THURSDAY, MARCH 30, 1933

Vote Here Next Monday: Next Monday, April 3, is election day in Birmingham. On that date you are invited to cast your vote upon matters affecting both the State of Michigan and the City of Birmingham.

Capital Punishment Again: What have the opponents of capital punishment done to stop murder in this state? Ask Harry Campbell, an expert on the subject.

Reporters Are Muzzled: Schuyler L. Marshall, St. Johns publisher, told Pontiac Lions Club last week that Lansing correspondents of the large city newspapers are unable to get accurate dispatches into the columns of their respective newspapers.

Justice Court: To the Editor: In your issue of last night we have heard considerable comment and criticism regarding a portion of the report of the Municipal Court.

Justice of the Peace: The office of Justice of the Peace of the Municipal Court is an entirely new office created by our city charter.

Old Words Staging: Pretzels, Handheld Moustaches, Shoehorns, Bartenders, 31 gallon kegs.

One Good Prospect: A spreader of gloom was just in the office telling us that things were going to be a lot worse before they are better.

De Sweeties' Music: There was a lot of pounding upon the door of the Howery House in the early part of the week.

Returned Prosperity: Thursday marked the turn in American events. Prosperity headed west and we are now on the broad way to boom days.

Our Son, Too: When you see a little son look like this, the eyes are mine, the nose is mine, the mouth is mine, the feet are mine.

A Good Estate: Judge: And why do you think should be lenient with you? Is this your first offense?

God'll Walk Into Your Life

If there seems to be too much of this old world toppling about your head, if you have lost all or much of your money in closed banks, if you are without a job, or in danger of losing the one you have, if your business is losing ground every day, and it seems that the sheriff is only a brief stay off—what do you intend to do about it, anyway? Bullies, potions, or high buildings? ... Don't be foolish, good friend, you can't find your God by choosing that method to get away from man! But we'll make a suggestion to you—like to hear it? Then it is this: spend 10 minutes each day right down on your knees in humble prayer to God's solution for your problems. If you don't know how to pray, if your high tremble and your eyes mist in a blind effort to communicate with a God about Whom you've forgotten in your busy life of accumulating money, just drop to your knees, anyway. You don't have to say a word audibly; you don't have to fashion nice little phrases to your Maker; all you have to do is kneel upon the altar of your own humility with prayerful desire in your heart, with pledges of purity in your thought, and God'll walk right into your life. ... But they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk, and not faint. —Isaiah, 40:31

Preserve Free Speech!

During the past few weeks, when the nation's banking structure has been in a practical shambles, you have seen how difficult it has been for many newspapers to ascertain the real truth of every situation. In some cases, newspapers have, because of business connections, failed to live up to their journalistic responsibilities. But add to the present situation that of an absolute governmental control of the press of this country, and you will readily see how helpless you would be under the rule of an oppressor-ruling class in this nation. God help the United States if it fails to preserve the Constitutional right of free speech and free press!

Dillman Deserves Support

When you go to the polls next Monday, April 3, among the various candidates you will find listed on the ballot the name of GROVER C. DILLMAN, Republican candidate for re-election to State Highway Commissioner. The Eccentric suggests that you vote for him, especially if you are one who feels that honesty and ability are qualifications for public office. Mr. Dillman has been connected with the State Highway Department for the last 20 years, starting in as an ordinary roadman. For 16 years he worked in every department, finally being promoted to Chief Engineer, Rogers, known and beloved by all. When Mr. Rogers resigned over four years ago, Mr. Dillman was appointed to succeed him, and has held the office since, reflecting great credit upon himself and the State of Michigan.

The publisher of this newspaper has been able to print a great many public officials in and out of Michigan, and it is not given during recent years to the making of undeserved praise about every Tom, Dick, and Harry who aspires to political preferment. But when it comes to offering a personal tribute to such a chap as Mr. Dillman we have no hesitancy whatsoever. So we heartily suggest that you give Mr. Dillman your sincere consideration next Monday.

Murray D. (Pat) in Warren, Oakland County Democrat who is opposing Mr. Dillman for the State office, is a fine chap, but with not a fraction of the experience possessed by Mr. Dillman. "Pat" is our present Drain Commissioner here, elected first two years ago—the only Democrat elected in the County there, and he supported him, too.

