

Banker of the Old School Heads Wabeek State Bank

Judson's Reputation Rests
On Long Experience
In Detroit

The president of the new Wabeek State Bank is a man who probably fits the picture, called up by the phrase "a banker of the old school" as well as anyone in Michigan. And a banker of the old school he is—though not, by any means, an old man—with a record of experience and achievement that is the envy of many in Detroit banking circles.

George B. Judson

For seven years Mr. Judson was president of the old Bank of Detroit, and later was senior vice-president of the Guardian National Bank of Commerce, Detroit. In both positions he succeeded in building up a justifiable reputation for adherence to the best of banking principles and honest policies.

He has known Senator James Couzens for more than 20 years, and has been closely identified with him in business for the past 15 years. Mr. Judson was the guiding genius in the organization of the Wabeek State Bank.

Affable, courteous and eminently fair, he bids well to become immediately popular and highly respected with the patrons of Birmingham's new state bank.

BANK INTERIOR MODERNISTIC

Complete Equipment And Attractive Furnishings
Are Features

Complete modern equipment, and attractive, modernistic furnishings sound the keynote of the interior of the new Wabeek State Bank.

The woodwork will be finished in walnut, and the fixtures will be of bronze, the entire effect to be one distinctly modernistic.

The quarters include a room on the ground floor of the Wabeek Building, at the west of the central lobby about 58 feet long and 34 feet wide, and a second-floor room just above it, about 44 by 26 feet. The downstairs room, which will have two entrances, will be devoted to banking and officers' space, and the upstairs room to bookkeeping and filing departments.

There will be six tellers' cages, but no safety deposit boxes, at least for the present. The vault, which is one of the most recent in design and structure, is located on the second floor. It is equipped with a special microphone apparatus for sounding burglar alarms, and the entire bank is carefully wired against attempts to hold it up or burglarize it.

The bank's quarters, both downstairs and upstairs, are entirely closed off from the remainder of the building by fire walls.

The banking rooms were remodelled from two stores on the ground floor and a part of the offices of the Wabeek Corporation on the second floor. The remodeling was done by A. C. Wernish and Son, contractors, and the architectural design and equipment were furnished by Robert Kelly.

Dickinson's

Men's Shop

WABEEK BUILDING

There is no difference between a ten dollar bill and a one dollar bill when you consider them as paper and ink.

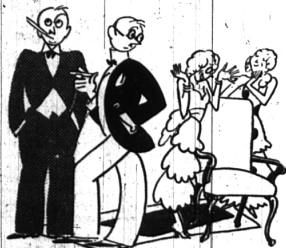

It's what's behind them which gives them their relative importance, and so it is with men's wear stores. We began building a background for really smart clothes many seasons ago. Anyone can call clothing smart, but it takes expert delineation and a fund of knowing to present clothes that are truly smart in the manner the well-dressed man knows.

Fashion-wise young men appreciate those details in both clothing and furnishings which exactly express to the manner born. If you like authentically styled, fairly priced, smart things to wear, this will be your store—sooner or later.

May we hope it will be sooner?

Very Truly Yours,

A. W. DICKINSON.
