacher of domestic science at Barnum and Baldwin Schools, and Dr. E. V. Northway of Mt. Pleasant, Mich.

The ceremony was performed on the veranda of the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Caruthers of Bancroft, in the presence of 100 guests.

The marriage vows were spoken before an improvised altar banked with tall tapers. The Rev. J. S. Agnew, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church in Durand, performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of cream satin. In the princess fashion, with neckline softened by shirred tulle, and long sleeves, she completed the bridal ensemble. Her tall, white veil of Philadelphia, left Friday after spending a week with her family on Bates street. He was accompanied on his visit by his nephew, James McAllister, who is a student of science at Westchester College, Pa. During Mr. Caruthers' last home here, he had about 25 old friends, relatives and acquaintances of his congregation gathered at his home to greet him. During the evening, Stables of Birmingham played appropriate musical selections. At the reception which followed, several Birmingham friends who were members of domestic science classes taught by Miss Caruthers, assisted in serving the guests. They were Adele Cole, Barbara and Joan Baker.

Other guests from Birmingham included Mr. and Mrs. Milton Mallender, Miss Margaret Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Stables, and Miss Ruth Hull and Miss Eleanor Mitchell, all of whom are teachers at Baldwin High School.

Following a wedding trip to Canada, the bride and groom will make their home in Mt. Pleasant.

CALENDAR OF COMING EVENTS

Tuesday: Meeting of the Michigan - Canada Automobile Association, National Farm and Garden Association, Community House, Meeting of the Oakland County Foot of the Allied Youth of America.

Friday: Southern District Managers' Association, Tenth re-graduation, Baldwin High School, League class, Elmer Township Park, 6:30 P. M.

WE HEARD IT SAID BY - Rev. R. M. Aldin, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Parkersburg, West Virginia, after the fall of the Roman Empire, the world needed a religion more than it does today, but not since that time has there been such a demand for spiritual stimulation?

His Imagination Pays

The Past Noble Grand Club of the Rebecca Lodge entertained Tuesday at a birthday party in honor of those members having birthdays during the month of April, May and June. Of the six members honored, five were present, including Mrs. Bessie Holmgren, Mrs. Elizabeth Adams, Mrs. Ada Brooks, Mrs. Nellie Twilling and Mrs. Lona Green. Following a pot-luck luncheon, which was served at tables on the lawn, the nomination and election of officers took place. Those elected are Mrs. Mabel Nostrand, president; Mrs. Ida Nixon, treasurer; and Mrs. Carrie Harris, secretary. Twenty members were in attendance.

Next Monday evening at 8 o'clock the Pythian Sisters Lodge will hold their last meeting until Sept. 1. A special Flag Day program will be given at 9 o'clock with members of the brother lodge, Knights of Pythias, and their families as guests. Refreshments will be served.

Rev. David Curry, pastor of the Southwestern Presbyterian Church of Philadelphia, left Friday after spending a week with his family on Bates street. He was accompanied on his visit by his nephew, James McAllister, who is a student of science at Westchester College, Pa. During Mr. Curry's last home here, he had about 25 old friends, relatives and acquaintances of his congregation gathered at his home to greet him. During the evening, Stables of Birmingham played appropriate musical selections. At the reception which followed, several Birmingham friends who were members of domestic science classes taught by Miss Caruthers, assisted in serving the guests. A MAN'S MEAL cooked as only an ELECTROCHEF can!

THE man doesn't exist who can taste this delicious Electrochef treat and not come back for more. Crisply brown, full flavored and meltingly tender, Electrochef roast chicken offers its appetizing perfection to the Electrochef semi-sealed oven. Little water is used with Electrochef cooking, and the concentrated liquor for the gravy consists of the natural juices of the meat.

Mild electric heat penetrates evenly to all parts of the fowl, and the dressing is fluffy-textured and fragrant, thoroughly seasoning the meat. The Electrochef oven is practically self-basting, as a pressure cooker, and there is little shrinkage or loss of weight in roasting. Serve Electrochef roast chicken to tempt flagging appetites! And notice, also, how much cooler your Electrochef kitchen is this summer! Stop in at any Detroit-Edison office and see the Electrochef.

Budget $10 FIRST PAYMENT - $2.00. Installment, only to cook monthly. Balance when these conditions to Detroit Edison customer only.

THE DETROIT EDISON CO.

Study of one thousand families using the ELECTROCHEF electric roaster showed a cookery cost of 1¢ per pound.
