Watrouts Will Operate Oakland Layout For Public Play

Officers in Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills hailed enthusiastically Sunday the announcement that the north course at Oakland Hills Country Club has been leased to Al Watrous, Oakland Hills professional, who will operate during the coming season as a public fee course.

It will thus be the first championship layout of 18 holes open to public play in this section. It

Adjutant A. G. Fowler, commanding officer of the Salvation Army in Pontiac "Mrs. John Bloom, the kindly old lady who sells the "War Cry," Salvation Army publication, in Birmingham, is, we feel, one of the most valuable members in our organization. She does more than sell the magazine. She is a real Christian with a blessing and kind word for every one she meets."

It will be known as the "North Hills Golf Course."
Watrouts, present holder of the Michigan F. & A. title which he won at the Birmingham Golf Club last year, will supervise the new course, at the same time continuing his professional duties at Oakland Hills. He will probably put Art Fodgforth his assistant in charge of the shop.

The north course is 6,440 yards long, only slightly shorter than the championship south layout, which will be continued for use of the club members only. Part on the north course is 79, and the course record is 64, held by Watrous himself.

The course was designed and laid out by Donald Ross. One of the buildings on the layout will be made over into a clubhouse.

WAYS TO PLAY MULHOLLAND'S

Druggists Loom As Final Obstacle In 'Y' Loop Title Path

What appears to be the last remaining obstacle in the path of the Mulholland basketball quintet toward a walk-away to the championship of the Y. M. C. A. League is encountered by the dry goods store tonight when it is scheduled to meet the Van's Pharmacy five in one tilt of a three-game card on the Barnum School court.

The Fellowship Club will tackle the DeMolays and Miller Falberg will fight it out with the Baptist Church team in the other two cards. The program will begin at 7 P. M.

Van's Pharmacy remained as a favorite with the prestige of the Mulholland five by continuing its winning streak last Thursday night, choosing for its victim the Baptist Church, which it trounced to the tune of 19 to 10.

The pharmacists, who held Fellowship in three field goals, trailed at the end of the first half 5 to 4, but came from behind in the last two periods to win and take undisputed possession of second place in the circuit. Brown and Symons, Pharmacy forwards, tied for scoring honors with six points apiece.

In the other two games, Mulholland's chucked up its fifth straight victory of the year by crushing Miller-Falberg, 38 to 16, and the Baptist quintet pulled itself out of the gutter column by trouncing the lowly DeMolays, 27 to 15.
