Hills' Chapel Scene Of Nuptials When Miss Braun Becomes Bride

In the soft glow of cathedral candles in the Chapel-St. Hugo of the Hills, Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock, Miss Virginia Braun, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Braun of Bloomfield Hills, and Robert C. Leland, son of Mrs. Virginia G. Leland of Detroit, spoke their marriage vows.

The Rev. William W. Ryan presided over the nuptial rite before the altar which was flanked with Madonna lilies, cyclidium ferns and palms, and lighted by tall stained-glass bearing lighted candles. The ceremony was attended by a small gathering of relatives and friends.

Miss Braun, who entered the church on the arm of her father, wore a bridal gown of ivory satin fashioned along princess lines, with a cape of Venetian Pointe lace falling gracefully over the bodice and forming a high neckline. The sleeves were a quaint combination of ruffles of lace to the elbow over wide, tight-fitting satin cuffs. The full tulle veil, which extended in soft folds over the train, was held in place by a cap of Venetian Pointe lace, caught at the back by a delicate lace butterfly and strands of seed pearls. Completing the bridal costume was an arm bouquet of Madonna lilies tied with satin ribbon, with gardenias attached to each of the streaming ends.

A matron of honor, Mrs. William F. Blake, Jr., sister of the bride, was strikingly gowned in pale pink mousseline de soie over deep pink satin, with a small pink hairband hat trimmed with match-

Miss Hill, singing ribbon. She carried an arm bouquet of Johanna Hill roses tied with pink maline.

Another bride, Miss Josephine Braun, served as bridesmaid, wearing a model fashioned similarly to that of the matron of honor. Miss Braun's gown shaded from deep pink into peach. She carried an arm bouquet of Madonna lilies.

The remainder of the bridal party included James Shannon, who acted as best man; Julius Rochelton, Raymond Watson and Joseph A. Braun, Jr., who served as ushers.

For the occasion, Mrs. Braun selected a gown of rose-gray crepe made with a three-quarter length coat and worn with a straw hat in a matching shade. Mrs. Leland was attired in black and white crepe with a small black hat. Both mothers wore orchids in shoulder bouquets.

After the wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony at the church. Roses and ferns were used in the decoration of the room for the event. Centering the altar was a large arrangement of white Spanish iris.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland left by motor for a wedding journey through Canada. Later in May, they will be at home in Birmingham.

Musicals To Give Concert And Sing

For the musically inclined in Birmingham followed by community singing as well as a concert program, the Thursday Musicals are under its auspices at the Community House Monday, May 22, at 8 P. M.

The program will include vocal solos by Miss Laurence Clark, piano solos by Mrs. Phyllis Clark and a group of numbers by the chorus of the Thursday Musicals.

Following the program, community singing will be led by Walter E. Fellow, accompanied by Carl Rupp. Invitation is extended to the public and no admission will be charged.

Community Dance Proves Popular Event

More than 200 guests attended the old-fashioned dance held at the Community House Tuesday evening as the second in a series of dances, sponsored by the House.

Because of the success of the first two, a third dance will be held at the House Friday, June 2, it was announced. Mrs. Fred W. Johnson and Julius Westphal, who acted as joint chairmen of the arrangements for the first two dances, will also be in charge of plans for the third.

The object of the dances is to offer those interested an opportunity to attend an informal party where both modern and old-fashioned dances are popular. Cards and refreshments are also features of these occasions.

The long table where the supper was served in buffet style, was spread with red and white cloths and decorated with large brass bowls of flowers and spring flowers placed at each end, flanked by sandalwood bearing red and white papers.

Among those entertaining prior to the dance were Mrs. and Mr. Johnson, Mrs. and Mr. Westphal, Mrs. and Mr. Rupp, Mrs. and Mr. H. H. Gardner of Assen road.

Those attending the pot-luck dinner at the home of Mrs. and Mr. Watt included Mrs. and Mrs. Bernard L. Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Guest, Mr. and Mrs. J. Edgar Harvey, Mrs. and Mrs. Maney, Miss Edith King, and Edithman Hathaway.

Mrs. and Mr. Gardner had as their dinner guests Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Soderberg.

Kingswood School Will Give May Teas

Invitations have been issued to friends and patrons of Kingswood School Cranbrook to attend a series of teas which will be held at the school from 2 to 3 o'clock on three successive Saturdays, May 20 and 27. These affairs are included in a series of events planned to give those interested an opportunity to visit the school and inspect exhibits of arts and crafts work which will be on display.

At the initial tea on Saturday, guests will be conducted on a tour of inspection through the school where student work in ceramics, weaving, costume design, painting, interior decoration and bookbinding will be shown.

On Sunday, May 14, the students will entertain their parents at tea from 3 until 5 o'clock. Among the hostesses and honor guests on this occasion will be Mrs. George G. Booth, Mrs. Elsie Sargent, Mrs. S. S. Marquill, Mrs. Warren, Mrs. and Mrs. Albert Kiffin, Mrs. Betty C. Hill, Miss Alice Lloyd, Miss Sarah Shuman, Mrs. John W. Walling, Mrs. William T. Barber, Mrs. William E. Rice, Mrs. E. J. White and Mrs. Joseph F. Page.

As a feature of the tea on May 14, the drama and music department will present a play entitled "The Children's Crusade of the Twelfth Century" in the historic of the school campus. The costumes for the pageant have been designed and executed by the students of the school.

Figuring prominently in the cast, which includes about 40 students, are Misses Mary and Louise Donald, Jane Delaney, Kathleen Lovelace, and Joan Muzay of the Kingswood School. Miss Louise Vines of Palmer Woods, Misses Nancy of Miami, Miss Margery of Assen road and Janet Johnson of Bay City.
