SOCIAL INTEREST CENTERED ON HILLS "JAMBOREE"

'Stonycroft' To Be Scene Of Benefit For St. Hugo Chapel

Committee Plans for Large Number of Guests From Hills, Birmingham and Detroit

By MARJORIE ELAINE PORTER

With more than 600 tickets in distribution for the "jamboree" to be held at "Stonycroft," the Bloomfield Hills estate of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore F. MacManus, on Saturday evening, the committee in charge is preparing to entertain a large throng of pleasure seekers.

The "jamboree," like the majority of summer fetes, will be a benefit, given under auspices of the Altar Society of the Chapel-by-the-Lake of St. Hugo of the Hills. It promises to be gay informality of the traditional summer carnival, with dancing, out-of-doors as one of the many attractions.

Parties which will precede the affair are in keeping with the occasion in informality. There will be buffet suppers, small dinner, get togethers, of friends from Detroit who plan to meet at the home of a friend here before attending the "jamboree."

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Braun of "Linn Vista," in the Hills, have invited 16 guests to a buffet supper at their home. Mr. and Mrs. Orrin P. Kilbourn of Tiverton Road have invited 20 guests to a buffet supper. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Polk, Jr., will be hosts at dinner at their home on Lone Pine road.

A large party of the school set will be entertained at dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cross of Berwyn road as the guests of Miss Olive Cross, Miss Harriet Flannery and Miss Charlotte Moore. The guests will include the Misses Mary Jane Tippett, Betty Bird, Lorraine Lambert, Nina Botsford, Priscilla Angstman, Betty Vinton, Gladys Fahey, Carol Collins, Elaine Cree, Ann Curtis, Beth Ranney, Marcia Kent, Kathryn Lawson, Virginia Lee, and also Bill O'Rourke, Jack Sitta, Ralph Price, J. W. Smith, Waldo Bird, Philip Moses, Jack Paynton, Russell Huff, Dick Kinney, Jim Cross, Bud Mathews, Joseph Braun, Jr., Julian Braun, Dick Coons, Bob Savage, Bob Harris, Peter Smith, Jack Whitesley, Roswell Curtis, Harry Collins, Bill Hutchinson, Ted MacManus, Knowles Wilson, Bill White and Rockwood Bullard.

Mr. and Mrs. William P. Blake, Jr., of "Rosebank" have invited a group of friends from Detroit to meet at their home before attending the "jamboree."

The committee directing arrangements for the fete includes Mrs. MacManus, Mrs. Joseph A. Braun, Mrs. Otto Kern, Mrs. Harry W. Taylor, Mrs. Walter R. Flannery, Mrs. Elliott S. Nichols, Mrs. H. W. Bird, Miss Theodora MacManus, Miss Laura Donnelly, Mrs. John R. MacManus, Miss Lilian Martin and Miss Vera Martin.

Out-of-Town Guests Are Feted By Friends

Former Residents Return On a Visit And Receive A Cordial Welcome

Among out-of-town guests in Birmingham during the past week-end were Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Hyham, formerly of Hawthorne road, who now reside in Verona, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Hysham were the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Yonker of Hawthorne road, and their visit was the occasion for several informal affairs. Mr. and Mrs. Yonker were hosts at a neighborhood gathering in honor of their guests Monday evening. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Allan E. Essery, Mr. and Mrs. Stanton Clark, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Brumbaum, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Donnelly, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fonda and Mr. and Mrs. Shelton Wright.

Mr. and Mrs. Hysham and Mr. and Mrs. Yonker were the dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Fry of Grosse Pointe Village. Mrs. Lewis will be hostess at a luncheon at Pine Lake Country Club today, honoring Mrs. Hysham and Mrs. Yonker. She has invited also Mrs. Essery, Mrs. Edward L. Bryant, Mrs. Stanton Clark, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Brumbaum and Mrs. Margaret B. Parker of Detroit.

After spending part of today in Ann Arbor, Mr. and Mrs. Hysham will return to take leave of their hosts before starting on their journey home.

Mrs. Henry C. Wallace and her daughter, Miss Ruth Wallace of Des Moines, Ia., are expected next week to be the guests for several days of Mrs. Wallace' daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Angus D. McLay of Wimbledon drive. Later, Mr. and Mrs. McLay and their guests will leave on a motor trip to Quebec, returning by way of the New England states.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Winston of Aspen road left Tuesday on a motor journey through northern Michigan and to Chicago, where they will attend the World's Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Davock, who are summering at their cottage at Torch Lake, had as their house guests for the week-end and holiday, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Morgan of Kenneaw drive and Mr. and Mrs. Raymood Reilly of Oak street.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hall Miner of Lone Pine road are in Cleveland where they attended the National Convention of the American Guild of Organists.

