RUNS FOR CIRCUIT COURT COMMISSION
Orph C. Holmes, Attorney, Seeks Democratic Nomination at Tuesday's Primary
The office of Circuit Court Commissioner, during the present depression, overburdened with land contract foreclosures, needs a lawyer possessing not only a basic knowledge of real estate law but one who has had also extensive experience in property management.
Mr. Holmes' five years training at teacher in the public schools, his experience in property management in its various phases, and his success as a practicing attorney, have given him that breadth of vision and experience to cope with the problems of Circuit Court Commissioner.
A descendant of that staunch old Virginia and Kentucky pioneer stock in whom were inbred the principles of Jeffersonian Democracy, Mr. Holmes' political views are unshaken. Born at Frankfort, Indiana, August 14, 1893, he attended the Indiana State Normal and later the Detroit College of Law.
In May 1917 he volunteered for service in the U. S. Army and served as a commissioned sergeant for two years, one year on active service in France. He now holds a commission as Captain in the U. S. A. Reserve.
In November 1919, after his discharge from the U. S. Army, he settled in Oakland County where he has gained the respect and the friendship of his associates in business, social, and professional life.
Having acquired a thorough general training, together with several years experience in property management, a successful business agent, and a successful lawyer, Mr. Orph C. Holmes is fully qualified and respectfully solicits your nomination to the office of Circuit Court Commissioner on the Democratic ticket.
