D'MOLAYS TO MARK DAY OF FOUNDING

Hasbarger Chapter To Join Others Of Metropolitan District In Celebration

The 14th anniversary of the founding of the Order of DeMolay will be observed at DeLoays Tuesday evening when chapters of the Metropolitan District, including the Hasbarger Chapter of Birmingham, will hold a joint meeting.

Refreshments and a program of vaudeville have been planned. Hasbarger's seven-piece orchestra will take part in the latter. The Birmingham delegation will leave for the Masonic Temple here at 7 P. M.

WE HEARD IT SAID BY— Fire Chief Vernon W. Griffith. The fire department fought two of the smokiest fires of the year four days prior to the latest fire, and the firemen took more smoke and accomplished more at the Lawson fire than I thought was humanly possible under the adverse conditions of that particular day.

The second annual convale of Oakland County DeMolays will be held at the Birmingham Masonic Temple Mar. 28, when the Hasbarger Chapter will be hosts to other chapters from Pontiac and Royal Oak. A banquet at 6:30 P. M. will precede the program, and all three chapters will take part in conferring the masonry and DeMolay degrees.

And unusual odors which hampered firemen and finally forced them to leave the building to fight the fire. When it became evident that flooding the entire house would be the means of containing the flames, firemen began covering furniture upstairs with salvage covers. For them to work inside, considerable furniture downstairs, except that in the kitchen, was removed from the building.

The ventilation problem, which has been a serious difficulty, and which was aggravated by numerous small gables which kept the fire burning, was not solved until about an hour later when the main roof collapsed and the volume of the smoke and heat were able to escape.

With the constant play of eight hoses, the fire was kept under control at about 3 P. M., when the firemen entered the house again and later to carry down furniture from upstairs.

Smoke, Gas Hinder An insulating material which covered the walls and roof, and which contained a considerable proportion of glue, barked like tinder, giving off a dense smoke.

Concluded 3 from Page 1) with Reinsteins' "Serenaphic Song" arranged by Samuel Gaines. This number, familiar to Birmingham musical audiences and always popular, proved to be the favorite of the concert. The solo work of Mrs. Imogene Davis, contralto of the First Presbyterian Church, was especially notable and worthy. Frederick As Proctor, director, and Mrs. Vera Tugay, accompanist, deserve much of the credit for the outstanding work of the chorus.—C. U.

Mr. Martin has been connected with the Parks Coal Company since July 1927. C. G. Parks, 555 1/2 First street, the manager of the company, is Mr. Hardin's father-in-law. Mr. Hardin came to Birmingham from Big Beaver, where five years ago he was principal of Big Beaver school.

Concluded 5 from Page 1) Ernest A. Buttraw, new commander of the Post. The Post is proud of its new home, in it believes to be the finest clubhouse in the city. A considerable amount of furniture and equipment has been presented by friends who have been anxious to help. For these gifts, as well as for the others we may receive, the Post wishes to thank the public and express its appreciation for their support and cooperation it has shown.

15-DAY EXTENSION GRANTED MOTORISTS Hundreds of drivers in Birmingham and vicinity who had not yet purchased their 1933 auto-licensing plates received a sign of relief late yesterday when they learned that Secretary of State Frank Fitzgerald had approved a resolution passed by the State Legislature extending the deadline for purchase of the plates to an ending Mar. 31. Thousands of motorists here, then cast tied up in closed banks, had looked forward to storing their cars until the end of the banking holiday, or to running the risk of arrest, which possibility had been threatened before the new 15-day extension was granted.

CITY MANAGER WILL ADDRESS MEN'S CLUB James W. Parry, city manager will be the speaker at a regular meeting of the Men's Club of the First Presbyterian Church to be held in the church parlors tonight. He will speak on city affairs.

THEATER MANAGER'S WIFE GETS DIVORCE Charles H. Howard, manager of the Birmingham Theater, with becoming infatuated with his first wife, Mrs. Charlotte Holsh, was granted a divorce Friday in Circuit Court. The couple was married on July 3, 1923, and was separated Nov. 1, 1932. They have no children. Mrs. Holsh has given a permanent alimony order for $250 until further order of the court.

WE HEARD IT SAID BY—

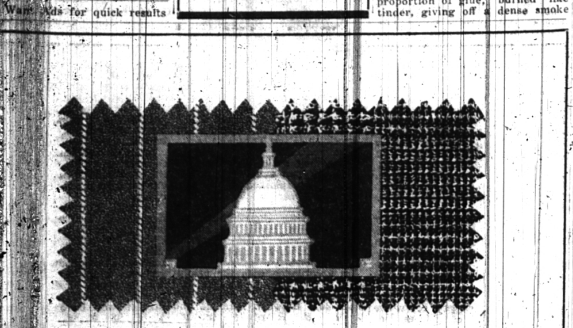

Harry Allen, village president: "Balancing the Federal Government's budget would accomplish more in the way of restoring business confidence than any other one thing of which I am conscious. The President acted promptly and courageously in asking Congress to reduce the annual expenditure by half a billion dollars. Conceivably, those congressmen who voted against the bill to accomplish this reduction have an adequate explanation for their votes. Lacking such explanation, their action neither indicates weakness, courage, nor patriotism."

Township after a short illness. She was 40 years old. Burial will be in Franklin Cemetery.

Mrs. Spicer was born in Southfield Township and had lived there and in Novi all her life until a year ago when the family moved to Commerce Township.

Surviving besides the husband are two sons, Howard W. Jr., and Lloyd Dale, and three daughters, Mrs. Lee Campbell, Mrs. John A. and Mrs. Emma King, all of Birmingham, and 13 great-grandchildren. A brother, Dossie King of Ford City, Mich. Services Monday were held at 2 P. M. from Mrs. King's residence, 104 North Union Street, for her funeral in Commerce.

EVERY U.S. DOLLAR IS AS GOOD AS GOLD HERE

No advance in prices as long as our present stocks last

We have faith in the United States, in the leadership of its President; in the soundness of its currency. While we believe that the great business revival which seems imminent means higher prices for all raw materials, we pledge ourselves not to advance prices of clothes, hats and furnishings on merchandise we bought on the old basis. This is our contribution to what we hope will be a general movement to restore the buying power of producers, wage earners and salaried people, and give them the first fruits of the new era of prosperity.
