DROP JUNIOR HIGH SPORTS

New Program Includes Competition For Grade Schools

There will be no junior high school athletics during the coming semester, according to an announcement made Monday by Charles W. Crandell, superintendent of schools. Along with Mr. Crandell's announcement came the news that the director of athletics, that there will be inter-school athletic competition in the grade schools from the fourth to sixth grades.

This year we are under a handicap of a shortage of teachers and all former coaches have been placed in regular classrooms. Mr. Crandell said: "Since the physical education department has been discontinued in the grade schools and the junior high students continue to have classes in this subject, it has been decided that it would be more advisable to have the grade students participate in inter-school competition."

Mr. Crandell further stated that this is only a schedule for this semester and that during the next school term it might be possible to resume inter-school competition to the junior high.

Inter-school competition in the junior high schools began in the fall of 1927, when Adams and Baldwin each had two basketball teams. In 1928, both Adams and Baldwin entered the Little Six

Hunt made five yards of right tackle, and Bunyan finished through left tackle for five more yards to start down.

Cranbrook Meets Albion Frash; Both Games On Local Fields

Home games are scheduled this weekend for both Baldwin and Cranbrook School football teams. Baldwin will enter its six fray of the season against Dearborn in Pierce Field Saturday afternoon, while Cranbrook will engage the Albion College Freshmen at Cranbrook Stadium Friday, in what will be the Cranbrook's home appearance of the season.

The Maple will meet Dearborn Saturday for any particular style of play. Little is known of the visiting team. The contest will be the first between the two schools.

A slight shake-up is expected in the Maroon and White lineup. Guy Laughlin, a tackle who has not started the last three games, will undoubtedly appear in the opening lineup against Dearborn as a reward for his aggressive work last week in the Cranbrook game. Also, the recent improvement of some of the reserves make an end and a backfield starting position uncertain, according to Coach Miles W. Robinson.

Proceeds of the Cranbrook-Albion game will go to the Cranbrook School Charity Fund for relief work in Bloomfield Hills.

The results of the Cranbrook work last week in the Cranbrook game season to date have put Cranbrook players in a frame of mind which does not forebode an easy victory for the visitors, but the college men, like Dearborn, are an unknown quantity hereabouts in football matters.

BALDWIN STUDENTS PLAN STRAW POLL

A Straw Vote Will be Taken at Baldwin High School Friday to Determine the Students' Choice of Candidates for President and Other Officers in the Coming Election, According to Bob Gibbons, Head of a Group of Seniors who are sponsoring the plan. GOOD NEWS FOR DRAIN TAXPAYERS

Because of suits sponsored by Van Wagoner which resulted in a ONE YEAR'S moratorium on bonded drain assessments, you will NOT pay your annual drain tax December 1. This relief totals $888,410, more than 75% of which would have been paid by taxpayers in Southern Oakland County.

Such initiative in drain litigation and its maintenance of 256 miles of old county (not municipal) drains at half the former cost, prove Pat Van Wagoner the EXECUTIVE ENGINEER the office needs.
