

Every moment of every day you are invited to breathe. You do it without a thought. You do it as a matter of course, and you live. The better the air you breathe, the better the life you live. So, thinking, too, God thoughts are invited in your life by becoming your life.

FIFTY-SIXTH YEAR—No. 16

BIRMINGHAM, OAKLAND COUNTY, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, JULY 27, 1934

RECORD OF 1933 SHOCKS BROWN

By G. R. A. Frank says a time there lived in France a man named Charles Wagner, whose humble life was spent in unobtrusive service to his fellow men. He was a man of great intellect, and he lived a life of quietude and peace. He was a man of great intellect, and he lived a life of quietude and peace. He was a man of great intellect, and he lived a life of quietude and peace.

39 Inches Of Trout And Only 1 Line!

It's A Dandy Story Of A 2-for-1 Catch And Two Men To It

Two German brown trout—one 19 and the other 15 inches long—were taken by a fisherman on Monday night. That was the phenomenal catch made last Saturday by Superintendent Harold E. "Squid" Simpson, 1036 Madison avenue and if you don't believe it, ask any of the city's fishermen and you will know the truth. The fisherman who caught the trout was a member of the Birmingham Fish and Game Club. He was out fishing on Monday night and he had only one line set. He was fishing in the area near the Oak Club. Simpson was using a Royal Coachman for his lead fly and a Black Butler's red dropper on his nine-foot leader.

STATE PAYROLL GROWS

By V. J. Brown

THE tremendous influence which lobbying has exerted on the 1933 State Legislature has been so widely recognized that it has become the principal subject matter of the fourth of a series of articles headed "The Lobbying Game" which will be published in the Birmingham Post-Herald. The series will be continued in future issues of "The Economic."

BRITERY CHARGES ADDED TO OUTRAGES OF LOBBYING

By V. J. Brown

Last week the discussion was upon the subject of lobbying as it is carried on in the state capital. Fortunate indeed that the chapter devoted to this subject was written before the joint session of the Legislature was taken, or rather it might be more accurate to say that the chapter was written before the events of Monday and Tuesday which preceded the passage of the law which might have crept into the text of the bill which marked those closing hours and some of the more important features of the bill which the House and Senate of those two days considered.

EXPERT LAYS CORSON'S WORK

Accountant's Report To Brandt Clears Treasurer Of Criticism

High praise of the work of Harold H. Corson, city treasurer, by his staff, is contained in a report of the work of the department, which was prepared by an expert accountant in the engineering office of the city, and which was presented to the Board of Finance last night. The report was prepared by J. V. Brown, an expert accountant in the engineering office of the city, and which was presented to the Board of Finance last night.

PLANS FOR POLICE RADIO WIN FAVOR

Approval Approves Proposed County System; Withholds Decision On Participating

Approval of a plan proposed by Sheriff Roy Keyton for a county-wide police radio system, which the sheriff's department and the county board of supervisors have approved, was voted by the City Commission Monday night.

Local Swimmers Defeated In First Meet By 3 Points

By W. STODDARD WHITE

If the Birmingham Athletic Club had had another diver as good as Champion Tom Haynie, the score would have been different without doubt, but Fisher took the long lead and 33-26 was the final score in the swimming and outdoor sports in the Birmingham Athletic Club. The meet, the first of a series being held by the Birmingham Athletic Club, was held at the club's pool on Monday night.

MET YOU HAVE?

Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Peters, who are living at 212 Aspen road, in the city of Detroit, have no children. Mr. Peters has a son, a boy named Fred, who is now in the law office of the late Judge J. W. Woodard, at 479 South Woodward avenue.

TEACHERS PAID $2,800

White, Essey Would Operate On Broad Curriculum At Start

The Birmingham schools will begin fall on Monday, Sept. 11, the Board of Education decided at a regular meeting last night. That is a week earlier than the opening last year. The date was one of two recommended by Charles W. Crandell, superintendent of schools, in a communication to the board, and the approval was urged by two residents of the district—William E. Essey, 240 Aspen road, and White, 652 Broad street.
