GIRL SCOUT ACTIVITIES

Birmingham Girl Scouts have been awarded a new set of dishes for their headquarters in the Community House here by the American Girl's national Girl Scout magazine, as a reward for securing eight two-year subscriptions.

In response to a request for a picture of the winners, Troop 4 will pose several of its members in a setting with the new dishes, while others in the troop will take the photograph. In this way, the scouts working for merit badges in photography will be given an opportunity to secure them.

Social Briefs

Members of Troop 3 have contributed a two-year subscription to the national Girl Scout magazine to Baldwin Public Library, which entitles them to become "Friends of the Library."

Archery Finds Favor As Winter Sport By Local Club

The ancient sport of the archer without its modern devices in Birmingham, a number of whom organized a month ago into the Birmingham Archery Club. Each Tuesday evening the club members meet to test their skill with bow and arrow at their four-target range on the third floor of the Venable Building.

Wednesday evening, the local club held its first match with Detroit archers at the Birmingham range. Members of the Birmingham club will journey to Saginaw on the evening of Jan. 29 to take part in a contest with the club of that city.

Mr. M. H. Merrill is the only woman member of the local club. The others are her husband and Mrs. S. F. Fitch, L. W. Patchin, H. E. Richardson, H. L. Sevin, I. N. Allen, Laurence Clark, Robert Hubert, John Hubert, John H. Slaughter, Richard C. Fowler and A. C. Utter.