Birmingham Man Weds Detroit Girl At Pretty Ceremony

A pretty wedding was solemnized in Detroit Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, when Miss Opal Maude Bradley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Bradley of Detroit, became the bride of Mr. Ardmore Grooms, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Grooms of Stanley avenue, Birmingham.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Lendy Bradley of Detroit, as maid of honor, and F. Lemuel Shattuck of Lincoln avenue served Mr. Grooms as best man.

Following the ceremony, which was performed at the Mt. Zion Evangelical Lutheran Church on Grand River, a wedding breakfast for 25 guests, including relatives and close friends, was held at the home of the bride.

Miss Bradley was lovely in a gown of white embroidered organdy over white satin, which she wore with a close fitting white turban. A bouquet of white roses and lily-of-the-valley completed her costume. Her maid of honor chose a becoming frock of blue organdy and carried a bouquet of daisies and larkspur.

Mr. and Mrs. Grooms left immediately on a motor journey through Northern Michigan, after which they will reside on Lincoln avenue in Birmingham.

Garden Tour Planned By Local Association

Beauty Spots In Birmingham To Be Revealed To Visiting Club Monday

A garden pilgrimage to some of the beauty spots on the grounds of Birmingham homes has been planned for Monday by members of the local branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association.

Among the gardens to be visited will be those of Mrs. E. W. Seaholm on Kennesaw avenue, Mrs. F. J. Maurice in Manor road, Mrs. V. J. Snyder on Woodland avenue, Mrs. Charles E. Lewis on Hawthorne road, Mrs. Charles S. Manison on Hawthorne road, and Mrs. W. E. Moody on Chesterfield drive. The gardens of Mrs. E. F. Baumann and Mrs. Craig H. Hickey, both of Shirley drive, adjoin and are landscaped on the same plan. These gardens will be on exhibition for club members also.

Others to be shown include those of Mrs. Louis Ruthenberg of Arlington drive, Mrs. G. W. Coleman of Bingham road, Mrs. Louis Kann of Fourteen Mile and Franklin roads and Mrs. F. H. Aldrich of "The Woodlands" in Beverly Hills. The gardens will be open from 2 until 6 o'clock.

Breeze Too Light For Women Skippers at Orchard Lake

A light wind Tuesday afternoon prevented women skippers at Orchard Lake Country Club from testing their skill as sailors in the mixed races conducted as part of the July Fourth program.

The original plan, as announced by Mrs. Hugh W. Hitchcock, chairman of the Women's sailing committee, was for mixed races, with the men sailing on one round and the women on the second, in similar turn. As it was however, only the men sailors competed, with women assisting in each boat as crew.

First in these boats were Capt. and Mrs. H. Ledyard Towle, Mr. and Mrs. J. Robert F. Swanson finished second, Warren S. Booth and Mrs. Laurence Shaffner, third, and Mr. and Mrs. C. Theron Van Dusen, fourth.

Wife Savers

Take the elastic out of the puffed sleeves of your wash dress before laundering it. You can sun the sleeves much more easily and the elastic will last much longer. Also fasten snaps to the ends of the elastic to snap it together instead of sewing it.

Birmingham Woman Attends Institute

Mrs. C. R. Paton Joins Group Studying Economic And Social Conditions

Mrs. C. R. Paton of Drury Lane left Wednesday of last week for Wellesley, Mass., to attend the summer institute of Wellesley College, she having been selected as one of a group chosen to represent women of various interests and vocations throughout the country. The institute opened Saturday and will close July 15.

Mrs. Paton is chairman of the department of Efficiency in Government of the Birmingham Council of Women Voters, and active in civic affairs.

Among the principal speakers at the conference is the Hon. Frances Perkins, secretary of labor. Other speakers and round table leaders include Willard L. Thorp of Amherst College; Ewan Clague, director of the Pennsylvania Community Council of Philadelphia; Miss Mary Gilson of the department of economics, University of Chicago; William M. Leiserson of Antioch College; Ralph E. Flanders, vice-president of the American Association of Mechanical Engineers; Henry S. Dennison, Miss Mary Van Kleeck of the Russell Sage Foundation; Edwin G. Nourse, director of the Brookings Institution of Washington, D. C.; Miss Nida D. Studder of Wellesley College, and Frank Wood. Earl Williams of the New York Psychological Institute. Miss Dorothy P. Hill of Buffalo is the conference director.

