Dancers Will Help
Buy Sport Letters

In an effort to raise funds to purchase variety letters for those who have won them at Baldwin High School during the past school year, the school athletic department is sponsoring a series of after-noon dances, the first of which will be held this afternoon in the school auditorium. The dances are open to all students.

Should this method of raising money prove unsuccessful, it will probably become necessary for each person who has earned a letter to buy his own. In the past, the funds of the athletic department have been sufficient to purchase the letters.

PLAY TO BE PRODUCED IN STUDENT ASSEMBLY

The regular bi-weekly assembly of Baldwin Senior High School students will be held in the school auditorium at 1:15 P. M. today, with the Baldwin Dramatic Club in charge.

The program will consist of a one-act play, "Kidnaping Betty." Those who will appear in the cast are Jay Lowman, Dorothy Wilson, Dorothy Porritt, Betty Bell, Charles Melas, Carol Dweilley, and Charles Dean. Miss Ruth Hull and Miss Evangeline Pursell are the club's advisors.

Baldwin To Compete in Triangular Meet With Fordson, Pontiac

The 1934 season for Baldwin High School's track team will open Saturday afternoon at Fordson when the Maroon and White outfits will meet teams from Fordson and Pontiac in a triangular meet. This meet, which is set to start at 1:30 o'clock, takes the place of the original dual meet which had been scheduled with Pontiac.

Saturday's encounter will serve more or less as a test for Coach Franklin Whitney's squad. The Baldwin team, with little more than a week of outside practice, is still far from being well conditioned. The inter-meet meet, originally scheduled for last Friday, but because of weather conditions postponed until Monday, proved to be a clean walk-away for the sophomore class. The final count gave the sophs 48 1/2 points, the seniors 35, and the juniors 15 1/2.

Whitney has the satisfaction of knowing that the inter-class contest uncovered one previous unknown performer who should get places for Baldwin this spring. Johnny Owens, who has three years of high school competition ahead of him, looked good in both the 100-yard dash, in which he placed second, and the 220-yard dash, which he won. Although his broad jumping was not on a par with his performances in the dashes, he managed to place second in this event also.

In the main, however, because the men had little chance to practice and because the weather and field conditions were not good, little can be predicted on the results of Monday's performance.

Donaldson, one of the two veterans on the varsity squad, finished first in the 100-yard dash and third in the 440.

The summary of the meet follows:

120-yard high hurdles—First, Pratt Harris, senior, tied for second, Harris, senior. 100-yard dash—First, Donaldson, sophomore, second, Savage, senior, third, Porritt, sophomore. Time 12 seconds. Mile run—First, Roebelen, sophomore, second, Savage, senior, third, Porritt, sophomore. Time 64 seconds. 100-yard low hurdles—First, Roebelen, sophomore, tied for second, Schwartz, senior, second, Schwartz, senior, and Ketcher, junior. Time 16 seconds. 440-yard run—First, Donaldson, senior, second, Harris, senior, third, Ramsey, senior. Time 1 minute, 7 seconds. 880-yard run—First, Upward, junior, second, Matthews, senior, third, Bennett, junior. Time 2 minutes, 35 seconds. Blood jump—First, Schwartz, senior, second, Savage, senior, third, Mitchell, sophomore. Distance 20 feet, 15 inches. High jump—First, Manning, sophomore, second, Schwartz, senior, third, Birchong, sophomore. Height, 5 feet, 2 1/2 inches. Shot put—First, Harrington, sophomore, second, Donaldson, senior, third, Edwards, senior. Distance 37 feet, 8 inches. Pole vault—Tied for first, McHilde, Mitchell and Purcell, all sophomores. Height 10 feet.

Proposal Hits Snag

At the request of the faculty of Baldwin High School, the issuance of petitions and the election of officers for the proposed new Student Congress has been postponed. The teachers wished to clarify certain points in the proposed constitution and also to suggest that a few others be added. Petitions were to have been put into circulation last Thursday.

Upon reading the constitution, the faculty objected to it because it made no provision for the duties of the faculty advisor of the Congress. Also, the teachers asked the committee which is planning the government to explain in great detail to them, as a group, the functions of the proposed organization. Four members of the student committee, Ben Vintar, Robert M. Dean, Beier and John Parker, met with the faculty Wednesday afternoon to try and straighten out the situation.

The date on which the petitions will go into circulation has not been set.

