Mothers Enjoy Freedom As Children Play At Nursery

Mothers directed by Miss Mary Latham, were given the opportunity of furnishing it to attract the attention of the prospective small customers for the year.

At the suggestion of Miss Grimmes, the committee collected colored paints and some gay flowered material for simple upholstery. From these they skilfully devised a table and chairs, a high-backed settee, and a dainty vanity, which they painted in orange and green and other bright harmonizing shades.

The chairs were made more comfortable by seats of cretonne, and the vanity adorned with full skirts of the favored material.

As one enters the nursery, with its many windows and its bright, diminutive furnishings, it has the appearance of a sun room designed for the comfort of Little Misses.

There is also a piano which provides music for marionette games and there are toys to interest both boys and girls, with a checkboard for those who like to test their skill with chalk.

In the course of the afternoon the children are given alternate periods of rest and supervised play, with rhythm work and dramatization.

The plan of the Service League is to open the nursery a second afternoon each week if there is sufficient call for it among mothers. Mrs. Mann explained.

We are also having the next to the Community House committee. Boy Scouts for outdoor play through the summer.

We hope to fill a long-felt need through the nursery, not only to afford mothers definite hours for recreation but to give the children the benefit of contact with others of their own age, confined with nursery school experience.

Besides Miss Latham and Miss Grimmes on the committee are Mrs. Ruth Pratt and Miss Marian Fowler.
