

GIRLS' STATE TOURNAMENT SET

Kingswood To Hold Third Annual Open Tennis Championship

THE THIRD Michigan State Open Girls' Tennis Championship will be held on the courts of Kingswood School from May 18, 19, and 20, it has been announced by Miss Lucella C. Houser, director of physical education at Kingswood, who will serve as official referee.

Various public and private schools in and about this vicinity were notified of the tournament last week.

In each of the past two years in which the tournament was held at Kingswood, it has been won by Helen Grawn, youthful Detroit star, who after her victory at Kingswood the first year, proceeded to win the national indoor girls' singles title. Miss Grawn will be eligible to compete at Kingswood again this year.

The committee on umpires and officials this year will be headed by Margaret Jane Lighter of Evanston, Ill. Katherine Andrus of Bradford, Penn., will be in charge of equipment, and Marilyn Wethers of Detroit will have charge of social activities.

Entries for the tournament will close Tuesday, May 15, and draw will be held at 4:30 P. M. the following day. The tournament is open only to those girls who had not reached their 18th birthday before Jan. 1 of this year.

The annual boys' and juniors' state tennis championships will not be held at Cranbrook School this year as they have the past two years, it has been announced.

Organized Camping Marks Fifty Years Of Progress

Because 1934 is the Golden Jubilee Anniversary year of organized camping in the United States, unusual interest in camping this summer is anticipated by Robert D. Lynd, secretary of the Boy Scouts of America, and director of the Oakland County Y. M. C. A. summer camp at Loon Lake, Michigan.

In marking a century of progress in organized camping, Y. M. C. A.'s in scores of local communities throughout the United States will observe this Golden Jubilee in a variety of ways. In Birmingham, it will be celebrated, Mr. Lynd said, by a special program in the Rotary Club and by a reunion in May of boys who have attended the Oakland County Camp at their parents.

Facts gathered by Mr. Lynd show that the first organized camp in this country was held in 1884 on Orange Lake, near Newburgh, N. Y. It was conducted by Sumner Francis Dwyer under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., and had a registration of seven boys. The second year was moved to Lake Wawayanda, N. J., and later to Lake Cnamplinn, near Westport, N. Y. Today the oldest boys' camp in the United States, having had a continuous existence for 50 years.

5,000 Camps Now
"From this isolated venture," Mr. Lynd developed a movement that has spread so widely that today there are more than 5,000 camps maintained by various organizations or under private control in the United States and about 1,000,000 campers attending them each year.

"Of 64 boys camps established before 1910, only 12 existed before 1900. These figures show how recent a development the organized camping movement is and how much it belongs to the 20th century."
"Every state in the union now has one or more camps. In Y. M. C. A. camps alone there are about 100,000 campers each season. The majority of the camps are in the East, especially in New York and New England. The Empire State leads with more than 500, of which 350 are private and the remaining half organization camps. Pennsylvania is second, while Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, California and Connecticut follow in that order."

Not Far Young Alone
"Camps today range in variety all the way from those with high registration and attendance fees to those that are actually free. There are private camps, those of the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, Campfire Girls, Y. W. C. A., Y. M. C. A. and other similar agencies. As people became more and more attracted to outdoor life, camping changed from the past-time exclusively of the young until it is now recognized as the prerogative of all ages."

Although camping is primarily a summer activity, there are a few winter camps belonging to large organizations. Mr. Lynd said Camp Edith Macy at Brarocli Manor and a camp at Bear Mountain, N. Y., are kept open both winter and summer by the Girl Scouts. The Schiff Reservation at Mendham, N. J., named after the late Mortimer Schiff, former head of the Boy Scouts of America, was opened in 1933 by President Franklin D. Roosevelt and is maintained the year round.

The Young Men's Christian Associations of Oakland County have actively engaged in camping for 33 years. The first camp consisted of a small group of boys which went on from the Pontiac branch in 1901. Today, the Y. M. C. A. units of Oakland County are preparing for the first season of their camp on the Loon Lake site, near Hale. The camp, called "Mahng-toh-see," will open June 29.
