Helen Grawn Wins State Net Title At Kingswood

Helen Grawn, Kingswood girl, is shown with the 15-year-old daughter of Carl Grawn, president of the Detroit Tennis Club, who emerged the Michigan state open girl's tennis champion Saturday afternoon during the most important tournament to be played on the courts of Kingswood School. She defeated Peggy Moore, a 17-year-old graduate of Cooley High School, Detroit, 6-4, 4-6, 7-5. Miss Grawn is a sophomore at Kingswood School.

After trailing in the final match, 4-1 in games to 5, Miss Grawn, through sheer steadiness and with superb stroking, came back to win the next three straight games, the set, match and championship.

Miss Grawn's court generalship, and her deep, well-placed drives kept Miss Moore always from getting set consistently. The final games were back-court duels in which both players displayed excellent stroking, both forehand and backhand.

It was the steadier play of Miss Grawn which in the end enabled her to defeat her more spectacular, but more erratic, opponent. Throughout, the players and particularly the winner, displayed footwork, balance and stroking which called forth the admiration of many experienced players in the gallery, among them two former Detroit city champions.

Tennis was played Sunday in this match which made the onlookers realize fully that they were watching a state championship final.

also developed in the junior and boys' tournaments for Bloomfield Center players, held in conjunction with the Kingswood event.

Robert Haggreaves of Brookside School won the boys' singles crown with a straight-set victory over Tom Brown, also of Brookside, 6-2, 6-2.

Phil Manker of Cranbrook won an easy victory over his schoolmate, William Talman, for the junior singles title, 6-1, 6-0, 6-1.

The junior doubles championship went to James Talman and Tom Bryant, who defeated John Collins and Frank Macomber in the finals, 6-4, 6-1, 6-1.

Longest Law Suit

Filing of the commission's report was the outcome of hearings begun in January, 1931, and continuing until March, 1932. It is believed to be the longest single law suit ever tried in Oakland County.

Previous to the hearings, property owners took the matter four times before the State Supreme Court to force the state and railroad to recognize the rights of property adjoining the new right-of-way. The property was first taken for railroad purposes in April, 1928.

The damage claims made no allowance for interest, specifying that interest would begin to accrue when the awards are confirmed by the court.

The members of the commission hearing the suit, sitting as both judge and jury, were G. Edson Haskell of Pontiac, Lee Noble of Oxford and W. Scott Lovejoy of Milford.

John Gaill of Birmingham represented the Grand Trunk in the proceedings.

The commission is to begin hearings next month on the petition to condemn negative easements for the area lying adjacent to the Grand Trunk between Normandy road and the City of Royal Oak, involving about 700 parcels of land.

HANDFUL OF BIDDERS APPEAR AT TAX SALE

It took only five hours Tuesday to accommodate the handful of bidders who appeared at the county court house to buy 1929 delinquent tax lands. Although the sale will be held open officially until Saturday to allow property to be bid in, practically all of the resultant business was handled in the first day of the sale Tuesday.

As a result of the extremely low number of titles bid in, the great majority of unpaid descriptions will be returned to the state.

Committee Reports On First State Bank Plans

MORTGAGE COMPANY PLAN

William McCallum and E. C. Baynes, members of the committee, yesterday issued the following statement:

The sum of $100,000 will be available to depositors as quickly as the mortgage company plan is in operation. It is the belief of the committee that there are many families in Birmingham who are in drastic need of part of their deposits in order to live. This money will be used for those in need.

The committee has rapidly increased the number of signers to the agreement as people have become more familiar with the merits of the plan. Their realization that under this plan no money is set aside for any purpose and will be available as quickly as collected and paid immediately to depositors has had much to do with the increase in the number of signers.

"We are now almost ready to proceed with the formation of the mortgage company as a large proportion of the larger depositors have agreed to the plan. The committee desires to do this just as soon as possible.

"Now that success is clearly within sight through the joining together of these larger depositors, we hope that many of those having smaller deposits will come in and discuss this matter with us. There are so many of the smaller depositors that it is almost impossible for the committee to get in personal touch with them and we believe that they owe it to themselves to thoroughly familiarize themselves with this plan."

RE-OPENING PLAN

The committee on the re-opening plan announced yesterday that it had secured the signatures of more than 1,000 depositors to its agreement, and that total deposits pledged to the plan exceeded $700,000.
