

BLOOMFIELD SCHOOL FORMS RIFLE CLUB

Charles Matheson has been elected president of a newly organized rifle club for boys of the ninth and 10th grades at Bloomfield Hills School on Vaughn road. Other officers are Bill Hawden, vice-president, and John Saunders, secretary-treasurer.

The club will meet twice each week. One meeting will be held each Wednesday during the regular activity period, while a weekly shoot will be held on the Why-sail rifle range every Friday.

CRANBROOK TEAM WINS

Shows Power in Beating City College Yearlings, 25 To 2

A powerful Cranbrook School eleven decisively outplayed the Detroit City College Freshman team at Cranbrook Field Friday afternoon, winning by a score of 25 to 2.

The game started off poorly for the Blue and Gray when James, star Crane fullback, was forced to fall on the ball behind his own goal line in a bad pass from center in the first quarter, scoring a safety for the visitors.

The Cranes found themselves early in the second quarter, however, and scored their first touchdown on a pass from James to Eddy. After this kick, Pattengill returned the kick-off 50 yards, and a few minutes later, following a successful passing attack, Pattengill slipped through right guard and over the goal line for the second touchdown. The extra point was scored on a pass from James to Metzger.

Pattengill accounted for another touchdown in the second half on an end run after James had put the ball in scoring position by returning a punt through practically the entire City College team. Gilray made the extra point on a line plunge.

Another brilliant return of a punt by James also paved the way for Cranbrook's fourth and last touchdown, which was scored on a pass.

The lineups follow:

Cranbrook	City College
Metzger	LT Powers
Lovett	LT George
Deane	LT Bennett
Beaudette	C Hainel
Osban	RG Boston
McKemie	RT Osterger
Eddy	RE Peplins
Blake	QB Galt
Pattengill	LH Hardenbut

Mapes Beat Mt. Clemens

Mapes Rally In Last Quarter

Score Three Touchdowns In Fourth Period For 19 to 12 Victory Over Bath City Team

By DEAN BEIER

Mapes had been pressing inside the field Mt. Clemens ten-seconds game. Schwartz tossed a pass to Guy Howard over the goal line after Guckelberg's second touchdown, adding an extra point to the Maple total.

Maroon Offense Stopped

For nearly three quarters the Maroon attack was stopped nearly dead, and it was late in the third period before the locals got the ball inside their opponents' 20-yard line.

The Maroons, however, both out-punted and out-passed the Mt. Clemens team. The passing combination of Schwartz at quarterback and Fred Boynton at end contributed greatly to the Maroon offense. The Maroon's seven completed passes netted them 76 yards as compared with 28 yards gained on five passes completed by Mt. Clemens. Only three of the Baldwin passes were incomplete, while 12 of those tossed by the Red and Gray remained uncaught. The locals netted 213 yards on seven punts, while the same number for the Bathers totaled 192.

Neither team was complete in the first quarter and the ball got no closer to the goal than the 25-yard line on either end of the field.

In the second period, on a series of line plays which gained them three first downs, the locals marched from midfield to the 30-yard line. In three plays, they passed around and around the line, and on the six-yard line, Steffe, Maple fullback, proved to be only delaying the first one of the Bathers, for after three line plays had placed the ball where only a yard remained between end and goal line, Schlutz, fullback, toted it over. In trying for the extra point, Mial's place kick was good.

Schultz Scores Again

Again in the third quarter, Schultz was called on to plunge over all touchdowns, this time from the five-yard mark. Again the Bather's attempt for the extra point, this time on a pass over the line, was unsuccessful.

Then the Maples began to play a brand of football that brought local supporters to their feet with roars of encouragement. On three passes, which gained them a total of 30 yards, the locals brought the ball to the Mt. Clemens 19-yard line. Coach M. W. Robinson then sent in orders for Dick Forster, hefty Maroon line man who has been occupying the center position, to enter the Baldwin backfield. Four driving line plays followed, and in the fourth quarter, he ploughed through for three yards. With the Mt. Clemens defense set for another line smash, Quarterback Schwartz sent Guckelberg around left end for the first Maple touchdown. Forster missed the place kick.

Another passing attack started the Maples on their second touchdown march. A 21-yard toss from Schwartz to Boynton brought the 12 yards to the 23-yard marker. After McBride had picked up 12 yards on off-tackle plays, Guckelberg again crossed the line for a touchdown. The Schwartz-to-Howard pass brought the extra point.

McBride Breaks Loss

Later in the period, after the Maroons had been awarded the ball on their own 42-yard line, McBride broke loose and with some fine interference on the part of the entire team, and raced over the goal line in the longest run of the game.

Game statistics show that each team made 11 first downs. Mt. Clemens getting seven in the first half and Birmingham five. The Bathers lost 40 yards on penalties and the Maples 25.

Friday's game, marking the renewal of football relations with Mt. Clemens, which were severed in 1929, was the third straight victory for the Maroons this season. Hazel Park and Grosse Pointe were the previous victims.

The lineups for Friday's game follow:

Birmingham	Mt. Clemens
Boydton	Stout
Clark	LT (c) Capony
R. Forster	LG Matthews
Cushing	C Campau
Ridder	RG Dennison
W. Forster	RT Wright
Howard	RE Smith
Schwartz	QB Pinnel
McBride (c)	LT (c) Galt
W. Guckelberg	RB Murphy
Steffe	FB Schluetz

WAS YOUR STOVE MODERN

when pompadours were in style?

