LARGE CROWD SEES BARKONIAN PLAYERS A large audience turned out Tuesday night to see the presentation by the Barkonian Club Players of the dramatic play, "The Secret of Detroit."

By LILLIAN CARTER There's more to this than meets the eye. We are not embracing or advocating a new "fresh air and freedom" cult, either. No, we shall not go native as the natives of the pain and cacophonous countries go, but we'll go native here, in our own over-mindened small middle-western town and in our own brave fashion.

"Let's Go Native!" They therefore have their own particular atmosphere, some brooding, sparkling clean and new like an "Old Dutch" ad; some a little less the color of life as an old-fashioned and honey parlor.

NEW CHILDREN'S CHOIR TO MAKE APPEARANCE The newly organized children's choir of Christ Church, Cranbrook, composed of about 20 boys and girls of first, second and third grade age, will make its appearance at the church on Sunday afternoon, Feb. 17.

BISHOP TO CONFIRM ORTHIST CHURCH CLASS Bishop Herman Page of the Episcopal Diocese of Detroit will confirm a class of about 25 members into Christ Church, Cranbrook at a service to be held in the church at 8 P. M. Tuesday.

By LILLIAN CARTER But first it is necessary that we admit it is a small middle-western town of the despised Sinclair Lewis variety. Then, having faced the fact bravely, remember that there are many hundreds of thousands of little cretices, undulations and specks upon the globe each with its own particular (or non-particular) customs, morals, traditions, conceits and pretenses that our own place of habitation remains non-existent as far as the rest of the mighty many world is concerned.

Being Ourselves If one dares not be oneself in public, still, severely one may be himself that of the clubs of the village offer that outlet for expression. At the club, the man is free to be himself, where men are men and men will be boys. Even the hand that holds the cradle is open-taken with frivolity in the sanctity of some club or lodge.
