DELAY NAMING CHURCH HEAD

But Regular Services At United Presbyterian Will Continue

A permanent successor to Rev. Henry S. Evans, pastor of the United Presbyterian Church, who has been laid up in his resignation, will probably not be appointed until next spring, it was announced today following a meeting of officials of the church with Dr. William A. Grimes, synodical superintendent of the Detroit presbytery in charge of placements.

Although Mr. Evans has resigned to accept a call to the United Presbyterian Church at Lakeland, Fla., complete services at the church here will be continued, it was emphasized by officials in charge.

Beginning with the first Sunday in October, Mr. Evans said, the

Physician Reports Microscope Theft

A microscope valued at $175 and believed to be the only one of its type in the state was stolen some time last Thursday night from the office of Dr. Harold R. Roehm, 237 North Woodward avenue, he reported to police.

The back door to the office had been left unlocked, Dr. Roehm said, and the cleaning woman discovered the theft early Friday morning. The microscope was one which had been purchased by Dr. Roehm in Paris and was of the type used in general bacteriological research.

Work of the Bible School will be supervised by Miss Janet Kent of Pittsburg, Pa., a Bible School missionary who will be stationed here permanently by the denomination.

Regular Sunday sermons will be preached by the pastor of one of the United Presbyterian Churches in this vicinity, who has not yet been named but who will continue to serve the church here as well as his own charge, until a permanent successor to Mr. Evans has been appointed.

GRID SEASON OPENS SEPT. 24

Maples Meet St. Mary's In Debut; No Pontiac Game

Eight games compose the varsity football schedule for Baldwin High School this year. Seven additional contests will be played by the second team. The games began nearly a week later than last year, the first being with St. Mary's of Orchard Lake on Sept. 24. This year is the first in which Birmingham has met St. Mary's on the gridiron.

The schedule calls for no game with Pontiac, a team which the Maroons have played every year previous to last. The reason for this is that the Pontiac team gives for the cessation of varsity athletic relations with the Chiefs is the vast difference in the size of the two schools.

Two other changes in this year's lineup of games include the absence of this with St. Anthony's of Detroit and Berkeley, Birmingham defeated both of these schools last year.

Mr. Engel, announced that the game with Port Huron this year would be the last to be played with that school. Port Huron is too far from Birmingham, he said.

The natural rivalry which has been in the making during the last two or three years, between Birmingham and Cranbrook will come to a full halt after the game Oct. 23 as the officials at the latter school have decided to discontinue their relations with all public high schools. Birmingham has won one football game with Cranbrook and lost one.

It is believed that M. L. Clemens, with whom Birmingham encountered some difficulty in football some years ago, will be on next year's schedule.

The second team schedule this season has been enlarged from four games to seven. Clawson, Berkeley and Royal Oak being the added opponents.

The complete schedule follows:

Delegates Hear Aulenbach

Later, Rev. W. Hamilton Aulenbach, assistant rector of Christ Church Cranbrook, addressed the delegates assembled in the church, emphasizing the point that even though millions of people are unable to find employment in these times, there is always some service that can be performed for others.

The conference was then divided into four groups, or separate discussions, led by Walter Jenkins of Detroit, George Carhart of Royal Oak, George H. H. of Pontiac, and Robert D. Lynd secretary of the Birmingham Y. M. C. A.

The delegates were entertained at lunch in the Greek Theater of the Greek Estate, and were dressed by Mr. Booth. This was followed by a tour of inspection through Cranbrook School and a talk by Herbert Davis, formerly of Hills School, Pottdown, Pa., who has been appointed to teach mathematics at Cranbrook.

He was introduced by Dr. William O. Stevens, headmaster.

Conference attendees also visited the Institute of Science and Kingswood School, where they were welcomed by Miss Frances Marie Nelson, secretary of the administrative staff.

A short vespers service followed at the church, with Mr. Aulenbach stressing the importance of personality in work, and pointing out the need of an avocation to supplement every vocation.

The conference closed with supper in the pavilion near the theater, and a brief worship service at the church, concluding with a carillon recital by William Hall Miner, bellmaster.

A Birmingham delegation, headed by Mr. Lynd and Miss Emily Walker, included the following: Sally Baker, Marjorie Kidder, June Botsford, Carol Collins, Mary Ann Reed, Virginia Packard, Mary Jean Weitzel, Eleanor Bishop, Mary Palmer, Bob Sabom, Fred Boynton and Dick Phillips.

As an emergency measure to prevent hucksters from selling their wares along the public highways, the Bloomfield Village Board has employed Constable Joseph F. MacGregor to patrol the highways daily for a period of an indefinite length of time.

MacGregor is gradually forcing the hucksters off the roads. Justice David Levinson explained, "and we hope to keep him on this work until the township can take some other action, or at least until we succeed in educating pedestrians the idea that they cannot park on the public highway to dispose of their wares."