Perhaps you don't realize that stoves have changed as much as women's styles—that a modern range today will do things old-fashioned stoves would never do. For example, a modern electric range makes the scouring of pots and pans unnecessary; there is no smoke or soot to blacken utensils or soil kitchen walls and curtains. An electric range supplies only PURE HEAT from a glowing wire—heat as clean as sunlight. A modern range, too, cooks practically without water. Half-a-cup is ample for vegetables, and the precious minerals and food values that you pay for are retained, instead of being lost in steam or poured down the sink, when the cooking is finished. And finally, electric cooking SEALS-IN flavor meats and vegetables cook to melting tenderness in their own juices. There is practically no shrinkage in roasts, and foods cooked electrically have a flavor surpassingly delicious—a natural flavor achieved by no other cooking method. Foods not only taste better but are more healthful.

You can own a new Waldor-Electrochef electric range for $89.50, installed and ready to cook.

Modernize your entire kitchen by installing a new electric range.

STUDENT CHATTER

THE CHATTERBOX

A new fad has struck the students of Baldwin High School. Several of them, mostly girls, have taken notebooks and on top of each page written the name of some student or teacher. These books are then passed around and under each person's name is written what the various students think of that person.

Comments under the names of students range from "nice kid" to "wheat too much" and "sucker for blind dates." Written under the names of teachers are such appraisals as "generally absent minded" and "sure makes you work."

Many students are thus finding out all about themselves. (You columnist tried this and was his face red?)

MAPLE RESERVES LOSE 3RD IN ROW

Royal Oak Seconds Convert Two Passes Into Touchdowns For 13-0 Victory

The reserve football eleven of Royal Oak handed the Baldwin seconds their third defeat of the season Tuesday afternoon at Royal Oak. The final score was 13 to 0.

Both of the Acorn scores were the direct results of forward passes, one intercepted and the other completed. In the second quarter the winners completed a pass to McKemie in Gidon, the latter catching it over the 30-yard line and scampering the remaining yardage for a touchdown.

Hart, Baldwin back, made the longest gain of the game when he received the Acorn kickoff in the last quarter on the five-yard line and ran back to the middle of the field.

The Baldwin reserves will engage in their fourth contest Monday afternoon at Pierce Field. The foe will be the Berkeley second stringers.

Baldwin Students To Publish Paper

Temporary Staff Named For New 10-Page Mimeo-graphed Publication

Organization plans are now under way for a new publication for Baldwin High School students. If present plans develop, the paper, which will be named in a few weeks, will consist of 10 mimeographed pages, to be published each week.

Officials of the staff as elected and appointed last week are: Editor, Louise Otterman, associate editor, Fred Cushing, business manager, Frank Savage, advertising manager, and Mary Joanne Weittel, circulation manager. These officers are temporary, but a complete and permanent staff will be named in the near future.

The new paper will be the third that Baldwin students have published. The Maroons and the Cranes, which served as the official paper for several years, suspended publication two years ago because of financial conditions. The viewpoint, which was privately financed by two Baldwin students, and appeared several times last year, also was unable to make a go of it. Both were printed publications.

Because it will be mimeographed instead of printed, the new paper will be published at less expense than the two previous publications, and both advertising and subscription rates will be reduced accordingly.

Vida B. McGiffin, who acted as faculty adviser to the staff of the other papers, will serve in the same capacity for the new one. It is expected the first issue will make its appearance within the next week.

GRADE STUDENTS GIVE ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

The first of a series of elementary assembly programs was given at the Bloomfield Hills School Monday afternoon to the fourth grade students. Jack Lane acted as chairman. Those who took part in the program included Raymond Dennis, Shirley Craig, Pat Daniels, Harold Pickering, Gene Stevens, Virginia Adams, and Richard Wilson.

DEAR CHATTERBOX:

I have a point to raise concerning the new five-period day that has been a topic of discussion among us students since the new plan was adopted. When we returned to school this fall we found that we were to function under a new system which provided for periods 15 minutes longer than they had formerly been. A note was sent home to our parents that part of the period, half or approximately half, would be used for supervised study in the class. Some of the teachers have fully stopped their discussion when the period was half over and pressed us to proceed with the next day's assignment. But there are quite a number of teachers, not only in general but in my friends' as well, that don't give nearly half of the period for study and some give any time at all. Perhaps the publication of this letter will awaken the teachers to the fact that we should be permitted to study during class time.

YOUNIOR.

That's a point well worth bringing up, Junior. It has been our experience also that the teachers are somewhat negligent about giving us that study period. But maybe, when the news of the plan goes off, the instructors will be more lenient.

The 45-minute periods we had last year were devoted entirely to instruction and recitation, and it's rather hard for us to squeeze into a half hour that which we formerly had 45 minutes to devote to.

Some students recently got out a petition, asking the authorities to see that teachers give at least half of each hour for study. But after securing about 25 names,

BALDWIN GRADUATE CITED AT DARTMOUTH

Thomas E. Wilson, valedictorian of the June, 1930, class of Baldwin High School, has been cited for outstanding scholastic accomplishment during the school semester ending last spring at Dartmouth College, where he is a student. A letter received this week by Melvin C. Hart principal of Baldwin, and written by Dean Craven Laycock, stated that Wilson's average for the semester has been 94 per cent. An all-around average is 4 per cent.