Importance of Diet in Teeth Formation is Theme of Talk

An informal discussion on the care of the teeth and personal hygiene took the place of the usual address by Dr. Ida M. Alexander of the Michigan Department of Health before a group of mothers at the Barnum School Wednesday morning.

The meeting was the fifth in a series of health lectures given by Dr. Alexander under auspices of the community service committee of the American Legion Auxiliary, under the direction of Mrs. H. H. Gibson.

Dr. Alexander's subject previously announced for this week, "Twelve Important Facts About Child," was changed by request of members of the audience who wished to ask questions. This subject or that of "Child Management" will be discussed in the closing meeting Wednesday.

"The condition of a child's teeth betrays the correctness of incorrectness of his diet," Dr. Alexander told the mothers. "Although many do not seem to realize it, a mother's diet before the child is born is largely responsible for the kind of teeth the child is to have in life. The right diet will do much to correct probable defects.

"After the child is born, his diet is as important in developing good teeth. Until he is about 12 years of age, it is well to remember that milk should be a considerable portion of his daily fare, as it is one of the most important food substances in teeth formation."

At the conclusion of the lecture Wednesday, a luncheon for Dr. Alexander will be held at Devon Gables, to which all interested are invited.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By ANN PAGE

No matter what the calendar or the thermometer says, July and August are summer. And summer is vacation time, out-of-door time, picnic time for the whole family.

The presence of icy cold watermelon on our tables also shows us that summer is here. Since watermelon is an outstanding value in the stores this week-end there is no reason why all of us should not enjoy this refreshing fruit.

Following are three attractive Sunday dinner menus at different cost levels.

Low Cost Dinner
Veal Shoulder Chops
Creamed Potatoes
Buttered Carrots
Bread and Butter
Tapioca Cream
Coffee or Tea Milk

Medium Cost Dinner
Baked Half Ham
Scalloped Potatoes
Buttered Celery and Peas
Tomato Salad
Bread and Butter
Iced Watermelon
Coffee (Hot or Iced) Milk

Very Special Dinner
Celery Stuffed with Cheese and Olives
Roast Beef Pan-browned Potatoes
Glazed Onions
Watermelon Pickle
Rolls Butter
Orange Sherbet Sponge Cake
Coffee (Hot or Iced) Milk

Mr. and Mrs. Warren A. Sterling of Oak street left Saturday to spend the summer months at their cottage at South Hampton, Ont. They will have as their guest for two weeks, Carleton Patterson, Jr., of Woodland avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. James Vernor, Jr., have open house at their lodge, Eagle Nook, near Lapeer for the week-end. Among their guests from Birmingham were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rupp, Mr. and Mrs. Irving B. Babcock, Mrs. Warren S. Hills, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Salisbury and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Salisbury.

In Training Child, Forbid But Don't Command, Myers Says

"Don't" Is More Important Than "Do," Despite Popular Opinion To Contrary

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Department Parent Education Cleveland College, Western Reserve University.

EVERY NOW and then, after someone has heard me air my views on teaching the young child the meaning of "No," he volunteers: "I certainly agree with you. When I tell my child to do something, she must do it or take the consequences." Perhaps the child is only three or four years old.

Often such a parent is otherwise very intelligent. But on this subject he had missed my point. I had only discussed keeping the little child from doing a specific act clearly forbidden. I had said nothing about making him do something. Between the two situations the difference is about as wide as the Atlantic and although I am constantly astonished by remarks which indicate them as belonging side by side, even as one and the same.

Dr. Garry C. Myers

Most parents asking about obedience have in mind getting the child to do promptly what he is told to do—to run an errand, to prepare for dinner, to wash the dishes.

We would get along much better with our children if we ruled such matters from our concept of obedience, and considered only things forbidden in this category. Sometimes the child should be told not to do this or that, for his safety, for the protection of property, for the welfare of others.

Repeatedly we read and hear, "Never say DON'T; say DO." My advice is more disastrous, if followed literally. Far wiser would it be to advise, "Never say DO and DON'T; but rarely say DON'T."

A little physical pain applied to the child of two or three, following a specific act that should not be repeated, may keep him permanently from doing it again. But no amount of pain will suffice to coerce him to do what he doesn't want to do. One vigorous slap on his bare fat thighs may deter him forever from this act thereafter. But if you should command this same child to pick up a block when he had decided not to do so, he might continue to refuse compliance, though you should almost beat him to death. The animal trainer long since has discovered this difference; few parents have, it seems.

Setting the stage to win the child's co-operation will induce him happily to pick up the block, or do almost anything else within reason.

