SPEAKER HITS REVOLUTIONS

Anglo-Saxon Federation Official Attacks Communism And Other Movements

Attacking Communism, Fascism, Nazism, and kindred revolutionary movements as the present greatest danger to the institutions of America, A. F. Knoblock, vice-president of the Anglo-Saxon Federation of America, vigorously pleaded with members of Birmingham's three service clubs Wednesday noon for "defense of the sacred institutions of God and man."

"I think some other country is better off than we are," he said, "but the traditions of these United States will not tolerate the growing tendency toward Communism that is spreading into our lives from Universities, pulpits, and from some people who hold important places in our political and industrial life. Our flag is threatened more today because of the lack of knowledge on the part of our people as to what is going on right in their midst, than by the outright danger of Communism itself."

"Stalin, Russia's leader, has prophesied that in 1936 all religion will be done away with, and God legislated. Communism is at work in our country today in the ranks of labor. Our administration at Washington has recognized Russia; the only good I can see that will come from this will be the ability of our Government to deport the Communists back to Russia. Let me tell you, too, that Dr. Wirt has some real information at his hands—his statement about Kerensky and his use of out-

Stamp Sales Show Increase Over 1933

Receipts from stamp sales at the Birmingham postoffice during the first quarter of 1934 exceeded those of the corresponding quarter last year by more than 85 per cent, Postmaster Joseph A. Byrne announced yesterday.

From Jan. 1 to April 1 this year, stamp sales totalled $11,972, as compared with $8,224 for the same period last year, Mr. Byrne said. The volume of incoming mail, he added, showed an increase over last year of about 40 per cent.

Postal business here picked up steadily during February and March, Mr. Byrne reported.

Vets To Observe 'Army Day' Here

R. C. Spencer, commander of the Birmingham Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, is general chairman of arrangements for the celebration of "Army Day," which will be observed here Friday at the same time as in other communities throughout the country.

One of the events here will be a dinner meeting of the V. F. W. Post to be held at Health's Restaurant on South Woodward avenue at 6:30 P. M. Mr. Spencer, E. L. Moody and L. J. Marcolite, are in charge of arrangements.

The Charles Edwards Post of the American Legion and its Auxiliary will celebrate "Army Day" with a pot-luck supper and program at the Legion Home.

Following the supper, several speakers will be heard, including Rev. Fr. Paul Henan of St. Andrew's Church, Rochester, who will give a eulogy to the late Major. District Commissioner Harold Wait of Royal Oak, and Lt. Col. M. D. Mills of Birmingham, president of the Oakland County Chapter of the Reserve Officers Association.

Mrs. Roy Smith, Americanization chairman of the American Legion Auxiliary, will give a reading on "Americanism."

Dancing will follow the program. All veterans and their families have been invited to attend.

ed with that firm, known as the Pingree Company after 1901, following the death of Gov. Hazen S. Pingree, until it liquidated in 1917, and was its president following the death of F. C. Pingree in 1919.

Mr. Howarth was one of the organizers of the Detroit Board of Commerce, and was president of the Detroit Y. M. C. A. from 1903 to 1908. His interest in civic activities was widespread throughout his residence in Birmingham, despite his advancing years.

He has been a member of the Baldwin Public Library board since 1923, secretary of the Rotary club since 1924 and treasurer of St. James' Episcopal Church, president and later emeritus of the Birmingham Y. M. C. A., and is now chairman of the local N.R.A. compliance board.

WAGE WORK PLAN DETAILS AWAITED

City, School Officials Hoping To Complete CWA Projects Under New Program

With all work halted on four uncompleted CWA projects here, city and school officials today are awaiting details of the new work program which they hope will make it possible for the projects to be finished.

Indications yesterday were that definite information as to how the new program will operate, and especially as to what share of the expense and liability will have to be borne by local municipalities, would not be available for another day or two, and that actual work could not begin for at least another week.

With CWA work, which stopped Saturday night, the city was able to complete only about 40 per cent of the Adams road sewer and 50 per cent of the Woodward avenue sewer, and a minimum of about 3,500 man hours is still required on the park improvement project. The school building repair project is also uncompleted.

City Manager James W. Parry told the Commission Monday night that the city is prepared to file applications for funds under the new program as soon as the conditions under which they will be received are made known. It is understood that local units will be asked to furnish all materials, but whether they will also be forced to pay for supervision and to assume liability for accidents to workers is not fully known, Mr. Parry said.

If the sewer jobs are not completed under the new program, that portion of the cement pipe arrested late Friday night on North Woodward avenue, which was intended here for the project but not yet laid may be con-located for use in other sections of the county, Mr. Parry said. All the pipe was manufactured by CWA workers.

ROYAL OAK FINED FOR DRUNK DRIVING

Tom Tanasella, 37-year-old metal finisher of 517 North Gainsboro Street, Royal Oak, was fined $50 and $5 costs when arraigned Saturday morning before Justice Forbes S. Hascall on a charge of drunk driving. He was given until April 12 to pay. Tanasella was arrested late Friday night on North Woodward avenue.