But for that office in Lansing, where broad experience is needed more here than ever, we believe Mr. Dillman to be the best man for the job.

Reporters Are Muzzled

Schuyler L. Marshall, St. Johns publisher, told Pontiac Lions Club last week that Lansing correspondents of the large city newspapers are unable to get accurate dispatches into the columns of their respective newspapers. He said that the "papers are muzzled," meaning that some of the publishers are more profit minded than they are journalistic-service minded. (Well, we agree with Mr. Marshall. In fact, we were present at a meeting when the subject was under discussion recently, and offered our own observations in the matter. (Actually politicians know that what Marshall says is perfectly true in many, many cases, and so the same politicians are able to continue "fooling the paying public.")

Justice Court

To the Editor: In your issue of last night we have heard considerable comment and criticism regarding a portion of the report of the Municipal Court.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

The Eccentric is pleased to receive communications for this column. All communications must be signed, but signatures need not be printed. Letters must be limited to 500 words, and must be in the office by Tuesday noon for publication the following Thursday.

PROHIBITION

From one to five hundred dollars. Likewise under the township justice court system the justice was limited in the fines to the sum of one hundred dollars while under both charter this power has been increased to five hundred dollars. This is another important difference between township justice and township justice to grant new trials and settle judgments upon proper grounds. Such power was not granted to the township justice and is treated and vested solely by voters of the charter.

RAISES LEVISON

Having read the letter written by Mr. Levison as well as the editorial regarding the candidacy of Mr. Levison for justice of the peace, we are of the opinion that he might add something to it. Mr. Levison is extremely capable and conscientious, and is respected by the people of Birmingham. During the past year Mr. Levison, former township justice, by his application to his duties as township justice of the City of Birmingham, has saved the city thousands of dollars. He represents a new type of public official. His vigorous action will serve the public with loyalty and efficiency.

ALLY OOP!

NO WORK NO FAIR ECONOMIC PROVISION

The "Big Shots" Say:

Norman H. Davis, American delegate, Geneva Disarmament Conference: "During the last year it has become more evident to France that armaments do not give security."

Edward M. House, adviser to the late President Wilson: "If we wish to continue our capitalist civilization, we must make it less selfish and broader in its general scope."

Henry T. Rainey, Democratic floor leader in the House: "There is no need of additional income taxes or sales taxes."

Robert E. Sterling, editor, The Northwestern Miller: "The American farmers' troubles are the result of worldwide economic disturbance surpassing the effect of all man-made laws."

JOHN E. MARTZ, MARY ALLEN, STUART W. HILL, CHARLES E. LEWIS, OLIVER H. KIRK

FROM THE ECCENTRIC COLUMNS—of Long Ago

Rite Of News Gleaned From Old Files Of The Eccentric—The Items That Strike Up The Historical Background Of The Birmingham Eccentric.

FIFTY YEARS AGO: For sale at a bargain, one nearly new No. 8 cook stove with new envoir and warmer complete. Any one desiring such a stove with or without furniture will do well to call on J. Last at Slade's office at the depot.

Birmingham now supports a juvenile brass band and by the assistance of a few of our citizens, they have rented a room and gone to work in the right way. We predict a prosperous future for the young men, if our citizens will only help them in order to get a start. What is a place without a band?

$20 BIBLEICAL REWARD: The publishers of Rutledge's Monthly offer twelve valuable rewards in their Monthly for April, among which is the following: We will give $20 in gold to the person telling us of a prize for a horse in the Old Testament Scriptures by April 16, 1883. Should the donor's name be given, we will receive the reward will be divided.

Seeds in bulk and in papers at Corson's. Uncle Billy Williamson lost his horse recently and he wants to buy a good sound young horse. He lives near the Irish church.

There is no need of additional income taxes or sales taxes. The New York state association of brewers and maltsters has passed a resolution denouncing lobbying in the legislature, and at the same time resolved not to spend money to purchase legislation.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO: There are many district schools whose grounds are bare, treeless and unimproved. For example, the best there is in a child with such surroundings. Plant trees and flowers. Summers coming? Charles J. Shain opened the ice cream soda business Wednesday of this week.
