Democrats have chosen their song, and in coming campaign plan to make walking ring with "How High the Mountains," by Eddie Dowling and Fred Coats. Before selection was made, Governor's own choice, "Anchors Aweigh," identifying him with Navy and World War, was considered. Dowling and Coats have dedicated song and profits from the cross in regard to anti-foreign clear and cigarette butts on streets of Rome. Before our first war, it was necessary to hire four men to pick up butts from Rome street setting before the city was taken by the Romans. This was unknown in 64 A. D. Now toga boys lounge around, phony Forum puffing pipes between smokes.

"Secretary Hawkins," himself, will go on air for NBC when strip is broadcast for Balastris. Furlina from Chicago starting Oct. 4. Robert Ernie Schulker's, original, radio play is being broadcast, carrying five impersonations on each program twice daily. Hawkins will go on air for NBC station at 8:45 P. M. and again at 6:28 for Western hookup. Strip not due to air as Schulker's performance, radio play previously over W.L.W., Cincinnati.

Paul Kelly was engaged by The Guild for one of last night's party in "The Pure in Heart" by Jack Lawson, which will go into rehearsal for Alvin Theater, New York, about two weeks.

"All My Love" is title of emotional romance in which Sylvia Sydney will appear next on screen. Play now being written by Sidney Buchman. This will be star's first screen work since "Merrily We Go

STARS OF RADIOLAND

Bernadine Flynn... Equally adept at painting a play dramatic parts, Bernadine Flynn, who makes regular appearances before the microphone, spreads much of her spare time with brush and palette. She is heard in a weekly program on the air.

To Hell! Miss Sidney returned recently from vacation in New York.

Ferdinand Schumann-Heink, son of famous opera star, is casting bread across waters for poster of certain war orphans and widows. Although Schumann-Heink served in American army, he has not forgotten his countrymen abroad.

While working at Paramount on Joseph von Sternberg's "Blonde Venus," starring Marlene Dietrich, Schumann-Heink received letter from civil authorities of Hamburg, Germany, his birthplace, formally accepting his recent gift of 50,000 marks to be used as trust fund to aid in caring for destitute families of world war veterans.

Radio fame may be achieved through use of single song hit, as revealed in survey of careers of radioland stars taking part in Paramount's "The Big Broadcast." Here are songs which brought each success: Bing Crosby, "I Surrender

Prepare now for the business return—brighten your store with LIGHT!

People everywhere have had enough of gloom and pessimism. Merchants are already noticing a change in the trend. Hard work is making itself felt, and many observers believe that the turn in business conditions is at hand. Is your position such that you can seize the opportunity when it comes, and use it to your advantage?

Now is the time to prepare for the upturn. And one of the best ways to do it is to "set your house in order." Are you displaying your goods to best advantage? Are you satisfied with the quality of lighting in your store?

Brightly lit windows and a well-lighted store are two of your strongest assets in a bid for increased sales. Light attracts customers—it is powerfully magnetic. Well-lighted windows improve the appearance of merchandise and give you a strong advantage over competitors. And good lighting works just as successfully for the small store as for the large. Remember, too that light is one of the cheapest things you buy. Why not enlist its aid in your behalf?

Without charge our lighting engineers will gladly measure your lighting, inspect your equipment, and make suitable recommendations.