Ergersterion Club
Actors Score Big Hit In Show Play

By BILL HUTCHINSON

One of the high spots of the spring term was reached at Cranbrook School Friday evening when the Cranbrook Ergersterion Club presented George Bernard Shaw's play, "Andros and the Lion," in the school auditorium before a large audience. After the play, the Cranbrook Orchestra played the short series of popular numbers.

The play and its humor were immensely popular with the audience. From the arrival of the fear-inspiring lion in the first scene to the last tableau before the Roman Coliseum, the production was well-directed and well-staged. Carl Womberger, faculty advisor to the Ergersterion Club, was the director, and Hubert Davis the designer of the excellent scenery.

The cast was a large one, and highly representative of the Cranbrook student body, from the members of the first form to those of the graduating class. George Pinkerton had the leading part as Andros, a Greek tailor, and Norman Getzinger had the principal feminine role of Lavinia, a Christian prisoner.

Charles Williams was the vain and frivolous Constantine, and Joseph Smith the romantic captain of the guard, Austin Young the terrible lion named Tommy, and Jerome Himehob the strong and mighty Ferrovius.

Other characters were William Martin, a centurion; Odis Anderson, the wife of Andros; Howard Blake, the worthless Spintoo; Ralph McDonald, the Matalkes; Louis Rankenburg; Lentulus; Dorr Lovett, the oil-driver and the whip; Ralph Getzinger, the manager of the menagerie; Eric Meyers, a senator; and Charles Gilbert and Robert McMeekin, keeper and call-boy of the menagerie. The group of Christian prisoners were Colin John, John Ormund, Milhanke Pillsbury, Weston Meyers, and Robert Klingner. The Roman guards and soldiers were John Blunt, Robert Eddy, Frederick Brennan, Leonard Lippincott, and Rockwood Bullard.

Jack Lovett was business manager of the play, and Pottinger Blunt, Robert Chandler, and William Vauter were in charge of the stage. The lion was designed and constructed by Charles (Drum), the costumes were by Mrs. Carl Womberger and Mrs. Lawrence Smith, and the sound effects were engineered by James Packard.

For COMPACT KITCHENS—

this handy cooking appliance BROILS, BOILS, ROASTS, FRIES, STEAMS and BAKES . . . from any electric outlet!

If you live in a small home, light housekeeping rooms, or kitchenette-apartment, or if you have a summer cottage, here is just the cooking device you need. Simply plug it into any electric outlet, and it is ready for practically any cooking task. It will broil, boil, roast, fry, toast, steam and bake—in fact, it will perform all the cooking operations possible on a small electric range. The drawer is a combined broiling and baking section, as well as a toaster. The square and round top elements answer virtually all general cooking needs. The square element also may be used for toasting.

With this handy appliance, you can cook a dinner for 4 persons, all at one time—a roast, two vegetables, potatoes and gravy, and dessert. Yet it is so compact that it can be tucked into a corner almost anywhere. The model shown above is finished in attractive light green vitreous enamel, with black trim. See it at your nearest Detroit Edison office.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Barnum Junior High School students enjoyed a one-act play presented by the Barnum Dramatic Club, under the direction of Mrs. Anne Corvont, Wednesday afternoon.

In the past few weeks, afternoon dances have become quite the custom in the local junior high schools. Baldwin held one a few weeks ago, Barnum gave one last Friday afternoon, and Adams students will hold their first one tomorrow. At Baldwin, the party was sponsored by the Service Club, and at Barnum by the 9A Class. The Adams frolic will be given by the Student Council.

Students at Baldwin Junior High attended one of the most interesting assemblies of the current year last Thursday afternoon when the Newswriting Club sponsored the program. W. Stoddard White, former editor of the Maroon and White, formerly Baldwin's student newspaper, was the chief speaker. Members of the Baldwin Courier also participated in the program.

Charter Is Copy
Of 1574 Original

Receipt of a copy of the original charter of Cranbrook School, England, from Dr. C. R. Scott, headmaster, was announced recently by Dr. W. C. Stevens, head of the Cranbrook School in Bloomfield Hills. The original charter was granted to the English school in 1574 by Queen Elizabeth, and the copy now resting in the study hall at Cranbrook is complete with signatures, seal, and medieval Latin. Dr. Scott visited the American Cranbrook during the Easter season a year ago, and sent the charter copy to the school as a remembrance of his stay here.

Attempts to translate the charter from Latin into English have been made by Howard West, instructor in Latin at Cranbrook, but have thus far proved unsuccessful. Mr. West explained that he had been able to get the general gist of the writing, but that even a fair translation would require someone who is familiar with the ancient and medieval Latin forms and words which were in use at the time that the charter
