The Ambulance Down In The Woodman, Pare That Tree!

The trouble is that the tree is too large, and the ambulance can't get close enough to it. So the tree must be cut down, and then the ambulance can get closer. The tree is alive, and it must be left alone. The ambulance can't stop at the tree, and it must wait until the tree is cut down. The tree is too large, and the ambulance can't get close enough to it.
