WELFARE POLICIES OF CITY ATTACKED

Commission Hears Complaint On Hiring Of Non-Resident Investigator

City poor relief policies and water rates were subjects of attack at the Commission meeting Monday night by John Skler, 183 West Brown street, who berated city officials for a half hour in a brisk but good-natured argument.

"You can't build walls around towns and cities," Skler said. "You can't build walls around towns and cities."

At the time, the city appointed by the governor to study and report on the water rates and services at his place, but with the admission of Michigan to statehood, the governor in 1836, the law provided for four justices for each town, one to serve for one year each, one to be elected annually.
