

HUGE $4,000,000 DRAIN PROPOSED

System to Relieve Hazel Park Would Serve Part Of Birmingham

Officials of several Southern Oakland County municipalities, at conference Saturday with Lewis C. Jarrell, county drain commissioner, gave unlimited approval to a proposal for the construction of a $4,000,000 sewerage system to be financed entirely by Federal grant. Jarrell is expected to show C. H. Modernwell, regional NRA advisor, through the Hazel Park district some time this week, accompanied by members of the State Advisory Commission for Public Works. Modernwell has already informed Harold L. Ickes, secretary of the interior and public works administrator, that the situation there is "deplorable."

for the communities involved to correct a sewage condition which for years has been termed a menace by the State Health Department.

While intended primarily to give relief to Hazel Park, the system at the same time would serve as an outlet for sanitary sewage in 10 other communities, including Birmingham.

According to City Manager James W. Parry, all of the portion east of Adams avenue in Birmingham would be served, as well as a portion south of Maple avenue and west of both Adams and Woodward avenues.

If a 100 per cent. Federal grant could not be obtained for the project, it might be financed by rentals charged against each property using the sewer, or on a lease basis charged to entire communities. Each municipality's share of the operating cost would probably be billed back against the municipality.

Neither Birmingham's share of the operating expense, nor of the cost of the original project, has been estimated, according to Mr. Parry, who discussed the proposal with the City Commission Monday night.

The project does not contemplate the construction of an Eton road drain in Birmingham, which would be needed to connect with the main line at Hazel Park. Plans have to be laid as a separate project, according to Harold H. Corson, city engineer and treasurer.

Group Meets Tonight

The schedule was introduced at the Birmingham Commission meeting Monday night by Commissioner E. W. Osborne, who, with Commissioner Frank S. Packard, is representing this city in the settlement. Copies are being prepared for distribution to individual members of the Commission next Wednesday.

The group which is negotiating the settlement is scheduled to hold another meeting tonight.

(Concluded 2 from Page 1) smoke pipes and chimneys; defective wiring; defective electrical appliances; use of flat irons without heat resisting stand; use of gasoline in non-ventilated rooms; storing of oily dust mops and rags without metal containers; keeping of matches in open receptacles; reach them, and careless use of kerosene and gasoline.

Fire prevention suggestions which should be carried on throughout the year were listed by Chief Griffith as follows:

1. When burning papers and rubbish in heating plants, see that the dampers in chimneys are closed enough so that partly burned papers and sparks do not escape from the chimney to set fire to dry roofs.

2. When chimneys are burning out, shut all draft openings to keep the hot pieces of soot from falling on the roof so that they do not set fire to the shingles.

3. Never put hot ashes in wooden containers or against partitions.

4. Use cleaning liquid in open air. Never keep your supply of liquid where you are cleaning, as static electricity is sometimes generated by the friction of rubbing clothes together and will start a fire.

"If a fire should break out in the basement or in a room of your house," Chief Griffith said, "close the doors, as this will contain the fire and retard its progress until the fire department arrives. Call for the fire department or use emergency by asking the operator to call the department for you. Give your address, house number and name of the street."

If you eliminate these hazards and follow the suggestions listed, you will be doing your part toward fire prevention.

(Concluded 3 from Page 1) be the instructor. Those interested have been asked to communicate with Mrs. Fred G. Westcott of Oakland avenue.

Emil Olin, city forester, is on the look-out for owners of wood lots who are willing to donate part of their dead timber to city welfare subjects. The welfare workers will cut the wood under Mr. Olin's supervision and return a third of it to the owner, keeping two-thirds of it for winter fuel. At least 1,500 cords will be required to supply all the needs, Mr. Olin said.

One hundred and nineteen pounds of squash! That was the combined weight of the four largest 20 Hubbard squash harvested recently in the garden of Miss Rhobara Harris on Rochester road. Big Beaver, who wants to know of any other squash record to beat that one. The largest of the crop was 25 inches long, 40 inches around, and weighed 38 pounds. Another weighed 34 pounds, the third 28, and the fourth 19.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Toothacker of Merrill street have received word of the promotion of their son, Sanford, to the rank of first lieutenant in the United States Army. Lieut. Toothacker is stationed at Fort Wayne. A younger son, Roger, recently returned to the University of Michigan to resume work on his master's degree.

Henry F. Francis, 751 Humphrey street, celebrated his 84th birthday Monday. And just to tell the world how he felt about it, he shaped his jubilation into the following jingle:

"There was an old man and he got 84,
And they told him he shouldn't get any more.
Now what do you think he went and done
He started right off to get 91!"

Twenty years ago last August, Dr. Hugo Erichsen, 415 Harmon avenue, founded the Cremation Association of America. Today and Friday at Hotel Statler, Detroit, the Association will hold its 17th annual convention and celebrate the 20th anniversary of its founding, with Dr. Erichsen taking a leading part in the program.

Dr. Erichsen was president of the Association from 1913 to 1915. He is now chairman of the Association's book committee, and will read a paper on "Cremation in the 20th Century: An International Survey" at this afternoon's session of the convention.

Delegates are expected to be present from all over the United States and from Canada, and letters of congratulations will be read from the Vienna Cremation Society, and cremation societies in Melbourne and Sidney, Australia. Miss Eva Fowler of Manor road, whose recent exhibition of art work at the community house received highly favorable comment from all who saw it, has been asked by the Louis Comfort Tiffany Foundation of Oyster Bay, L. I., to cooperate in the recommendation of talented art students who might wish to make use of the opportunities offered by the Foundation.

The Foundation accepts artists of ability in all branches of artistic endeavor, and has given residence to painters, sculptors, jewelers, metal workers and decorators. Such artists are admitted to residence for two months, with the understanding that if their work after entering the Foundation meets with the approval of the Advisory Art Committee, this period may be extended. Resident artists are given the privileges of the Foundation, including board and lodging free of all charge.

Applicants must show proof both of ability and thorough technical training. Each application should be accompanied by illustrative specimens of the applicant's work. Letters from three or more artists, eminent in the same field of art as the applicant, will also be required. Applicants should be citizens of the United States and between 20 and 35 years old.

Only male artists are being admitted during the present season. Further information may be obtained from Miss Fowler, or from Stanley Lothrop, director of the Louis Comfort Tiffany Foundation, Oyster Bay, L. I.