Practical experience demands that children learn to do a few things they are told to do. But the wise parent rarely tells the child under three or four to do anything. She makes requests, instead, after preparing him emotionally to co-operate. She will exercise infinite patience and refuse unreasonable requests. This is to do what she wants him to do. Then her baby won't be stubborn. And the better she wins his co-operation, the fewer occasions she will have to say "No" or "Don't." She will be building for the future when she rarely will have to make commands at all.

Dance Attracts Guests From Both Married And School Sets

A dance which attracted guests from the school set as well as from the married groups in Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills was held at the Fox and Hounds Inn Wednesday evening of last week under auspice of the Altar Society of the Holy Name Chapel.

Mrs. Charles E. Brady was general chairman of the affair, which was well attended. Among those entertaining before the dance were Miss Harriet Flannery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Flannery of Bloomfield Hills, who was hostess at a dinner for 20 guests, and Miss Virginia Moore, who entertained 10 guests at dinner at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Moore of "Red Oaks," Bloomfield Hills.

Noted among the guests and dancers were Mr. and Mrs. Brady, Mrs. Theodore F. MacManus, Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Price, Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Hammond, Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Connelly, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Partlan, Mr. and Mrs. Flannery, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Blake, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Stillman, C. M. Richey, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Vernon, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce A. Swaney, and Dr. and Mrs. C. F. Lawler.

Among the junior dancers were noted the Misses Harriet Flannery, Carolyn Eaton, Caryl Collins, Betsy Crawford, Lois Sutton, Jane Fowler, Dorothy Herbst, Olive Cross, Denise Fahey, Helen MacManus, Betty Brady, Betty Vinton, Mary Tomlinson, Janet Hart, Doris Schmeyer, Charlotte Moore, Virginia Moore, Elaine Ranney, Elaine Babcock, Evelyn Sutton, Becky Jane Tomlinson, Patricia Partlan, Frances Veit, and Mary Starr.

Also John Chick, Bill Lerchen, Ted Hammond, Jim Tomlinson, Lyle Lawler, Bob Newton, Jack Gilray, Joseph Braun, Jr., Julian Braun, Jack Sitta, Ralph Price, Bob Savage, Bill Wright, Dick Dalbeshien, Harvey Whaley, Bill Moss, Harry Collins, Dick Combes, Charles Lawler, Jr., Stanley Turner, Howard Rohrer and James Humphrey.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Grans of Waddington road plan to spend the week-end at their cottage at Port Burwell, Ont.

Mrs. R. E. Clayton of Oakland avenue returned Wednesday from New York City where she joined Mrs. Clayton for the week-end and holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred Woodruff have returned from California, where they have been sojourning since September, and have taken up their residence until Oct. 11 at 540 Hawthorne road.

How Many Tricks Can East Win With Perfect Defense?

RATHER than support his partner's major suit declaration upon 3 small trumps, the possessor of a very powerful minor suit sometimes feels impelled to jump into an immediate game, as was done below.

	♠ Q J 7 2 ♥ 10 6 ♦ 7 4 2 ♣ Q 8 3 2
♠ A K 8 4 ♥ A J 7 2 ♦ A K 10 5 ♣ 9	North West East South	♠ 9 5 2 ♥ 8 4 3 ♦ None ♣ A K J 10 7 6 4
	♠ 10 6 ♥ K Q 9 5 ♦ Q J 9 8 6 3 ♣ 5

Bidding went: West, 1-Spade, not feeling quite strong enough for a forcing bid; East, 4-Clubs; West, 5-No Trumps; East 6-Clubs; West, Pass. The opening lead was the K of hearts. How many tricks can be won against perfect defense?

Dummy's Ace of hearts won the first trick. The 9 of clubs was led. North played low, and so did East. He had to finesse with 5 trumps against him, and his chances for fulfilling his small slam contract appeared small. Apparently a spade and a trump must be lost.

When the 9 of clubs held the trick the declarer gained entry to his hand by trumping a low diamond led from dummy. Upon the lead of the Ace of clubs, South discarded a low diamond. Dummy trumped with the 10 of clubs. At the end of the tenth trick the players held the cards shown below, with the declarer in the lead.

	♠ Q ♥ Q 8
♠ 8 4 ♥ 10		♠ 2 ♥ K J ♦ Q ♣ Q J

All the declarer had to do to win the two trump tricks was to give the holder of the high spade a trick. It made no difference who held that spade, nor what he led back. North must play to the twelfth trick before East did, and the declarer could not fail to win the last two tricks, just giving him his 12 tricks bid.
